

Meet Heather Guthrie, FNP

Heather brings a wealth of experience and expertise to her role as a Family Nurse Practitioner at Hancock Health, where she has diligently served for two years. With a remarkable journey spanning over two decades in the healthcare field, Heather's commitment to patient care is unwavering. Before her tenure as a nurse practitioner, she dedicated twenty-three years as a registered nurse, gaining invaluable insights across diverse medical domains.

Heather's educational foundation is rooted in the University of Indianapolis, where she achieved both her undergraduate and graduate degrees in nursing. Her dedication to professional growth is evident through her certification with the American Association of Nurse Practitioners, showcasing her commitment to staying abreast of the latest advancements in healthcare.

Beyond her medical pursuits, Heather's passions encompass a diverse range of interests. From her culinary skills in cooking and baking to her creative talents in crafting and home design projects, she exudes a dynamic spirit. Additionally, she finds joy in cycling and cherishes quality moments spent alongside her loving husband and five children. Heather's multifaceted personality, coupled with her extensive medical background, defines her as a compassionate practitioner and a well-rounded individual.

SPECIAL INTERESTS

- Family Medicine
- Immediate Care
- Chronic Disease Prevention
- Employee Medicine

HEATHER GUTHRIE, FNP
Primary Care Provider