DCHS Students Take Part In NASA HUNCH Project

First NASA HUNCH Project at DHCS!

These DCHS Students are currently part of the NASA HUNCH program and are working together to make a galley table for the astronauts at the International Space Station. Once they finish designing each part, they will bring them all together in an assembly. Mr. Wilson will help check their dimensions and tolerances and NASA will soon authorize a test print. After the test has been measured and confirmed, they will move to the final printing process for use on the International Space Station. For more information on the NASA HUNCH program, click HERE.
