

THE LEARNING CHOICE
ACADEMY

Community College Form

The Community College option is for high school students who wish to take advanced, college-level courses not offered through The Learning Choice Academy. The state of California has been specific in the description of classes that may be taken for current high school credit. Classes must be pre-approved by the counselor in order to receive reimbursement payment.

TLC College Admission Requirements

- Students are not guaranteed admission to the college by TLC.
- The college may have special admission requirements for high school students that may include interviews, school approval, etc.
- Student will be permitted to take two courses per semester or a total of four courses per year.
- The student must be in good academic standing with a minimum 2.0 GPA. Any student on academic probation will not be approved to take any college courses.
- If a student does not complete or fails the college course(s) in full, the student will not be approved to take community college courses the following semester.
- The Learning Choice Academy will pay for tuition only. Payment for textbooks, parking, student cards and other fees is the responsibility of the student.
