HIGHLAND HORNETS

*Thornton, Colorado
Volume VI, 1975
Highland High School*

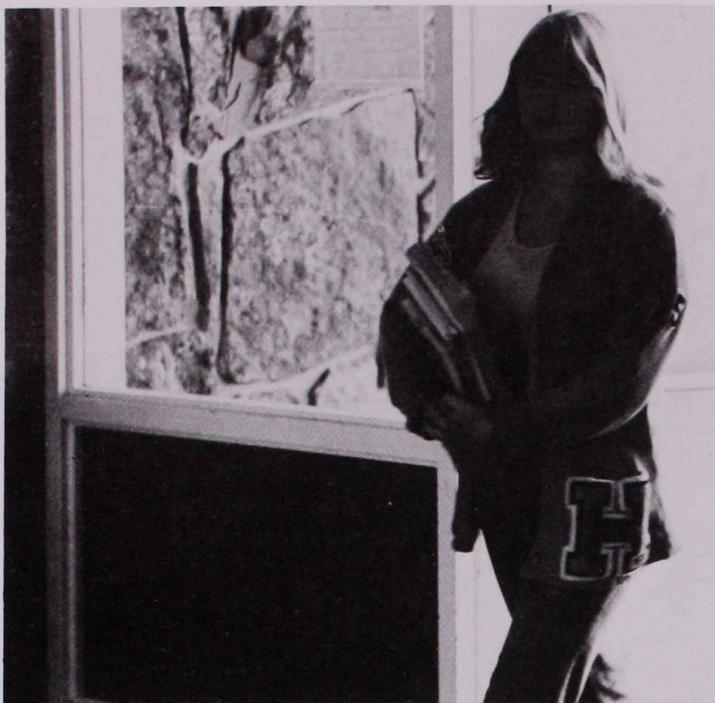

Friday night football games,
Meetings at McDonalds,
Class rings wrapped in yarn,
Flashy cars and Comfortable clothes.
"Who will be the Queen?" and
"When's senior ditch day?"
Dreaming of "bikes" and Learning to understand ourselves-
Growing up.

These are the memories that we keep forever; they are abstract-we can't touch them, taste them or throw them away. We can feel them, and that special feeling will always remind us of.....

THE EMPLOYED

Most of the students who worked on weekends and after school obtained their own jobs; but approximately 50 had help from the school's three work coordinators, Ms. Cheryl Mull, Mr. William Hall and Mr. Robert Cortese.

Ms. Mull and Mr. Hall helped with students' jobs in the business and distributive education departments. They each obtained and coordinated jobs for about 15-25 students.

Ms. Mull said most of her co-op students were seniors, and their biggest employer was Mountain Bell.

