What is DCP?

The Deferred Compensation Program (DCP) is a special type of savings program that helps you invest for the retirement lifestyle you want to achieve — a lifestyle that might be hard to reach with just your pension and Social Security. Unlike traditional savings accounts, DCP is tax-deferred — it lowers your taxable income while you are working and it delays payments of income tax on your investments until you withdraw your funds. DCP is a great way to save. Enroll today!

The Washington State Department of Retirement Systems (DRS) administers DCP.

Save with DCP

Easy

Contributions are automatically deducted from your paycheck, so saving is easy. Start with as little as $30 per month. You can also let your contributions grow with percentage deductions.

Flexible

Online or by phone, you can change your contribution amount and investment selections at any time. Your changes can take up to 30 days to go into effect (depending on your employer's payroll cycle).

Smart

DCP offers a variety of professionally managed investment options, including “one-step” funds that automatically rebalance the asset mix as you move toward your target date for retirement. Funds are selected by the Washington State Investment Board, with fees among the lowest in the marketplace.

Grow your savings

If you save $75 per month with DCP, this is how your savings may grow over time. This table assumes a 6% rate of return. Your actual rate of return may be more or less depending on actual fund performance.

Calculate potential savings with the DCP savings calculator in the education section on the DRS website.

Why join DCP?

It's simple.

We want you to have the income you'll need to enjoy the lifestyle you've envisioned for your retirement.

A common retirement strategy is to replace 80% of your pre-retirement income – and it should last throughout your retirement years. (Meanwhile, people are living longer than ever and costs keep rising, especially for health care).

Your DRS retirement plan and Social Security could be a big part of your retirement income, and you may have other sources as well. Even so, they might not be enough to reach that 80% target. That's where DCP comes in. DCP is a special type of savings plan designed to help public employees narrow the gap between income received while working and income received in retirement. Also known as a "457 (b)" plan (from IRS code), DCP provides a way to supplement the usual sources of retirement income.

With DCP, you simply choose how much you'd like to deduct from your paycheck and where you want your money invested. (For more on investing see Page 4.)

DCP has distinct tax advantages over traditional savings accounts. Because your contributions are deducted before taxes are withheld, your taxable income is lower. What's more, you don't pay income tax on your investments until you withdraw your funds (when you leave employment, usually at retirement), when you may be in a lower tax bracket.

DCP savings can be used in a number of ways to supplement your retirement. Many pension plans allow you to purchase additional service credit when you retire, which increases the amount of your lifetime benefit. DCP can be a great way to cover the cost. Likewise, some customers convert their DCP investments to a guaranteed income stream by purchasing an annuity.

DCP can be an essential ingredient in creating the kind of retirement you want. Enroll today!

Are you on track?

A good retirement strategy normally has three elements:

1. Employer-sponsored pension or retirement plan
2. Social Security
3. Personal savings or assets

The guaranteed benefit you receive through your DRS-administered retirement plan will depend on how long you work and how much you earn. In most cases, it will be less than your pre-retirement salary. If you're eligible for Social Security, keep in mind that the minimum age to receive full benefits has gone up and may continue to increase in the future.

Will your pension and Social Security be enough to meet your goals for retirement income? Several online tools can help you with projections, including DRS calculators (drs.wa.gov/education) and the Social Security benefit estimator (socialsecurity.gov/estimator).

If you're not on track to meet your goal for retirement income, DCP can help. Start building that third leg of your retirement strategy by saving with DCP.

Contributions

Your DCP contributions are deferred from your gross income before taxes are calculated. The contribution amount you choose is for the month. If you receive more than one paycheck each month, your contributions will be divided equally. Contribute using whole dollar amounts or percentages.

DCP contribution limits can change annually. Here are the amounts for 2019:

- Minimum: $30 per month (or 1%)
- Want to save more? Great! The maximum amount you can contribute to DCP is $19,000 per year ($1,583 monthly).

Change your contribution amount anytime by logging in through drs.wa.gov/oaa or calling 888-327-5596. You can also suspend your DCP savings by setting your contribution amount to zero. Your changes can take up to 30 days to go into effect (depending on your employer's payroll cycle). Your account will remain open so you can resume contributing anytime.

Are you 50 or older?

Age 50-plus catch-up provision: Can be used the year you turn 50 or older; you may contribute an additional $6,000 beyond the annual limit

Three-year catch-up provision: May allow you to contribute up to twice the maximum ($38,000) during the three years before your normal retirement age

Contact DRS to find out more about these options.

