Create a Solid Academic Portfolio

Your course schedule may seem like a random selection of classes to you, but college admission officers see it as the blueprint of your high school education. They're looking for a solid foundation of learning that you can build on in college.

Take at least five solid academic classes every semester. The following subjects and classes are standard fare for success in high school and beyond, whether you plan to attend a four-year, two-year or technical school.

English (Language Arts)

Take English every year. Traditional courses such as American and English literature help you improve your writing skills, reading comprehension and vocabulary.

- Literature
- Writing/composition and/or speech

Math

In college math classes and in most careers, you need algebra and geometry. Take them early on, and you'll be able to enroll in advanced science and math in high school — and you'll show colleges you're ready for higher-level work.

- Algebra I
- Geometry
- Algebra II
- Trigonometry and/or calculus

Science

Science teaches you to think analytically and apply theories to observations of the natural world. Laboratory classes let you test what you've learned through hands-on work. Six semesters are recommended.

- Biology
- Chemistry and/or physics
- Earth/space sciences, advanced biology, advanced chemistry or physics

Social Studies

Understand local and world events that are happening now by studying the culture and history that have shaped them. Social sciences round out your core curriculum.

- Two semesters of U.S. history
- One semester of U.S. government
- One semester of economics
- One semester of world history or geography
- One additional semester of these or other areas

Foreign Languages

Solid foreign language study shows colleges you're willing to stretch beyond the basics. Many colleges require at least two years of foreign language study, and some prefer more.

The Arts

Research indicates that students who participate in the arts often do better in school and on standardized tests. The arts help you recognize patterns, discern differences and similarities, and exercise your mind in unique ways, often outside of a traditional classroom setting.

Computer Courses

More and more college courses and jobs require at least a basic knowledge of computers. Computer skills also can help you do research and schoolwork better and faster.

College Planning: 12th Grade

Want to know if you're on track in the college application process?

This checklist shows you what you should be doing, and when.

When you complete steps marked with * you may be eligible for College Board Opportunity Scholarships. Learn more at: cb.org/opportunity.

FALL

- ☐ Strengthen Your College List: Meet with a counselor about your college choices and, if you've not yet done so, download college applications and financial aid forms. Make sure you have a balanced list of academic safety, fit, and reach schools. Plan to visit as many of these colleges as possible.
- ☐ Create a master list or calendar that includes:
 - Tests you'll take and their fees, dates, and registration deadlines
 - College application due dates
 - Required financial aid application forms and their deadlines (aid applications may be due before college applications)
 - Other materials you'll need (recommendations, transcripts, etc.)
 - Your high school's application processing deadlines
- ☐ Ask a counselor to help you request a fee waiver if you can't afford application or test fees.
- ☐ Improve Your Score: Many seniors retake the SAT in the fall. Additional coursework and practice with Official SAT Practice on Khan Academy® since your last test could help you boost your performance. Plus you already know what to expect on test day.
- ☐ Be sure to have your SAT scores sent to the colleges to which you are applying.
- ☐ Complete the FAFSA: To apply for most financial aid, you'll need to complete the FAFSA. Oct. 1 is the first day you can file the FAFSA.
- ☐ Complete the CSS Profile: CSS Profile™ is an online application used by certain colleges and scholarship programs to determine eligibility for their aid dollars.
- ☐ Prepare early decision/early action or rolling admission applications as soon as possible. Nov. 1–15: Colleges may require test scores and applications between these dates for early decision admission.
- ☐ Ask a counselor or teacher for recommendations if you need them. Give each teacher or counselor an outline of your academic record and your extracurricular activities. For each recommendation, provide a stamped, addressed envelope and any college forms required.
- ☐ Write first drafts and ask teachers and others to read them if you're submitting essays. If you're applying for early decision, finish the essays for that application now.
- ☐ Apply to College: Submit your applications to the schools that you want to attend.
- ☐ Ask counselors to send your transcripts to colleges. Give counselors the proper forms at least two weeks before the colleges require them.

WINTER

- ☐ Keep photocopies as you finish, and send your applications and essays.
- ☐ Give the correct form to your counselor if the college wants to see second-semester grades.
- ☐ Have your high school send a transcript—it is sent separately by mail to colleges if you apply online to colleges.