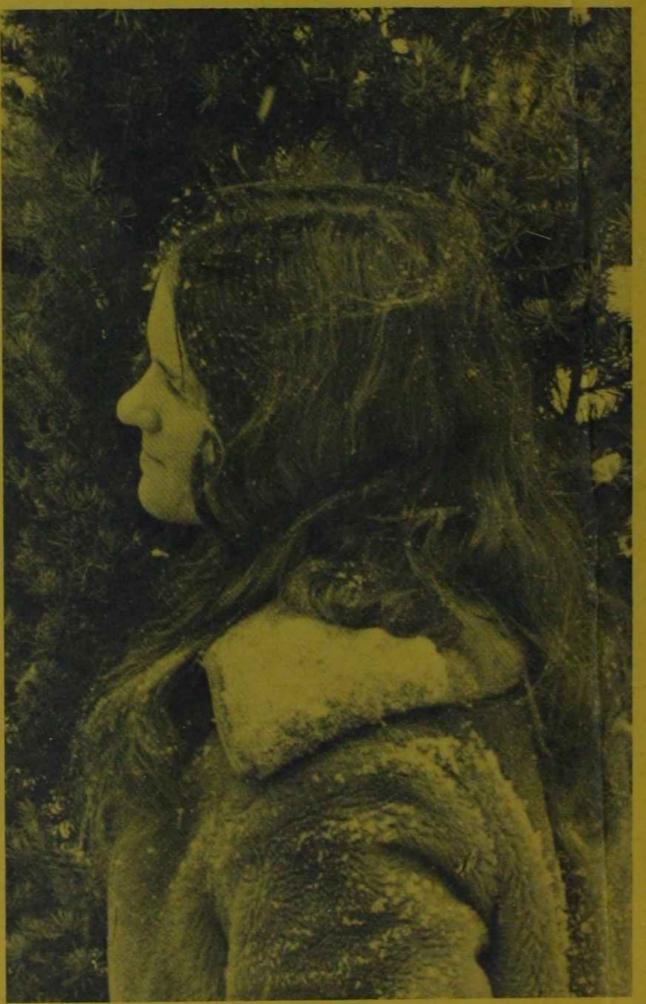

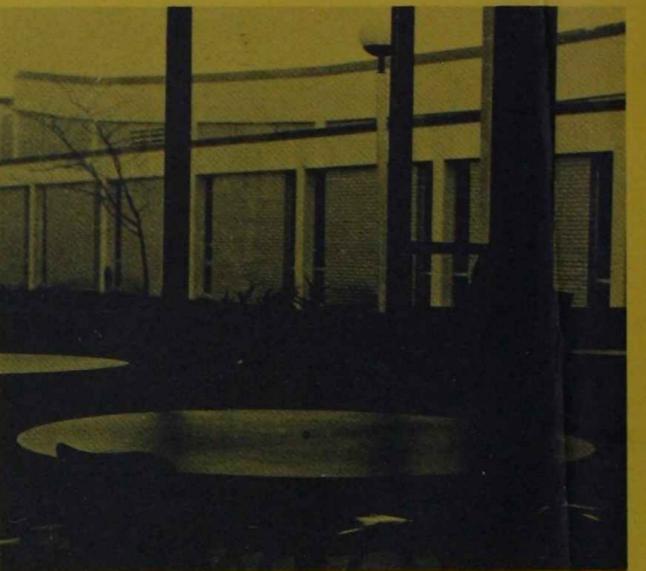

Mr. Hall also worked with major employers, such as Wards and May D & F, to line up jobs for his DE students. Both coordinators worked with Mr. Aragon, counselor.

Mr. Cortese had about 20 students in his class, 18 of whom were working.

TOP: Leanne Buckles waited on customers at Karmel Korn. She was a co-op student. ABOVE: Richard Bauer worked as a check out clerk at Van's Thriftway.

THE WAY

Our language was plain;
Smiles were heartfelt but not always true.
The world ahead seemed far away;
The climb to success, a mountain hovering over.
When we were with our true
friends, all grief was forgotten;
No one's business became everyone's business.
We wanted the good times to stay with us forever-- Playing in the snow, laughing with it as it lighted on our faces.
The stars, seas, and sands were overlooked for all we knew was the life we had then.

WE WERE

INTERESTS

One student at Highland has an unusual interest.

Greg Cummings started gliding in 1972. He glides in Colorado, Arizona, California but mostly at the Colorado Springs' Air Force Academy.

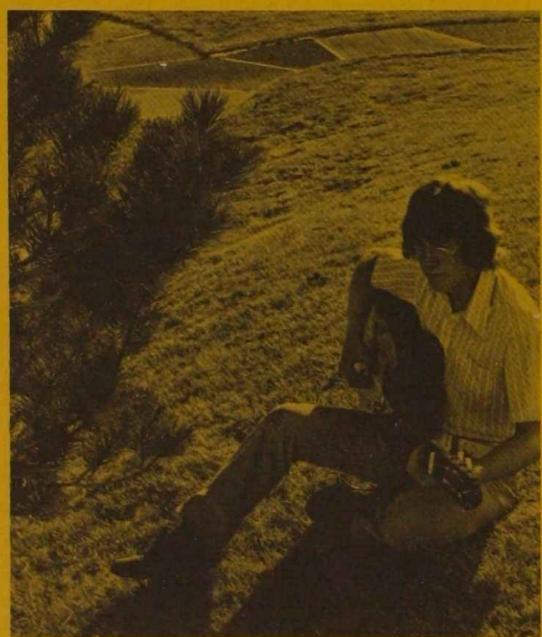

Greg said gliding can be really exciting, "especially when there is a lot of turbulence." One exciting experience he had was when his glider almost landed on top of another airplane. He nose dived over the top of the plane for safety.

Greg received his private license which allows him to take passengers in July of 1974.

Greg said one reason he took up flying gliders was that it would help him later if he was to become a pilot.

RIGHT: Sandy Gill enjoyed archery during the year. RIGHT BOTTOM: Bill McAndries' and Joe Briscoe's interests were like most guys at Highland - bikes, cars and motors.

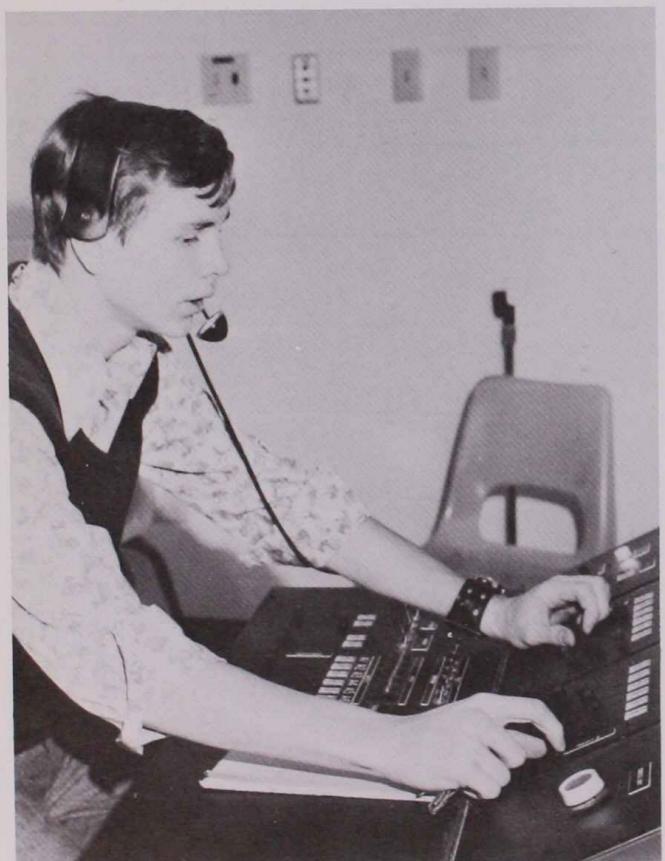

Mike McGee was a member of a singing group, Bittersweet. He wrote a number of songs including "Dream, Little Boy, Dream," "She's My Mother," and "Day After Day."

