

ELA Multiple Choice Test Preparation 2024 for Grades 3-6: How Can We Better Help Our Students Succeed? Presented by Deborah Linscott-Feinstein

Brain-friendly strategies for organizing and implementing an ELA testing unit will be shared. These include the use of mentor released-test passages in fiction, narrative nonfiction, and expository nonfiction to use as jumping boards for other activities. New ways to organize existing test practice materials will benefit students. Most of the day will be focused on multiple choice for reading practice, and short answer formats will be explored in the afternoon. This day will give teachers the time to think through new ways to differentiate materials and organize existing test practice materials that will help students succeed.