SPRING

- ☐ Keep active in school. If you are waitlisted, the college will want to know what you have accomplished between the time you applied and the time you learned of its decision.
- ☐ Visit your final college before accepting. You should receive acceptance letters and financial aid offers by mid-April. Notify your counselor of your choice. If you have questions about housing offers, talk to your counselor or call the college.
- ☐ Inform every college of your acceptance or rejection of the offer of admission and/or financial aid by May 1. Colleges cannot require your deposit or your commitment to attend before May 1. Talk to your counselor or adviser if you have questions.
- ☐ Send your deposit to one college only.
- ☐ Take any AP® Exams. Show what you've learned in your AP classes. A successful score could even earn you credit, advanced placement, or both in college.
- ☐ Waitlisted by a college? If you intend to enroll if you are accepted, tell the admission director your intent and ask how to strengthen your application. Need financial aid? Ask whether funds will be available if you're accepted.
- ☐ Work with a counselor to resolve any admission or financial aid problems.
- ☐ Ask your high school to send a final transcript to your college.
- ☐ Review your financial aid awards: Not all financial aid awards are the same, so it's important to choose the aid package that's best for you and your family. Be sure to note what you have to do to continue receiving financial aid from year to year, and how your aid might change in future years.

College Matters – for Life

The College Board's mission is connecting students to college opportunity and success. This mission has driven the development of BigFuture™, a free comprehensive website from the College Board that improves the college planning process for students, families, and educators.

A college education is the gateway to success in today's knowledge-based, global economy. It's an investment in each student's future.

- Individuals who have a college degree earn an average of $22,000 more per year than those with only a high school diploma.
- A college education gives a person more job security. People with a high school diploma are more than twice as likely to be unemployed.
- For most students who go to college, the increase in lifetime earnings far outweighs the cost of their education.
- College is more than just a classroom. It's an important time in life to learn and grow as a person while gaining independence and life skills.
- Statistics show that a college education impacts health, family and community involvement.
 - Young adults with a college degree are much less likely to be obese than those with only a high school diploma.
 - Children of parents with a college degree are much more likely to be read to every day than children of parents with only a high school diploma.
 - Individuals with a college degree are more than twice as likely to volunteer as those with only a high school diploma.

Student Checklist

When getting ready for college, it's important to stay focused on what's right for you—from degree programs, to financial aid, to campus locations and more. When you have a clearer picture of what you're looking for in a college, you can begin researching individual schools to see if they're a good fit. Then call or contact the admissions offices of those schools to get started.

The next step is narrowing down the list of schools you're interested in to four or five. Then you can visit the campuses, talk to students, and make your own decision about which school feels right.

Before visiting the colleges you're interested in, it's important to have a checklist to take with you. This can help you decide which college is the best for you.

Here is your Student Checklist. Be sure to print this out.

Questions to Ask	Notes
Does the school's reputation meet my requirements?
Do I fit the personality of the student body?
Can this school meet my educational goals?
Does this college have advisors who will help me schedule classes correctly so that I can meet my goals as quickly as I want?
Are classes taught by professors? (This is important. Sometimes, especially at larger universities, classes may be taught by graduate students.)
Will this school give credit for Advanced Placement tests and/or dual credit courses taken in high school?
Will this school accept my credits if I start out at a two-year community or technical college?
Does this school require freshmen to live on campus? Do I have a choice of where I live? (Common choices are at home, in a nearby apartment, in dormitories on campus, or in campus apartments? Where you live affects how much college will cost.)
Is financial aid available?
Is the financial aid office on campus? What are the hours?
If I qualify for financial aid, will the school let me use it to pay my tuition and fees, or will I have to pay up front (possibly with an emergency loan) and then get reimbursed when my aid arrives?
Are there scholarships available at this school? If yes, are they based on athletic, merit or something else? Which campus office handles scholarships?

The Tests You'll Need

You're required to take a number of tests during high school. Some help make sure you have the knowledge needed for graduation, and others measure your level of reading, writing and math skills. The good news is, tests can tell you a lot about yourself. They measure your knowledge and skill level, and help you judge how ready you are for college.