TOP: Cindy Dahl spent her free time making rugs and crafts. ABOVE: Dan Shoemaker painted and sold his art work at shows.

OPENING OF AUDITORIUM

The new 750-capacity auditorium opened with a Dedicatory Concert and a mishap.

The Symphonic Wind Ensemble, Concert Band and A Cappella Choir performed patriotic numbers including "Cry Out and Shout," "America," "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "The Blue and The Gray," "The Stars and Stripes Forever," "Threnody," "Variations on America," and "Festival Finale." Mr. Harley Brown directed the Symphonic Wind Ensemble and the Concert Band and Mr. Frank Newton, the A Cappella Choir.

Superintendent George DiTirro delivered the dedication remarks.

An unusual touch was added to the dedication when Mr. Brown, featuring a white cast, hobbled out on stage to direct the bands. The mishap occurred during the preparations for the concert. Mr. Brown broke his foot while attempting to set up a projector on the cat walk.

CHRISTMAS

For Christmas the students decorated the school, went caroling, presented a one act opera and spread lots of Christmas cheer.

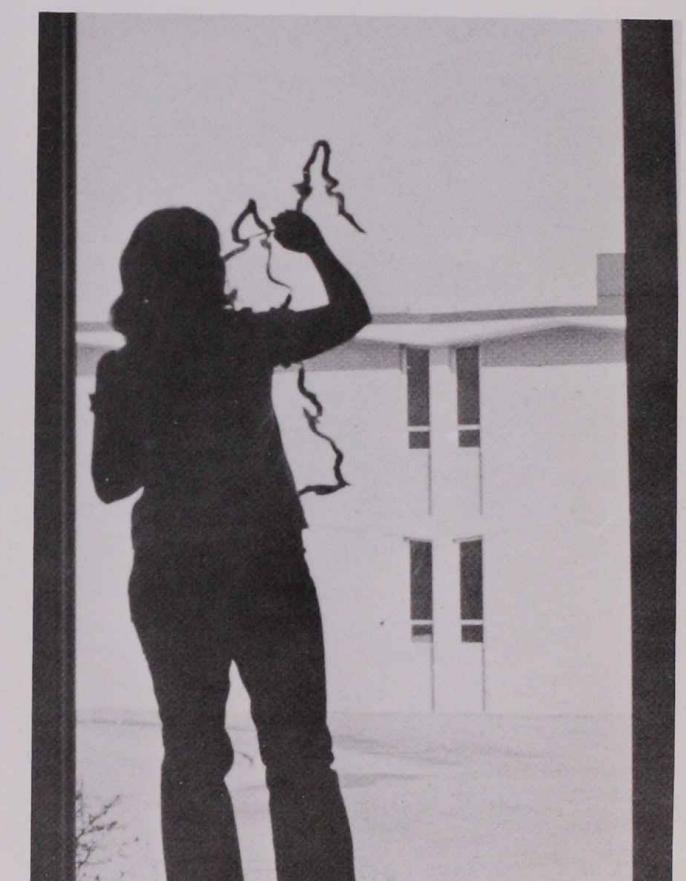

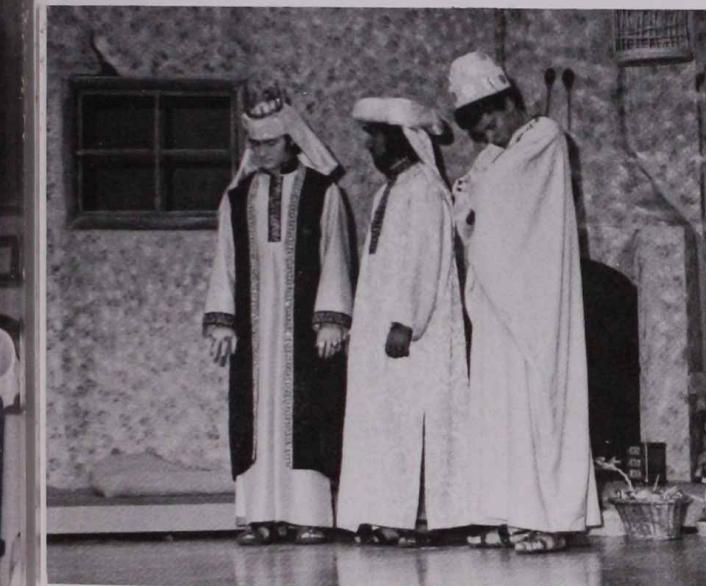

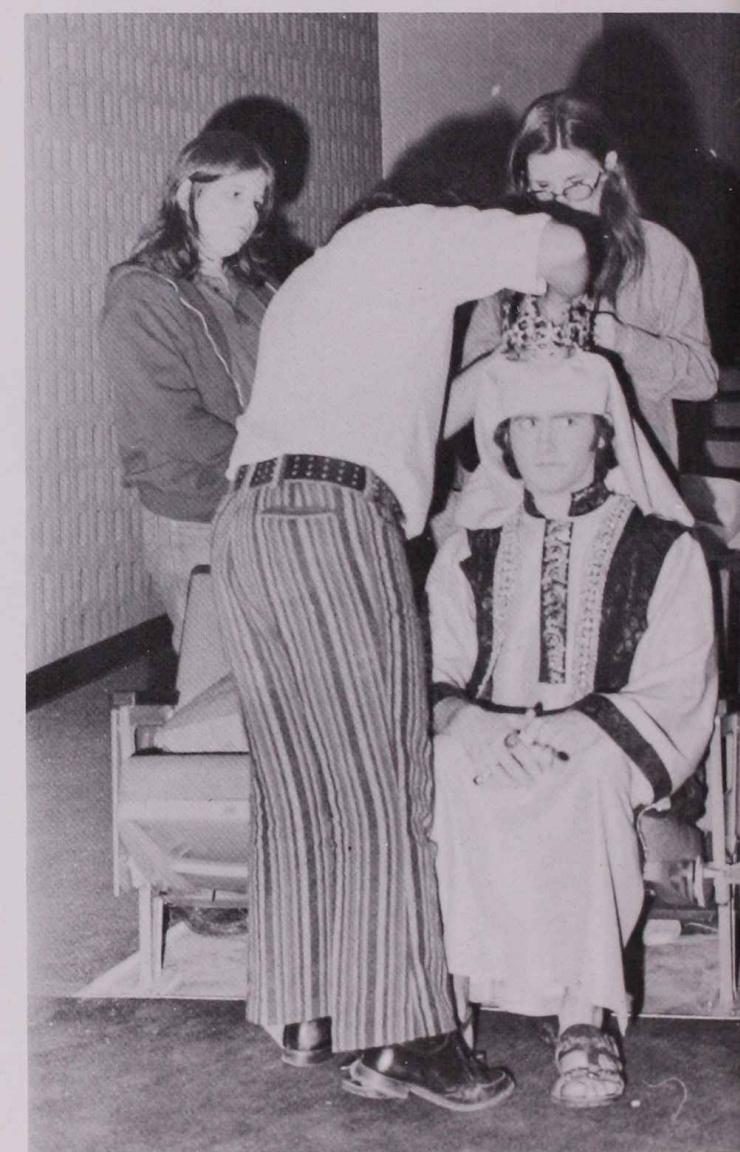

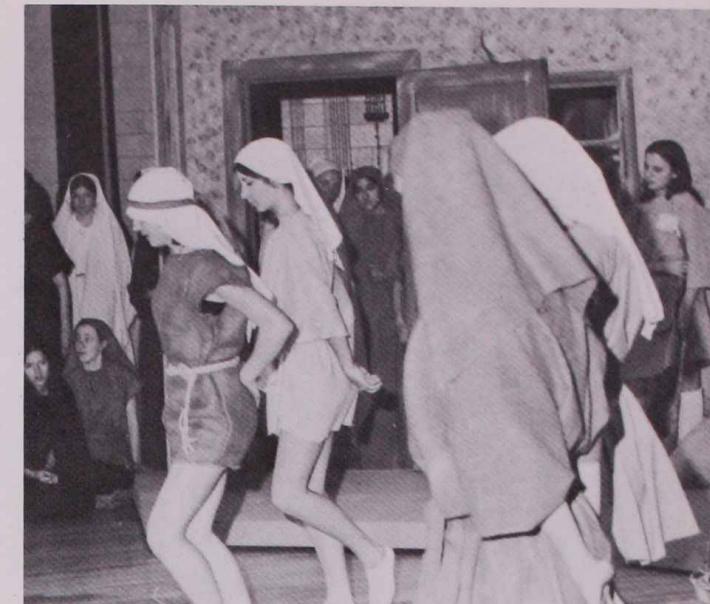

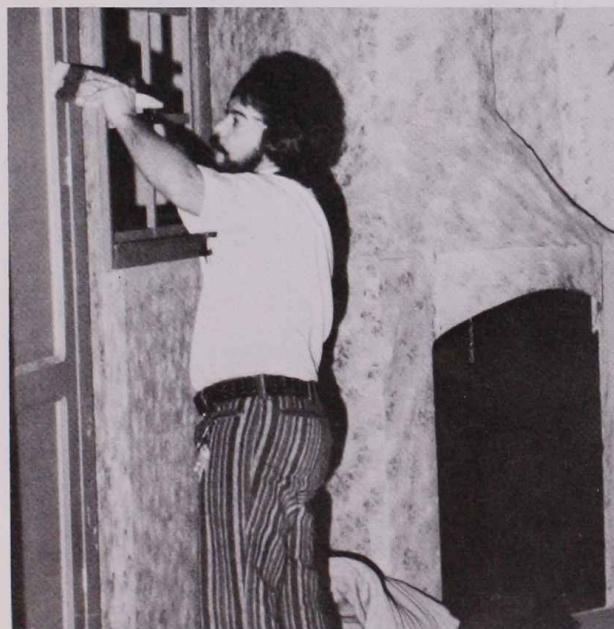

The one act opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," held Dec. 20 and 21, was the first play performed in Highland's new auditorium. The opera was done by the Choir and Orchestra and was directed by Mr. Frank Newton.

