"peace with honor"

Possibly, you were unaware of it when it was announced. You, like many Mapleton students, may have been watching as our Falcons defeated Centarus in an action filled game. Nevertheless, like everyone, you would soon know; the war in Viet Nam was over.

American citizens were told for weeks prior to the cease fire that peace was imminent. Henry Kissinger finally did achieve his goal at the Paris Peace Talks - a cease fire in Viet Nam.

Strangely enough, we Americans did not rejoice at the truce which had been drawn up. We were relieved, but happiness about the war's end just wasn't there. Why?

Perhaps the thoughts of the millions and millions of dollars spent and lost remained in the minds of Americans. Perhaps the thought of all the families whose lives had been shattered by the deaths of loved ones was on our consciences. For, even though the war was over, the facts remained; many men would come home, many would return broken and wounded, but even worse, many would not return at all.

Yet, even this cannot fully explain the lack of contentment felt by us. Something else remains within us, and that something is apprehension, doubt.

We are told the war is over, peace is at hand, yet men are still fighting in Laos and Cambodia. We are told the war is over, yet already American men have died in "peace". Maybe because we have been without peace for so long, we doubt the reality of peace being with us.

We have no definite answers. We only have hope. Our hope is for a real and finite end to all fighting in Indo-China, and an even greater hope for the illustrious thing we know as peace.

Vicki Osborne

of this . . .

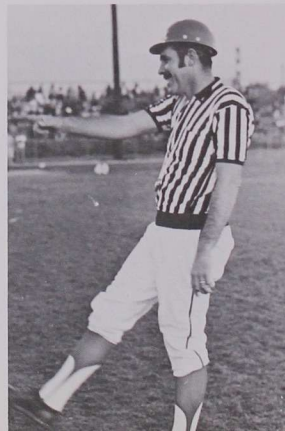

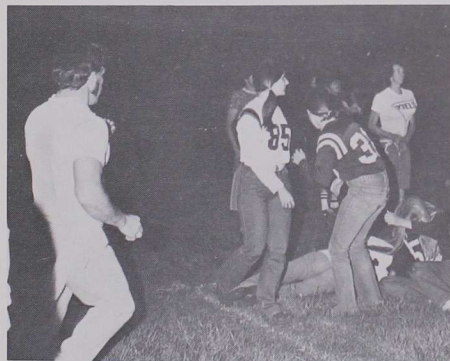

First place float was taken by the class of "73" when they presented their four years at Mapleton. Second place was taken by the class of "74" showing their enthusiasm for a Mapleton victory. Third place was taken by the class of "75" showing their concern for ecology. Fourth place was taken by the class of "76" when they depicted their memories of Freshman Welcoming Week. Car floats entered were: Pom Pon girls riding in wagons, a bug for child care class, future homemakers and the wedding cake, and Freddie the Falcon done by the Booster Club.

powder puff

dog 'n suds

With a final score of 32-18, the class of '73" took their second victory after a hard-fought battle with the Juniors on October 26.

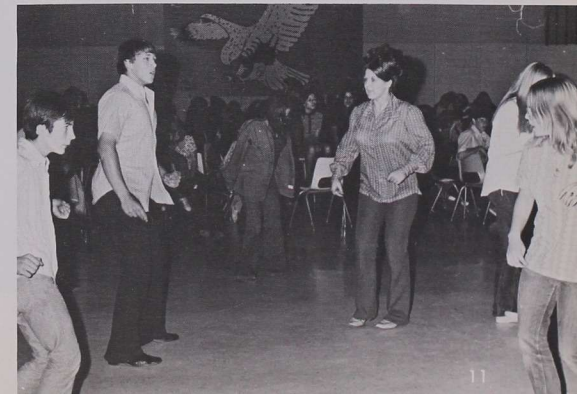

Of course it probably wouldn't have happened without the loyal leadership of previous coaches Mr. Bob Finney and Mr. Dave Zbinden, and the new and unforgettable, Mr. Aubrey Tate.

The Junior class played a good game with the help of their coaches Mr. Dave Dornant and Mr. Terry Cooter.

The referees for the game were Mr. Allen Hower and Mr. Vic Ruf.

After the game came Dog'n Suds - the yearly traditional dance. The menu was changed from pizza to hot dogs this year and the students danced to the music of "Purple Ozzeys", now known as "Country Fever."

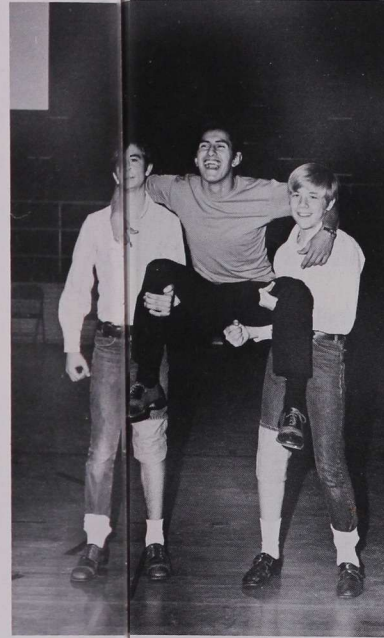

The Junior class is looking forward to their first victory next year as Seniors.

They Didn't Think it Would Happen...

But like every year before, Freshman Welcoming Week with the traditional "initiating" of the "underclassmen" arrived.

Although it came later than usual, the annual event was a big success.

No time was wasted as Monday the "mighty seniors" started initiating. Tuesday the Freshmen wore arm bands - one with a big "73" or "Seniors", and the other one with a small "76" or "Freshmen". The most embarrassing day was Wednesday when the Freshmen boys came in skirts and pigtails, the girls came in their fathers clothes and pigtails.

Thursday, the Freshman class sought their revenge by voting Dixie Potter "meanest Senior girl" and Julio Garcia "meanest Senior boy."

The week ended with the Kangaroo Court. During this time the Freshmen who participated were officially accepted as Falcons. Those who didn't fully participate during the week had to pay their proper respect by washing the Freddie Falcon mascot in the middle of the gym floor.