Remember, the information on this page is general. You should talk to a school counselor, teacher, or your parents/guardians if you have questions or are unsure which tests you will be taking.

Here are a few of the more common tests you may need to take, and why they're so important:

The STAAR (State of Texas Assessments of Academic Readiness) are required for students in grades 3-8 and are a graduation requirement for students taking high school level courses in Algebra I, English I, English II, U.S. history, and biology. If your school district chooses to participate, optional assessments in English III and Algebra II may also be administered. The STAAR tests are designed to measure the extent to which you have learned and can apply the knowledge and skills defined in the state-mandated curriculum standards, the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS). Check out STAAR FAQs or go to the STAAR Media Toolkit for more information. The STAAR tests replaced the previous state assessment, the Texas Assessment of Knowledge and Skills (TAKS) for students first enrolled in ninth grade in the 2011-2012 school year or later.

Many colleges and universities in the U.S. and Texas require you to take either the SAT (Scholastic Aptitude Test) or the ACT Test. Often your scores on these tests determine whether you will be admitted to the college of your choice. Some colleges and universities award special scholarships based on your scores. The SAT and ACT indicate if you have the reading, writing and math skills needed for college-level work. The ACT test assesses high school students' general educational development and their ability to complete college-level work. The tests cover four areas: English, mathematics, reading and science. Almost every college in America accepts the SAT as a part of its admissions process. More than two million students take the SAT every year.

AP (Advanced Placement), International Baccalaureate Program (IB), and CLEP (College Level Examination Program) exams allow you to gain college credit for things you've learned in high school. College-level AP courses enable you to earn credit or advanced standing at Texas colleges and universities. IB credit is awarded similarly to AP credit. CLEP tests give you the opportunity to receive college credit for what you've already learned through independent study, prior course work, on-the-job training, professional development, cultural pursuits or internships.

All students (except those who meet certain exemptions) must take a Texas Success Initiative Assessment (TSIA) before enrolling in college-level courses. Your college advisor will use the results to help you choose the right courses. The TSIA is part of the Texas Success Initiative (TSI) program designed to help your college or university determine if you are ready for college-level course work in the areas of reading, writing, and mathematics. Your college advisor will use the results to help you choose the right courses.

These are some of the other test you may need to take, depending on your specific situation:

The PSAT/NMSQT (Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test) is a multiple-choice test administered by the College Board and National Merit Scholarship Corporation. PSAT scores determine eligibility for the National Merit Scholarship Program. Why take the PSAT? Your score could lead to a National Merit Scholarship (that's $ for college). Also, Your score could tell you a lot about how you might do on the SAT and where you may need help or practice.. Finally, doing well on the PSAT can boost your confidence.

If you can't complete high school, you should take the GED (General Educational Development) Test. Passing the GED is equivalent to a high school diploma. When passed, this group of five tests certifies that you have high school level academic skills. To earn a GED, students must score higher than 40.

The Texas Assessment of Knowledge and Skills (TAKS), Texas Assessment of Academic Skills (TAAS), and Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) are no longer administered. Students for whom one of these tests was a graduation requirement should contact either their previous school district or the Texas Education Agency (512-463-9536) for more information if they have not met their testing graduation requirements.

SAT vs ACT: Which Test is Right for You?

Many students and parents begin the college prep process by comparing the ACT and SAT tests. The SAT and ACT generally cover the same topics. Both ACT and SAT scores are used for college admissions decisions and awarding merit-based scholarships. Most colleges do not prefer one test over the other. Neither the SAT or ACT is harder than the other. Different students tend to do better on one test over the other.

Should I Take the ACT or SAT?

Students are increasingly taking both the SAT and ACT. Changes made to the SAT in 2016 have made it easier than ever to prep for both tests concurrently — and earn competitive scores on both!

The best way to decide if taking the SAT, ACT, or both tests is right for you is to take a timed full-length practice test of each type. Since the content and style of the SAT and ACT are very similar, factors like how you handle time pressure and what types of questions you find most challenging can help you determine which test is a better fit.

Tips for Writing an Effective Application Essay

How should you present yourself in an essay?

Jeff Brenzel, Dean of Undergraduate Admissions, Yale University

An admission officer shares tips on writing an essay that reflects who you really are.

