Strategies to Support Executive Functioning Skills

Thursday September 28, 2023

6:00-8:00 p.m.

Via Zoom

Presenter: Marisa Giannini, Professional Development Specialist

This workshop will explore the critical skills children need to plan, to start a task, to organize time, to remember instructions and to manage more than one task at a time. Executive functioning skills touch all parts of our lives, including activities at home and at school. This training aims to help participants better understand why executive functioning skills are important and provide strategies to help facilitate those skills at home.