The cafeteria was decorated by Ms. Bondi's classes, the Choir and Phyllis Colvin. Snowy visions of bells, Santas and Christmas trees were painted on the windows, and a live Christmas tree decorated with popcorn strings and ornaments stood in the middle of the room.

DECA decorated the Alpine Manor Nursing Home. They gave a decorated tree, fruit basket and terrarium to the senior citizens.

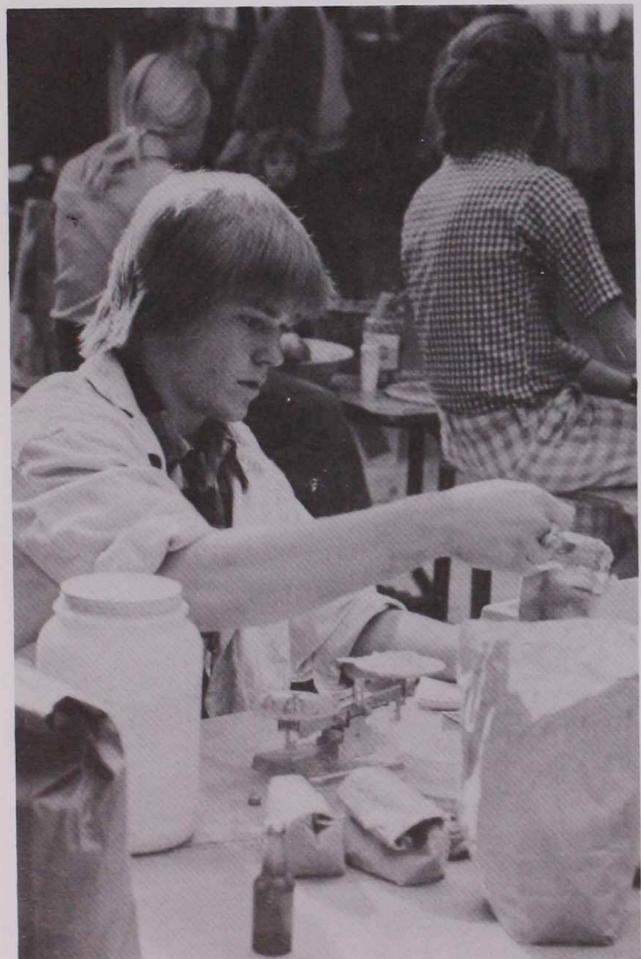

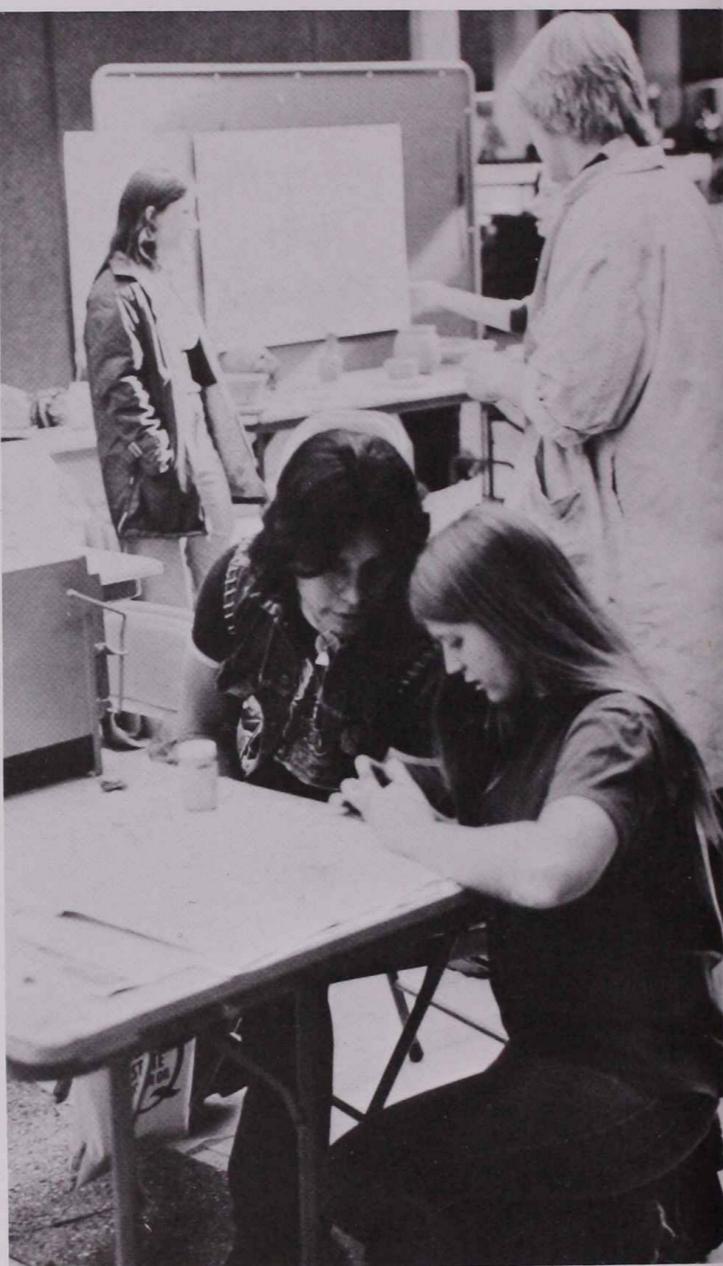

The German Club spread their Christmas cheer by caroling in the residential areas near the school on Dec. 22.