Video Transcript

When you apply to college, you'll need to complete an essay as part of your application. This is your opportunity to show admission officers who you are and to provide information about yourself that didn't fit in other areas of your application. The essay also reveals what you can do when you have time to think and work on a writing project.

The number one piece of advice from admission officers about your essay is "Be yourself." The number two suggestion is "Start early." Check out those other tips before you begin.

Choose a Topic That Will Highlight You

Don't focus on the great aspects of a particular college, the amount of dedication it takes to be a doctor or the number of extracurricular activities you took part in during high school.

Do share your personal story and thoughts, take a creative approach and highlight areas that aren't covered in other parts of the application, like your high school records.

Keep Your Focus Narrow and Personal

Don't try to cover too many topics. This will make the essay sound like a résumé that doesn't provide any details about you.

Top two tips: Be yourself and start early

Do focus on one aspect of yourself so the readers can learn more about who you are. Remember that the readers must be able to find your main idea and follow it from beginning to end. Ask a parent or teacher to read just your introduction and tell you what he or she thinks your essay is about.

Show, Don't Tell

Don't simply state a fact to get an idea across, such as "I like to surround myself with people with a variety of backgrounds and interests."

Do include specific details, examples, reasons and so on to develop your ideas. For the example above, describe a situation when you were surrounded by various types of people. What were you doing? Whom did you talk with? What did you take away from the experience?

Use Your Own Voice

Don't rely on phrases or ideas that people have used many times before. These could include statements like, "There is so much suffering in the world that I feel I have to help people." Avoid overly formal or business-like language, and don't use unnecessary words.

Do write in your own voice. For the above example, you could write about a real experience that you had and how it made you feel you had to take action. And note that admission officers will be able to tell if your essay was edited by an adult.

Ask a Teacher or Parent to Proofread

Don't turn your essay in without proofreading it, and don't rely only on your computer's spell check to catch mistakes. A spell-check program will miss typos like these:

"After I graduate form high school, I plen to get a summer job."

"From that day on, Daniel was my best fried."

Do ask a teacher or parent to proofread your essay to catch mistakes. You should also ask the person who proofreads your essay if the writing sounds like you.

Financial Aid Checklist

College is usually more affordable than many families think, thanks to financial aid. The checklists below offer a step-by-step guide to help you navigate the financial aid process and get the most money possible for college.

FRESHMAN/SOPHOMORE YEAR

- ☐ Find out how financial aid can help you afford college. You might be surprised by how affordable a college education can be. Check out 7 Things You Need to Know About Financial Aid.
- ☐ Learn the basics of college costs. Besides tuition, what expenses do college students have to cover? Find out by reading Quick Guide: College Costs.
- ☐ Get an idea of what college might really cost you. Check out 9 Things You Need to Know About Net Price to learn why you may not have to pay the full published price of a college. Then pick a college you're interested in, and go to College Search to find its profile. Click the Calculate Your Net Price button to see that college's estimated net price for you—the cost of attending a college minus grants and scholarships you might receive. Save the data you enter, when possible, so you can recompute the net price as college gets closer.
- ☐ Talk to your family about ways to pay for college. Discuss the options, and share ideas about how your family might pay for it.
- ☐ Save money for college. Bank part of your birthday money, your allowance, or your earnings from chores or an after-school job for future college expenses. Even a small amount can be a big help when you're buying textbooks and school supplies later on.
- ☐ Challenge yourself inside the classroom. Good grades not only expand your college opportunities but also can help you pay for college. Some grants and scholarships—money you don't have to pay back—are awarded based on academic performance.
- ☐ Get involved in activities you like. Your activities outside the classroom—playing sports, volunteering, and participating in clubs—can lead to scholarships that will help you afford college.

