Small-by-Design

Mapleton offers 18 schools that are small-by-design with different education models, including Expeditionary Learning, International Baccalaureate, STEM, Community School, University Partnership, Big Picture, and online.

Early Childhood Education

A quality preschool program can spark a lifetime love of learning for a child. Mapleton is pleased to offer extensive early childhood education programming. We serve more than 500 preschool students at schools throughout the district. Our preschool program is fully inclusive, meeting the needs of all learners. Mapleton's Early Childhood Education program serves families through:

- Colorado Preschool Program
- Tuition-based Program
- Special Education Program

CareerX

Today's students need both a broad education and specific skills to ensure successful, long-term careers. CareerX courses are designed to expose middle school and high school grade students to the world of work through a variety of engaging career exploration opportunities, including teaching internships, outdoor adventure and fitness internships, and construction internships. Students are offered courses that are project-based, hands-on and experiential. Students choose from an array of content-based electives, including outdoor adventures, culinary arts, engineering, mathematics through art, forensic science, environmental studies, and others.
