Benefits of Taking AP

A Head Start in High School – Be Future Prepared!

Research consistently shows that AP students are better prepared for college than students who don't take AP. They're more likely to enroll and stay in college, do well in their classes, and graduate in four years.

Get a Taste of College

Get familiar with college-level work—and boost your confidence by tackling it. We are HERE to help.

Develop College Skills

Time management, critical thinking, scholarly writing—AP courses help you hone the skills you'll need in college and career.

Discover Your Passion

Studying a subject in depth could give you new insights and even put you on the path to a career.

Boost GPA

Our school offers a GPA boost to students who take AP courses and/or exams. This helps students stand out on college applications and stay motivated to take AP courses.

A FUTURE Edge in College

Taking AP courses in high school could give you an advantage in college.

Earn College Credit

Your AP score could earn you college credits before you even set foot on campus. Enjoy high school and work on your future.

Stand Out to Colleges

AP on your high school transcript shows colleges you've tackled college-level work. Capstone Diploma shows that you are a scholar that achieves.

Earn Placement in Advanced or Honors Courses

Your AP score can let you skip introductory courses in college. This means you are on your way to your future career – quicker.

Save Money and Time

Earning credit or placement can free up time on your schedule or even let you graduate early. AP students are eligible for more scholarships.

New Findings on the AP Experience

Regardless of the score, completing an AP Exam has benefits.

FOUR-YEAR COLLEGE ENROLLMENT PROBABILITIES, BY AVERAGE AP SCORE

AP students, including those with average scores of 1 or 2, are more likely to enroll in a four-year college compared to academically similar students who did not take AP in high school.

PERCENTAGE EARNING A HIGHER SCORE ON A SUBSEQUENT AP EXAM

Many students who first earn an AP Exam score of 1 or 2 will then earn a higher score on the subsequent AP Exams they take.

Credit and Placement Opportunities – Future Forward

- Each college and university has its own policies regarding AP credit and placement.
- Find colleges that grant credit, placement, or both for AP Exam scores at collegeboard.org/apcreditpolicy
 - Search by course or college
 - Data for each college includes a direct link to that college's website detailing AP credit and placement policies
 - See each college or university's statement about its AP policy

Credit vs. Placement

- Credit
 - Many colleges offer credit for AP scores.
 - Example—a student earns a 4 on their AP Biology Exam, and the college grants 8 credits for that score. That means the student has earned 8 credits before taking their first class there.
- Placement
 - Many colleges recognize that AP scores demonstrate knowledge of material in certain courses and let students skip those courses.
 - These could be introductory courses required in your major, or core courses the college requires all its students to take.
- In some cases, students can get both credit and placement for a qualifying AP score.

Personal Progress Checks

- Real-time feedback on the topics and skills in each unit as the teacher unlocks progress checks
- Formative assessments of college-level knowledge and skills designed to:
 - gauge student progress over time
 - highlight areas of strength
 - identify areas students need to work on or get support for
- Personal Progress Checks are assigned at the end of each unit, after students have learned the unit's topics and skills

AP Exams

About AP Exams

- Standardized exams that measure how well students have mastered the content and skills of a specific AP course
- Administered by schools worldwide every year in the spring
- Most AP courses have an end-of-year paper and pencil exam, but a few courses have different ways to assess what you've learned—for example, AP Art and Design students submit a portfolio of work for scoring
- Most AP Exams are 2–3 hours long.
 - The first part of the exam usually consists of multiple-choice questions.
 - The second part of the exam usually consists of free-response questions.
- Created and scored by teams of AP teachers and college professors

The Reality of AP

Myths and Facts About AP

Myth #1 – AP courses are for students who always get good grades.

Reality – You don't need to be top of your class to be an AP student, but you'll want to be prepared for the AP course you choose. AP courses ask that you come willing to do your best work.

Myth #4 – Taking AP courses could hurt my GPA.

Reality – AP courses are weighted so that many times a B in an AP class is better than an A on-level. Taking AP courses shows colleges that you're willing to challenge yourself academically.

Myth #2 – AP courses are too hard and stressful.

Reality – AP classes can be challenging, but that doesn't mean you're not up to the task. If you're willing to work hard and ask for help when needed you are ready for an AP course.

Myth #5 – I'm not sure AP is for me. How do I know if I'm ready?

Reality – If you think you're ready to take an AP course, then you're ready to advocate for yourself—talk to a teacher, counselor, or an AP Ambassador.

Myth #3 – I don't think I'll score high enough on the AP Exam to get college credit.

Reality – Many colleges grant credit, placement, or both based on a 3 or higher on an AP Exam.

Myth #6 – The final step in your AP journey is taking the AP Exam.

Reality – Every year that you take AP Exams, you can send one score report for free to the college, university, or scholarship organization of your choice. Be sure to take this important last step.

Next Steps

- Decide which AP courses are right for you:
 - What subjects do you enjoy most?
 - Which subjects do you excel in?
 - Have you completed the course prerequisites?
- Talk to your teachers and counselor.
- Take the prerequisites for the courses you will want.
- Talk to other students who have taken AP courses
- Meet with and talk to the AP Ambassadors – Ask questions to those who were there!