JUNIOR YEAR: SUMMER/FALL

- ☐ Take an inventory of your interests and passions. Scholarships are based not only on academic achievement. Many scholarships award money for college based on a student's activities, talents, background, and intended major.
- ☐ Research the various types of financial aid. Find out the difference between a grant and a loan, the way work-study can help with college costs, and more. Read Financial Aid Can Help You Afford College.
- ☐ Continue talking with your family about paying for college. Start planning your financial strategy. Most families use a combination of savings, current income, and loans to pay their share of tuition and other costs.
- ☐ Take the PSAT/NMSQT. Juniors who take the PSAT/NMSQT, which is given in October, are automatically entered into the National Merit® Scholarship Program. Organizations such as the American Indian Graduate Center, Asian & Pacific Islander American Scholarship Fund, Hispanic Scholarship Fund, Jack Kent Cooke Foundation, and United Negro College Fund use the PSAT/NMSQT and PSAT™ 10 to identify students for scholarships.
- ☐ Learn the difference between sticker price and net price. A college's sticker price is its full published cost, while the net price is the cost of attending a college minus grants and scholarships you receive. Knowing the difference will help you understand why most students pay less than full price for college. Read Focus on Net Price, Not Sticker Price to learn more.
- ☐ Get perspectives and tips from people who know. Visit the Video Gallery to watch short videos of college students and education professionals talking about paying for college.
- ☐ Think about getting college credit while you're still in high school. Consider taking Advanced Placement® Program (AP®) classes and exams, which can count for college credit, placement, or both, and may help you save money. Read Getting College Credit Before College to learn more about AP and other college-level courses.

Notes:

JUNIOR YEAR: WINTER/SPRING

- ☐ Keep looking up colleges' estimated net prices—net price calculators get updated every year. Pick a college you're interested in, and go to College Search to find its profile. Click Calculate Your Net Price to see that college's estimated net price for you—the cost of attending a college minus the grants and scholarships you might receive.
- ☐ Start researching scholarship opportunities. Scholarships are free money; that is, unlike student loans, they don't have to be paid back. Use the College Board Scholarship Search tool to find scholarships you might qualify for.
- ☐ Opt in to the College Board Opportunity Scholarships at cb.org/opportunity. You can earn scholarships ranging from $500 to $2,000 by completing individual college planning steps. Complete all six steps and you'll be eligible for the $40,000 scholarship.
- ☐ Get to know the FAFSA. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid is the key to having access to federal financial aid. You can find out more about the form at fafsa.ed.gov. You can't fill out the FAFSA until after October 1 of your senior year, but you can create your account and get FSA ID to get a head start.
- ☐ Go to a financial aid event. Many schools host financial aid nights, so students and their families can get information and ask questions.
- ☐ Set aside money from a summer job. Even a little extra money will help you pay for books and living expenses while in college or enable you to buy some of the things you need to make a smooth transition to college.
- ☐ Gather the documents you'll need to fill out your financial aid applications. You and your parents will need to gather tax returns, income statements, and lists of assets to prepare to fill out the FAFSA, the CSS Profile™, and other applications. Read How to Complete the FAFSA.

Notes:

SENIOR YEAR: SUMMER/FALL

- ☐ Research local scholarship opportunities. Talk to your school counselor, teachers, or other adults in your community about scholarships offered by local organizations. Go to your local library, and ask for help. Ask your parents to see if their employers grant scholarships. And don't forget to check the College Board Scholarship Search.
- ☐ Look up deadlines. Don't miss the priority deadlines for your colleges' financial aid applications—meeting these will help you get as much money as possible. You can compare deadlines for different colleges by using the College Search tool. And be sure to find out the application deadlines of any private scholarships or loans you plan to apply for.
- ☐ Get an estimate of what the colleges on your final list will actually cost. Get a better idea of what you'll pay to attend a college by looking at its estimated net price—the cost of attending a college minus grants and scholarships you receive. You can get this figure by going to the net price calculator on the college's website or, for some colleges, by using the College Board's Net Price Calculator.
- ☐ Find out about different kinds of student loans. Not all student loans are equal. Loans come from different sources, and some kinds are more expensive than others. Read Types of College Loans to learn more.
- ☐ Find out if you need to file a CSS Profile. A college may require students to complete this application—or the college's own forms—to apply for financial aid awarded by the institution.
- ☐ Complete the CSS Profile, if required. If you need to submit the CSS Profile to a college or scholarship program, be sure to find out the priority deadline and submit it by that date. Read How to Complete the CSS Profile.
- ☐ Complete your FAFSA. You can submit the FAFSA after October 1—sooner is better to qualify for as much financial aid as possible. Filling out the form online at fafsa.gov is the fastest way to do it.