Automatic enrollment

It pays to start saving early in your career. Washington state agencies, higher education employers and some local governments participate in automatic enrollment. New employees start contributing 3% through DCP. If you were automatically enrolled, you will receive a letter in the mail letting you know about your options. Find out more at drs.wa.gov/dcp/auto.

Rollovers into DCP

You may roll over certain distributions into DCP from an Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA) or from a former employer's retirement plan. Contact your IRA custodian or former employer to determine how rollovers are handled, then complete the Rollover In Request form available at drs.wa.gov/dcp. Funds received will be invested according to your current investment allocation.

Change your DCP contribution amount by logging in through drs.wa.gov/oaa or calling 888-327-5596.

Investments

DCP offers you two different approaches to investing:
One-Step Investing and the Build and Monitor approach.

One-step investing

Investments adjusted for you

In this approach your investments are automatically adjusted for you. The One-Step Investing approach is made up of 12 Retirement Strategy Funds, also called target date or age-based funds. Each one is diversified and automatically rebalances, adjusting your asset mix as you move toward a target date for retirement that meets your needs and lifestyle. To select the Retirement Strategy Fund that's right for you, take the year you were born and add it to the age you expect to retire or withdraw your funds. The sum is your target date.

How it works: 1968 (birth year) + 65 (retirement age) = 2033 (target date)

Pick the fund with the date closest to your target date. In the previous example, 2035 would be the Retirement Strategy Fund.

Retirement Strategy Funds

2005	2025	2045
2010	2030	2050
2015	2035	2055
2020	2040	2060

Maturity Strategy

The Maturity Strategy Fund is for investors who have been retired for 15 years or more.

Build and monitor

Select and adjust your investments

In this approach you select, monitor and adjust your investments. With build and monitor, you select your own mix of individual funds and decide how much to invest in each one. Choose from a menu of professionally managed funds listed in the chart below. The risk and return profiles of the funds range from conservative to more aggressive. You are responsible for monitoring your investments and making changes as you see fit for your circumstances.

Build and monitor funds

Investments

Costs

Because DRS only recovers the cost of administering DCP, we keep the fees low. As of Sept. 2017, the annual administrative cost is 0.1283%. This cost covers recordkeeping, communications, customer service and the Washington State Investment Board expenses. Administrative costs are posted to customer accounts quarterly. Management costs and other expenses vary with each investment option and are deducted from each fund's earnings. The investment section on the DCP website has more information about costs.

Administration

The Department of Retirement Systems (DRS) administers the Deferred Compensation Program (DCP). The Washington State Investment Board (WSIB) selects and monitors DCP's investment options.

Ownership

Your contributions (tax-deferred compensation) and their earnings, which are always owned by you, are held in a trust by the WSIB until you take a qualifying distribution. The trust is established for the exclusive benefit of all DCP customers and eligible beneficiaries.

Managing your account

Make changes to your account through drs.wa.gov/oaa or call 888-327-5596.

Quick changes you can make:

- Access your current account balance
- Transfer account balances between investment options
- Change your contribution amount
- Change your investment elections
- See investment options and including up-to-date fund performance

Quarterly Updates

Each quarter you will receive an investment performance report and newsletter—these come in January, April, July and October. You choose whether you want to receive these by mail or email.

DCP and taxes

Your contributions are deducted before tax, which keeps more of your dollars working for you. With DCP, your contributions are only taxed when you withdraw them, and you only pay federal income tax. If you decide to withdraw your savings before you reach retirement age, there are no additional tax penalties.

DCP can lower your taxes in two ways:

1. Now: Saving through DCP lowers your overall taxable income, which could potentially put you in a lower federal income tax bracket.
2. Later: Withdrawing your DCP funds after you retire can also present tax savings if you are in a lower tax bracket once you leave employment.

Advantages of tax-deferred savings

Saving $100 per month with 6% rate of return

This example shows how money invested in DCP accumulates faster than money in a taxable savings plan. Contributions to a taxable savings account are $75 ($100 less tax of $25) assuming a 25% tax bracket.

Tax credit

You may be eligible for a federal tax credit of up to 50% of the first $2,000 you invest in DCP. If you claim this credit on your tax return, you can still deduct your contributions to qualified retirement savings plans as allowed under current law. The credit is available if your adjusted gross income does not exceed the following 2019 limits:

- Single or Married Filing Separately: $32,000
- Head of Household: $48,000
- Married (filing jointly): $64,000

DCP has no tax penalty for early withdrawals.

Do you pay taxes on DCP withdrawals?

