 - Applicants will be ranked from highest percentage Student Profile score to lowest percentage Student Profile score within each school.
 - The system will calculate the number of seats available from each grade for each home school zone within the Tuscaloosa City Schools by multiplying the current grade enrollment by .07. The system will select students with the highest score from each school until the number of seats allocated for each school has been filled. The number of applicants invited from private and home schools will not exceed 7% of enrollment from the largest elementary school within the Tuscaloosa City Schools. Available spots will be filled in the following order:
 - Applicants currently enrolled in the Tuscaloosa City Schools home schools will not exceed 7% of enrollment from the largest elementary school within the Tuscaloosa City Schools.

- If seats remain in the 1st grade, the system will go to the school with the lowest percentage representation and place the highest scoring students. This will continue until all schools are represented at 7% or a school is out of eligible students, based on the number of applications received from each school.
 - If seats still remain in the 1st grade and eligible students still remain on the list, the system will place the highest scoring students until all seats are taken or all eligible students are placed whichever occurs first.

 - If seats still remain in any grade and eligible students still remain on the list after all schools are at 7% or all eligible students from those below 7% are placed, the system will place the highest scoring students until all seats are taken or all eligible students are placed whichever occurs first, based on the number of applications received from each school.