A Christmas assembly for the students was presented on the last day before vacation by the Show Choir, directed by Mr. Newton.

STUDENTS IN THE COMMUNITY

WIND ENSEMBLE HONORED

Highland's Symphonic Wind Ensemble was selected this year to perform at the Convention of the Colorado Music Educators, held at the Broadmoor Hotel and Convention Center, Colorado Springs, on Jan. 30, 31.

The selection of the Highland Wind Ensemble was based on taped tryouts. The Ensemble competed with 118 other schools for this honor.

The Highland Bands had a superb performing year.

The Marching Band, which consisted of both the Concert Band and Symphonic Wind Ensemble, practiced mornings for their performances at all the home football games. The Marching Band competed in two contests for the Colorado Band Masters. They received superior ratings at both. They also performed in three parades in the summer of 1974 for which they received two trophies.

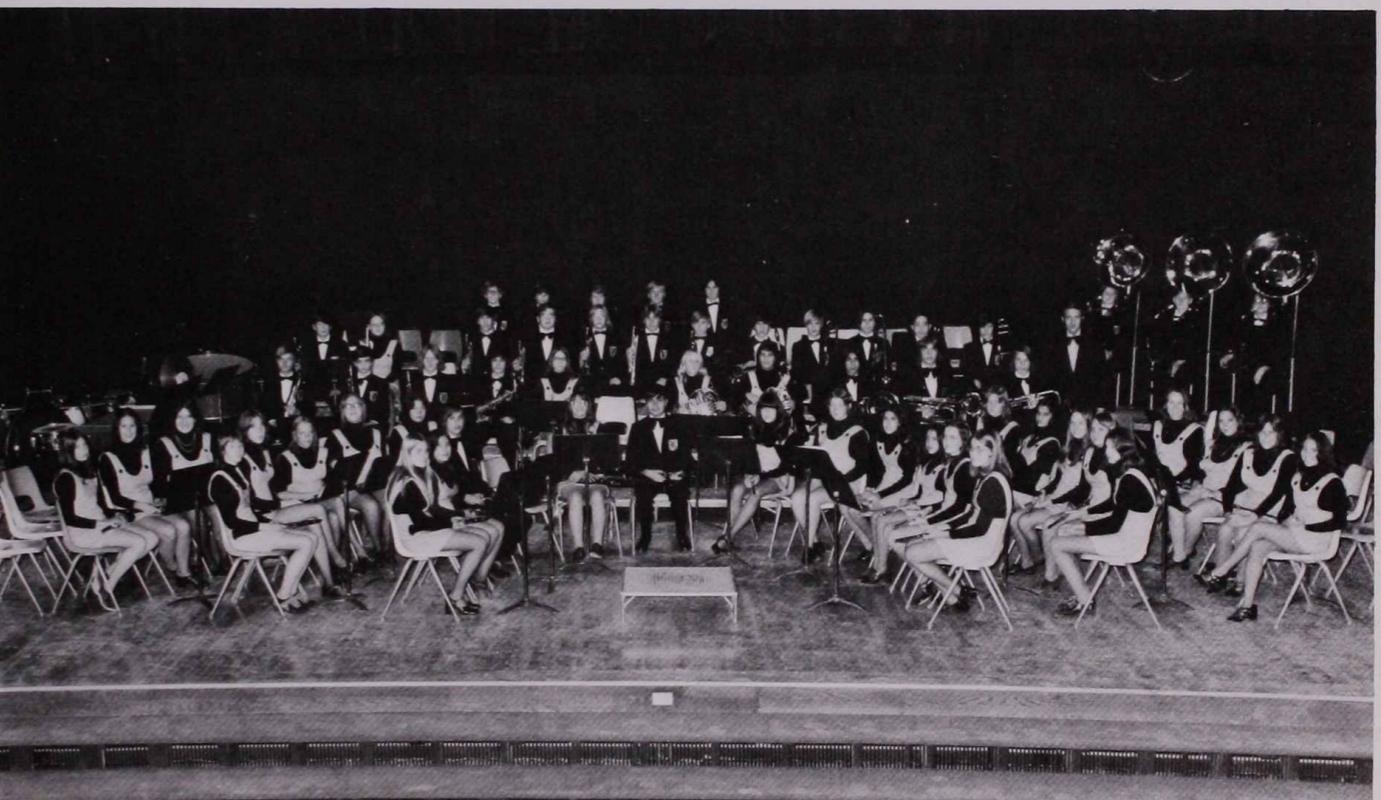

The Wind Ensemble was selected by the Colorado Music Educators Association to perform a concert for their convention in Jan. at Colorado Springs.