Yes. Because your DCP contributions are pretax, you will pay federal income taxes on the payments when you withdraw them. If you choose a lump sum or partial lump sum to be paid directly to you, or receive payments over a period of less than 10 years, 20% of your distribution will be withheld for federal income taxes. If you choose an installment period of 10 years or more, your payments are considered ordinary income in the year they are issued.

For specific tax information, consult your tax advisor.

Withdrawals

Withdrawing money from DCP

When you leave DCP-covered employment, you are eligible to receive payment from your DCP account. Payments are issued to you, or in the event of your death, to your beneficiary. DCP payments will not affect your other retirement or Social Security payments.

Can I leave my money in DCP?

Yes, you can keep your DCP account. Keeping your money in DCP may provide you with tax savings and better retirement opportunities. Balances in DCP accounts continue to receive any investment performance earnings.

How do I request a withdrawal?

When you are ready to begin receiving payments, complete and return the Separation from Employment Withdrawal request form.

What are my payment options?

Payment options include whole or partial lump sum, periodic payment amounts and an annuity purchase. All distributions, with the exception of a rollover to another eligible retirement plan or a traditional IRA, are treated as income in the year you receive them and are subject to federal income taxes.

For more information about your withdrawal options, visit the withdrawal forms section of the DCP website.

How do I join?

Complete the enrollment form

This Quick Enrollment form automatically places you in the one-step investment fund that assumes you retire at age 65. If you prefer to select different investments now, or if you have employer contribution information, see the extended DCP Enrollment Form available online.

The first contribution from your paycheck will occur 30 to 60 days from the time you enroll. Your earnings statement will show your contributed amount. You can also view your DCP contributions online through drs.wa.gov/aaa.

Your beneficiaries

In the event of your death, your beneficiaries will receive payment. Keeping your beneficiary information updated is important. Your DCP beneficiaries must be declared separate from any beneficiaries you may have selected for another plan or program, like a pension. You can name anyone as your beneficiary: spouse, child, domestic partner, friend, neighbor, etc. You can also designate a charity or trust. If you die without a current beneficiary designation on file, a distribution will be made to your estate.

Once you are enrolled in DCP, update your beneficiaries online through drs.wa.gov/aaa. Or complete the paper form (Beneficiary Designation) and mail it to DRS. See the Forms section of the DRS website.

DCP Quick Enrollment

Memo of Understanding

This memo highlights certain provisions of the Deferred Compensation Program (DCP). For specific details, refer to the DCP Enrollment Guide, DCP website at drs.wa.gov/dcp and the WAC regulations mentioned below.

Contributions

The amount I choose to contribute will be withheld from my monthly salary.

It is my responsibility to ensure my contributions don't exceed the allowable amount specified in IRC 457. If they do, my employer will refund the overage to me as taxable earnings. However, I might qualify for catch-up options mentioned in the DCP Enrollment Guide.

My contributions cannot begin sooner than the month following this form's approval (WAC 415-501-410).

Investments

My contributions will be held in trust by the Washington State Investment Board for the exclusive benefit of participants and their beneficiaries until paid to me under the rules of the program (WAC 415-501-580).

I have elected to have my contributions invested as indicated on this form. Earnings, if any, will be applied to the target date fund based on my age (WAC 415-501-475).

I may change or stop the amount I contribute and may change my investment(s) by using the DCP website or calling 888-327-5596.

Withdrawals

I can access my funds upon separation from employment. Refer to WAC 415-501-485 for distribution details and for exceptions that allow access to funds before separation.

I may choose the date and method of distribution of my accumulated contributions according to those methods approved by the Department of Retirement Systems (DRS) (WAC 415-501-485).

In the event of my death, any unpaid benefits will be paid to my designated beneficiaries (WAC 415-501-486).

Administration

DCP is configured as an IRS 457(b) plan. DRS retains administrative control over the program, and the Legislature retains the right to terminate the program (WAC 415-501-530 and WAC 415-501-540).

My employer, DRS, the record keeper and the Washington State Investment Board are not liable for the performance of investments.

I may not assign or transfer my rights in the program (WAC 415-501-570).

I will receive an enrollment confirmation notice, indicating acceptance into the program.

 DCP Beneficiary Designation To add or edit your beneficiaries once you are enrolled in DCP, log in to DRS at drs.wa.gov/oaa and select "My Account." The beneficiary designation for DCP is different from your pension beneficiary designation. You can also download a paper form from the DRS website if you are unable to access an online account.

Your Social Security number is needed so DRS can report to the IRS any funds paid to you. DRS will not disclose your Social Security number unless required to do so by law. See IRC sections 6041(a) and 6109.