Notes:

SENIOR YEAR: WINTER/SPRING

- ☐ Apply for any private scholarships you've found. Make sure you understand and follow the application requirements and apply by the deadline.
- ☐ Compare your financial aid awards. The colleges you apply to will send financial aid award letters to tell you how much and which kinds of aid they're offering you. Use the Compare Your Aid Awards calculator to make side-by-side comparisons of each college's aid package.
- ☐ Contact a college's financial aid office, if necessary. Financial aid officers are there to help you if you have questions. If your financial aid award is not enough, don't be afraid to ask about other options.
- ☐ Select a financial aid package by the deadline. Once you've compared the offers, you and your family should discuss which package best meets your needs. Financial aid is limited, so if you don't accept your award on time, it may go to another student. You can, however, ask for an extension if you're waiting to hear from other schools. Each college will decide if it's able to give you an extension.
- ☐ Complete financial aid paperwork. If loans are part of your financial aid package, you'll have to complete and submit paperwork to get the money.
- ☐ Get ready to pay the first college tuition bill. This usually covers the first semester and is due before you enroll.

FAFSA/ FSA ID Quick Guide

FAFSA or TASFA completion is now required by all high school seniors in Texas.

What is the FAFSA?

- Free Application for Federal Student Aid
- This FREE application allows you to potentially qualify for grants, loans, and work study.
- Not only is it a standard part of the college admission process, it is also a new requirement for Texas high school seniors.
- The FAFSA does not open until October 1....however....
- You can create your FSA ID now, so you are better prepared in October.

Both students and parents need to create an FSA ID.

To create your FSA ID:

1. Go to www.studentaid.gov. Then click "create account" in the top navigation on the far right side of the screen.
2. You will be asked for the following information
 - your name, date of birth and social security number
 - a unique user name and password
 - your mailing address
 - an email address —do NOT use your MISD email because after graduation, you will no longer have access to this email address
 - cell phone number (for security codes)

Creating an FSA ID is required before moving forward with the FAFSA.

Keep your newly created username and password somewhere you will remember and in October you are set to fill out the FAFSA.

What is the TASFA?

The Texas Application for State Financial Aid (TASFA) collects information to help determine eligibility for state (or institutional) financial aid programs administered by institutions of higher education in the state of Texas. Students classified as Texas Residents who are not eligible to apply for federal financial aid using the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) are encouraged to complete the TASFA. Your counselor can provide more details.

Paying for College

1) Start by controlling costs.

If you begin planning during high school, you can greatly reduce the cost of a college education. Some money-saving tips include:

Take the Recommended High School Program to prepare for college. If you're not academically prepared prior to enrollment, you'll need developmental education courses before taking college-level courses. These require time and money. Developmental courses are additional classes designed to make sure that you have the reading, writing and math skills you need for success in college.

Good academic preparation really saves you. For example: If you don't have the math, reading and writing skills you need to start college, this can require 1 to 3 additional courses in each subject area. That's 3 to 9 additional classes, or 9 to 27 semester credit hours, which means a whole year of study you'll have to pay for. For a four-year public university, that adds up to about $15,640. Ouch!

(*Costs are based on average charges for this type of institution for fall 2005, as reported by the institutions.)

Should you need developmental courses, you can reduce your costs by almost $1,500 by taking these courses at a community college close to home.

Take college courses while you're still in high school. Many school districts have special agreements with community colleges that allow high school students to take college-level courses without paying tuition or fees. Because you're still at home, you'll save on room and board and related expenses. Be sure to talk to your counselor about it.

Take Advanced Placement (AP) classes and exams or place out of college hours by taking a CLEP exam (College-Level Examination Program). You can get college credit without paying tuition, fee charges, and living costs. You'll also save time by cutting the number of hours you have to take—sometimes by a semester or more. For more information about Advanced Placement, visit the College Board's AP site, and to learn more about CLEP, visit the College Board's CLEP site. And ask your counselor about these programs.

Plan for college early, often and thoroughly. Switching majors can increase the amount of time you spend in college from one to four semesters.

