SPOTLIGHT ON THE STUDENTS

Registered Dental Assistant

Sabryna Crowley at the RDA Completion Ceremony

Baldy View ROP alum Sabryna Crowley graduated from Hillside High School within Upland Unified School District and has already kick started her dream career, just at the age of 18! After taking a Dental Assistant course at Baldy View ROP and receiving her certification, Sabryna began working at Crossroads Dental Group & Orthodontics conducting x-rays and sterilization procedures.

When asked what inspired her to take the course, Sabryna shared that she signed up because she is a single mother of a 3-year-old baby girl named Dahlia.

“Thanks to ROP, I am now working 40 hours a week, getting paid over minimum wage, starting my 401K, and I am receiving great benefits. Above all, I’m so overwhelmingly grateful to now be able to give my baby girl the life she truly deserves. ROP changed my life!” Sabryna said.

Sabryna’s plan is to learn as much as she can to grow within the practice and she looks forward to taking her RDA exam to further her career. Special thanks to instructor Carol Gallegos for sharing this story. Congratulations on your success Sabryna!

Transportation Distribution Logistics

Anthony Fadel in new Logistics Building at CTC

Chaffey Joint Union High School District student Anthony Fadel, from Chaffey High School, is currently taking Transportation Distribution Logistics at Baldy View ROP. Anthony is looking forward to getting his OSHA card and certificate. As he attends his first day of fall semester, Anthony says, “I also want to get more experience and knowledge with transporting, supplying, and warehousing. I was enrolled in the transport and supply course and it opened my eyes to endless possibilities in this profession.”

The class has shown him how to be more knowledgeable and comfortable in a workspace environment. “I think ROP is very important for students because it allows them to get into a course where they can get more information about a specific career they want to pursue.” said Anthony.

After college, he would like to work in the same field as his instructor Mr. Boyd, who has obtained over 6 years of experience in supply chain and operations management. As an ROP student, Anthony has learned how to be successful, prepared, and maintain a prosperous career. During his summer course, Anthony created a resume and would like to continue adding new skills taught during fall semester. We wish Anthony the best this semester and congratulations on enrolling in the 1st Transportation Distribution Logistics course at CTC!

We held our annual three-day summer Professional Development (PD) July 30 - August 1. The event was sponsored by Chaffey Federal Credit Union. It was also the first Professional Development led by our new Superintendent of Educational Services, Rose Bomentre, Ed.D.

Summer PD

Commission President Sue Ovitt, Commission Vice President Nancy Treser-Osgood, and Commission Members Joe Shaffer and Jack Young were in attendance during the first day of the PD. Ontario Police Officer Mike Thatcher and Officer Alex Villalpando provided an informative active shooter presentation, as safety is always our number one priority for our students, instructors, and staff.

The PD served as a time for instructors and staff members to connect during the summer, in preparation for the fall semester. The days featured many spirited activities and discussions including the 11 elements of a Highly Qualified CTE Program; the BVROP mission, vision, and core values; mental health; and best practices for the classroom and workplace. Chaffey Federal Credit Union also provided raffle prizes as well as a new Apple iPad, which was awarded to Engineering Instructor Michael Collins for promoting his course and being the most active utilizing the Twitter social media platform.

SPOTLIGHT ON THE STUDENTS

Criminal Justice

Kylee Barry and Emily Yang collaborate on a their project in their Criminal Justice course at Claremont High School

Students in the BVROP Criminal Justice course at Claremont High School (CHS) finished another successful year as they explored various careers within the criminal justice system. The course prepares students who want to one day work as police officers, lawyers, investigators, and other professionals within the field. Course instruction includes lessons on the Constitution, various classifications of different crimes such as crimes against people or property and legal trials.

Students also hone their analytical skills through daily warm-up exercises centered around hypothetical crime scenes. The warm-ups require students to think like investigators as they make determinations of innocence or fault based on clues and information provided.

CHS sophomore, Justin Duran, enjoys the exercises and wants to eventually work as an investigator.

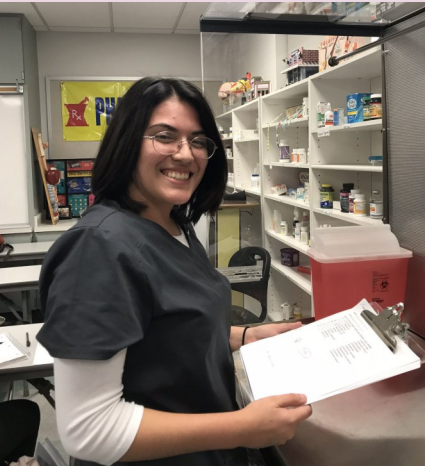

“We get to work as detectives in this class. Everyone works together and it’s very engaging. This course helps me broaden my understanding of detective work,” he said.

CHS sophomore Adyson Wilson, who wants to be a lawyer, shared her appreciation for the course.

“This class opened my eyes to law enforcement. The warm-ups help us uncover details and put them in order to find out what happened. We get to think critically and look past the surface.”

Criminal Justice courses begin again this fall at Claremont High School as well as Chino High School, Hillside High School, San Antonio High School, and Upland High School.

Pharmacy Clerk

Ayala High School student Destiny Duran-Gonzalez in her pharmacy work course

BVROP Pharmacy Clerk student Destiny Duran-Gonzales has been accepted into the 6-year accelerated pharmacy program at the University of the Pacific! While enrolled, Destiny will be spending 3 years working towards her Bachelor of Science and the remaining 3 years at the University of the Pacific’s Thomas J. Long School of Pharmacy and Health Science Graduate School.

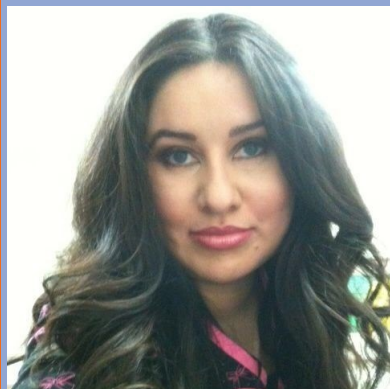

Destiny shared that ROP courses helped prepare her to earn acceptance into the accelerated program as it taught her the importance of being both punctual and prepared.

“ROP has helped me prove to the University of the Pacific that I am interested and serious about studying pharmacy. Also, the Student Success Award I received earlier this year, at the Baldy View ROP award ceremony, shows I am a qualified student.” she said. “I wanted to see if pharmacy was something I wanted to continue studying while in college. I did not expect some of the hands-on training we did such as chemical spills, labeling prescriptions, and cleaning the hood that sterilizes medications.”

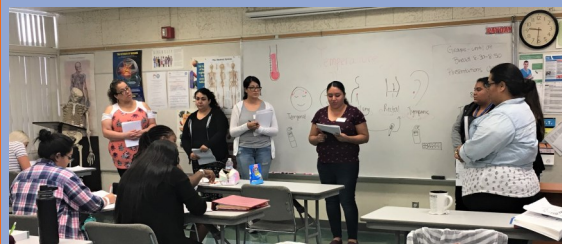

After college, Destiny plans to gain more experience working in a pharmacy. Her goal is to open her own practice as a clinical pharmaceutical scientist and work for the government, to create new and affordable medicines! Special thanks to Instructor Mike Garcia for sharing this story!