Girls formed own FCA

Captain Heather Langthorn headed the first girls' Fellowship of Christian Athletes which was formed to bring together the coaches and athletes.

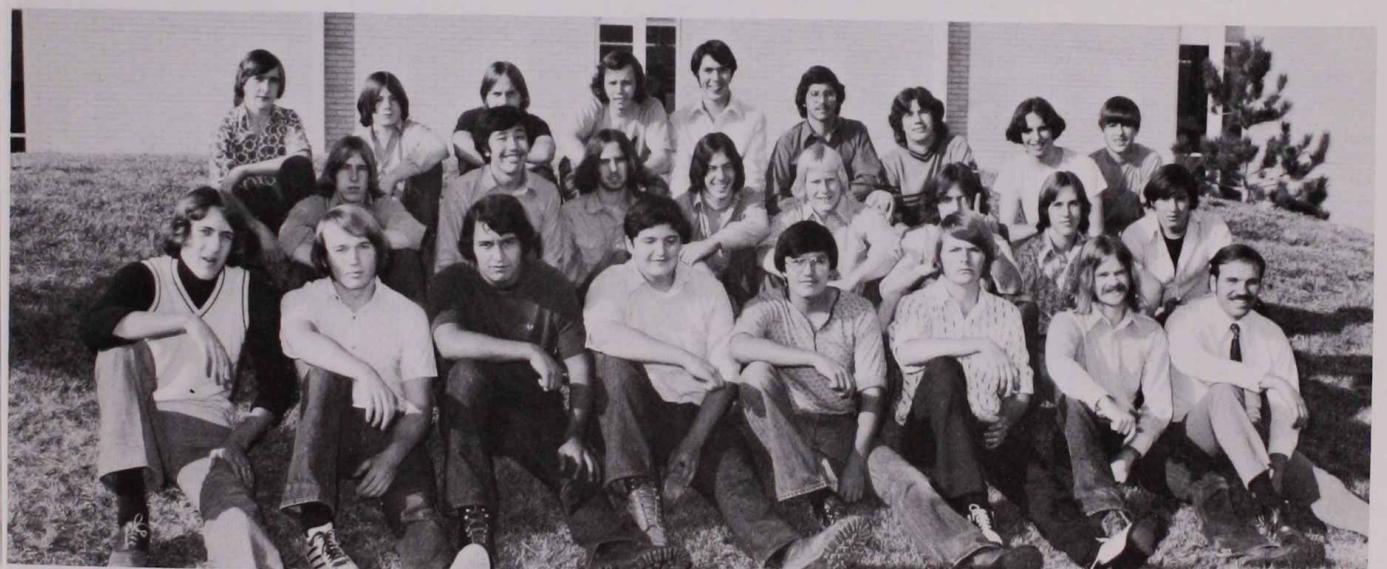

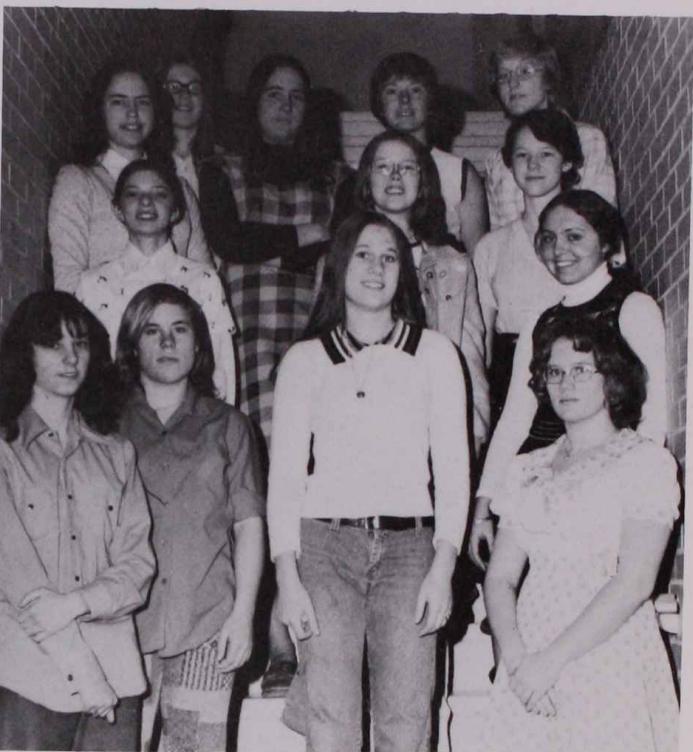

All the sports were included in the organization. The girls met every two weeks to discuss common problems.

The boys' FCA was an organization that helped the athlete understand his role in competition.

According to President Andy Parker, the club brought the athletes closer together and confronted them with the goal of becoming a better person and Christian.

The group had two successful canned food drives for Thanksgiving and Christmas. In addition they held a turkey raffle in order to buy two turkeys for needy families.

STUDENT CABINET, NHS

The Student Cabinet, which had not existed since 1971 because of lack of interest, was reformed.

Ms. Betsy Kelley, sponsor, and Scott Leurquin activated the Cabinet last spring with a school election of officers and members.