Begin studies at a public community or technical college. You can complete your first two years of study and then transfer to a four-year college or university for your junior and senior years. Almost everyone in the state is within a 30-minute drive of a two-year community college. If you choose to begin at a community or technical college and transfer to a university, you need to pay particular attention to which courses will be accepted at the university. Be sure to check the "Transfer Guide" on this website for information on transferring credits from a two-year community college.

Here's more good news: If you earn an associate's degree from a community college and then transfer to a Texas public university within a year, you may be eligible for the TEXAS Grant.

(Please note: Students currently attending community colleges who are not eligible for the TEXAS Grant program may be eligible for the new Texas Educational Opportunity Grant program. Visit the Texas Educational Opportunity Grant page for more information or talk to your college or university financial aid office.)

2) Know your options for paying tuition and fees.

Most colleges and universities expect you to pay tuition and fees in full prior to the first day of class. But many offer a variety of payment options to help if you're unable to pay by cash or check. These options include:

Installment plans

During the fall and spring semesters, Texas public colleges and universities offer installment plans that allow students to more slowly pay their tuition and fees in full before the end of the semester.

Many private Texas colleges and universities also offer installment plans, but are not required to do so. Students receiving financial aid must first use financial aid resources to pay off an installment plan before the balance of the financial aid may be used for other purposes.

Emergency loans

These short-term loans are offered by some Texas colleges and universities (or an alternative lender) to cover the immediate costs of tuition, fees and books. If emergency loans are offered by your college, you may be asked to sign a promissory note (an agreement to repay the loan) and generally the loan must be repaid prior to the end of the semester. Interest and penalty payments may apply.

Credit card payments

Many institutions allow you to pay your tuition and fees with Visa, MasterCard, American Express, Discover or another major credit card. Some will limit these payments to specific credit card types (such as Visa or MasterCard) and most will charge an additional fee to cover the cost of the credit card transaction.

Financial aid

If you're eligible for financial aid, most Texas colleges will allow you delay paying your tuition and fees until your financial aid funds are available.

Types of Financial aid

Here you'll find links to the many kinds of financial aid available to students attending Texas colleges and universities. Types of Financial Aid

3) Apply for financial aid

What is FAFSA?

FAFSA stands for the Free Application for Federal Student Aid. As the name indicates, there is no charge to apply or for the processing of your application. No matter how many schools you are applying to, you only need to fill out one FAFSA. Once your application is processed by the federal processor, you and the schools you have selected will be notified of the results. The schools then start the process of determining the funding you're eligible for. If you're not eligible to complete the FAFSA because of your immigration status, you may be eligible to complete the TASFA (the Texas Application for State Financial Aid). To find out which application you should use, just take this simple survey: "Which financial aid application should you use?"

Where can you find the FAFSA?

You can usually find the FAFSA at your high school counseling office, or you can get a copy from any college financial aid office. If you'd like to complete the application electronically, you can get the Web version on the FAFSA website. Please remember: Completing the FAFSA online is the fastest way to apply. The processing time for forms submitted online is about two weeks. The processing time for paper applications is about six to eight weeks. So click away!

When should you complete the FAFSA?

The FAFSA should be completed and processed as soon as possible after January 1 for students expecting to enroll in college in the following fall. The amount of financial aid is limited and many students apply. The sooner you complete your forms, the better your chance of getting a good financial aid package. More than $60 billion in financial aid is distributed each year, but this is not enough to meet the financial need of all college students in the United States.

How should you complete the FAFSA?

To complete the form, you and your parents will need to fill out information about your financial status (income, assets, savings, etc.). This is the same information you'd share with a bank or other lender when requesting a loan for a new car or home, and that you are required to put on your tax return each year.

4) Beware of scholarship scams.

Be on the lookout for fraudulent scholarship offers. For more information, please visit: <http://www.ftc.gov/bcp/edu/microsites/scholarship/>

College Costs - 2023-2024 - All Institutions

Information is based on average costs for dependent students living off campus who enroll in 15 credit hours in both fall and spring.

Due to the ongoing efforts of institutions to address the COVID-19 pandemic, the cost of attendance information published may not fully reflect the actual charges that students incur during this upcoming year. Please check directly with an institution before making any final conclusions.
