Grade 4: In math, fourth graders are practicing place value using expanded form and number name form. In science, students are learning about insects and animal adaptations.

Grade 5: Fifth grade has continued to learn about our expectations and routines. In science, students started learning about the sun. Next week, we will start to really dive into our first math unit of place value!

Grade 6: Grade 6 is having a rolling start to academics: introducing the Greek and Latin program, Fantasy Football, and starting the math and reading curriculum. Next week, we will be launching our social studies and science units!

CSDA Special: Welcome back to the library! We will be reviewing expectations, procedures, how to find a just right book, parts of a book, and what a genre is. Let's get reading!

Have a wonderful weekend.
Mrs. Bouley

Dear Families:

For safety purposes, please remain in your vehicles during car line drop-off and pick-up.

RMMS Happenings

Pre-K: Our preschoolers will start school on Monday! They'll spend the week learning how to do our school routines and getting to know their new friends. Keep your eye out for a family project on Thursday.

Grade K: Next week kindergarteners will focus on their names! They will identify letters, write those letters, and do a variety of name related activities and crafts.

Grade 1: First graders will review letter formations and letter sounds in Foundations. They will continue to observe their monarch caterpillars and are excited to watch them change into butterflies.

Grade 2: Second graders are doing a great job learning the routines and expectations of second grade! Next week they will be reviewing addition strategies in math and reviewing digraphs and closed syllable words in Foundations.

Grade 3: Third graders are doing a fabulous job as leaders of our building, practicing and modeling routines and expectations and starting off the school year strong!

RMMS Special: In art, students will be reviewing expectations, safety, and how to take care of our art supplies. Each student will create a 'Mini Me Masterpiece' that will be displayed on the art bulletin board.

Have a wonderful weekend!

Mr. Molinari

2023 Hollis-Brookline Elementary Science Fair

For Hollis and Brookline students grades K - 6
Held at Hollis-Brookline Middle School
Monday, November 13, 2023 from 5:45 to 7:30PM
(snow date of November 15th if needed)
- not a school sponsored event -

Former Hollis-Brookline Elementary science fair participant, Jason Bottino, who is now an 8th grader at the Academy for Science and Design, and his mom Marsha are leading the volunteer effort to run the 2023 Science Fair on behalf of the Hollis Elementary PTA.

We had over 60 participants and 200 attendees when the science fair returned in Fall 2022 after a 3-year hiatus. Thanks to the generous sponsors of the 2022 Science Fair, we were able to cover all event expenses and provide $2,000 worth of new hands-on science and math learning supplies to Hollis Primary School and Hollis Upper Elementary School!

THEME: For the Fall 2023 Science Fair, students are invited to make a project exploring reactions!

Sponsorships Opportunities: To help the Hollis Elementary PTA raise funds to support enrichment at our elementary schools we have created sponsorship opportunities for businesses and families. $1,000 sponsors can have a display at the Science Fair to showcase their STEM products and/or provide hands-on chain reaction experiments for kids to try in addition to recognition on event materials if they wish.

Return your sponsorship form and direct questions to Jason and Marsha at: Marsha.Bottino@gmail.com