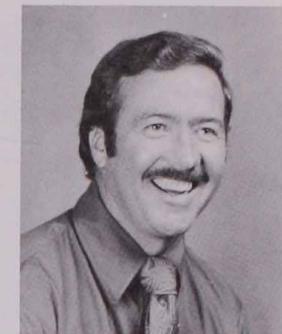

To strengthen student relationships, the Cabinet formed committees--the Appeals Committee which strengthened the relations between students and teachers and administrators; the Advisory Committee, which worked with the community.

Members of the National Honor Society, a service organization, were selected because of their high academic standings.

Their first activity was setting up an annual volleyball game with the Thornton High School NHS.

For Christmas NHS sent money from their treasury to an orphanage.

The club selected Robert Rodriguez and Mark Sewald to compete in the National Scholarship program.

Mr. William P. Garity,

SHOW CHOIR; PEP, STAGE BANDS

The Show Choir consisted of singers who prepared and presented mainly popular music.

The singers performed for the Homecoming Variety Show, civic clubs, for the children at Laradon Hall and at County General Hospital. In addition, they presented Christmas programs to the students and to the shoppers at North Valley.

According to Director Frank Newton, Show Choir gave the students a chance to experience entertaining, both as soloists and in group situations.

Stage band based on big band sound

Highland's Pep Band performed at basketball games and pep assemblies.

These performances were considered a duty for the band; and for the students' convenience, the band was split into Pep Band 1, 2 and 3.

The members received class credit for their participation. Mr. Harley Brown directed all three bands.

Students joined the Stage Band on a voluntary basis and received no credit.

According to Director Brown, the Band's structure is based on the idea of the big band sound.

The Band performed for the Homecoming Variety Show, the Stars of Tomorrow, and the Booster Club.

FBLA, DECA

Highland's Chapter of Future Business Leaders of America had a late but very successful start. Membership was large with approximately 60 students.

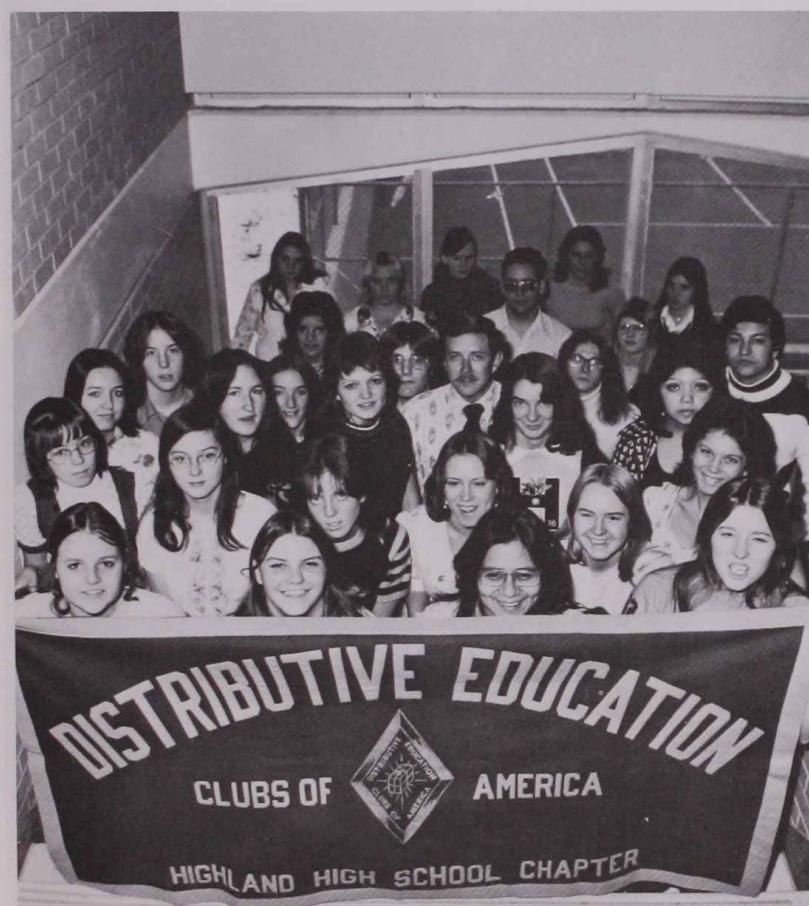

The Club worked on several money making projects to benefit the National FBLA fund raising project--the March of Dimes.

This year Highland's Chapter held local competition at Mapleton and at Highland to determine the finalists who competed at the District competition in Greeley.

DRAMA, SPEECH

Activities of Blocks and Stones, the drama club, were presentation of the one act play "Hello Out There," at the State Convention of Thespians held at Pueblo; presentation of the second Dinner Theatre at Howard Johnsons; attendance at city theatre functions.

Half of the Club's members belonged to the International Thespians.

To be a Thespian, the students needed 10 points, one point for every 10 hours of work in the theatre.

The Speech Team members attended approximately 20 meets and won about 170 awards, including about 40 trophies.

Mr. Gary Addington, coach, noted that some records were broken this year. These included more perfect scores, more students making finals (Six were chosen out of 65 contestants in each event) and more students placing in State competition (six in semifinals, two in finals).

In the past five years, the Highland Speech Team has been within the top 10 schools; this year they placed sixth in state competition.
