The evaluation process will require the probationary educator to develop a set of goals and objectives in the fall of each school year. The probationary teacher will be observed at least four times before their summative evaluation, of which at least two will be formal. The evaluator will prioritize the appropriate prioritized probationary standards for observation, artifact review and feedback purposes. Prior to all formal observations, the teacher will provide the evaluator with an overview of the lesson, which includes learning targets and a lesson plan. Not everything will be observable in the classroom observation. Therefore, the teacher may provide and the evaluator may request artifacts related to the priority standards to fill in the gaps for the evaluator.

The evaluator uses the four observations, professional goals, conferences, and artifacts to complete the probationary teacher evaluation. This evaluation is completed and reviewed with the teacher prior to the contract renewal decision timeline. This date falls in mid-February to early March.

Probationary Year One (minimum standard):

- If the teacher is not demonstrating consistent performance at the level of Proficient in professional growth (as measured by indicator 4e) and the Basic level in all remaining indicators, the evaluator may recommend non-renewal.

Probationary Year Two (minimum standard):

- If the teacher is not demonstrating consistent performance at least at the Proficient level in cluster one and Basic in all other indicators, the evaluator may recommend non-renewal.

Probationary Year Three (minimum standard):

- If the teacher is not demonstrating consistent performance at least at the Proficient level in clusters one and two and Basic in all other indicators, the evaluator may recommend non-renewal.
