Superintendent's Message

Let our light shine!

We are so privileged to work and live in Pearland. As Texans, we love our state and are rightfully proud of all it stands for. Furthermore, various publications have listed Pearland as among the top cities in all of Texas as measured by low crime, affordable housing, location and good schools. (See http://nerd.me/1dKvjJL or http://bit.ly/1lHxllj.)

So in 2015, we start from a high place. People move here because of our community and our schools. Teachers flock to us from surrounding communities, giving us the opportunity to hire and retain the best.

Houston was recently declared the most diverse major city in the U.S. Pearland is even more diverse. We are the changing face of America -- and growing by leaps and bounds. More than 100,000 people call Pearland home, and more are on the way.

We cannot take for granted the blessings bestowed on us here, nor should we cease from striving to better educate and firmly establish the youth of our community. We can be a "shining city on a hill."

Yes, it's true our students achieved unprecedented success as measured by various academic, fine arts and athletic metrics in 2014-15. Here and far away, people are paying attention. Let's build on that foundation. As educators, we know achievements are directly proportional to the efforts of diligent parents and community members who encourage and expect sustained effort, rigor and self-discipline from our children. That "grit" is increasingly rare in modern America, where personal responsibility is neglected and instant gratification demanded.

I pray for God's continued blessings here in Pearland. United in faith and action, we can create a better life for more than 20,000 children. What an honor!

In the Spotlight

Teacher of the Year winners were Tammy Norman (Rogers Middle School) and Melissa Ward (Dawson High School).

Jennifer Nguyen (Silverlake Elementary) and Rebecca Rolater (Berry Miller Junior High) won the Glenda Dawson First-Year Teacher Award.

Gant, Murphy take oath of office

Sean Murphy (far right) takes the oath of office for the board of trustees May 19. Murphy has served on the Pearland ISD Education Foundation Board of Directors since 2013. Veteran trustee Virgil Gant (middle) was re-elected for his sixth non-consecutive term.

"In Pearland, we play to win" Berger wins statewide H-E-B principal award

When H-E-B announced its Excellence in Education secondary principal award winner, Pearland High School's Larry Berger was the last man standing.

Berger's state award marks the first-ever H-E-B Excellence in Education Award for Pearland ISD.

As the winner, he receives a personal award of $10,000 plus an additional $25,000 for his campus.

Although not a fan of the spotlight, Berger has also won Pearland ISD's Secondary Principal of the Year Award twice for his outstanding leadership, character and commitment.

Berger has served as PHS's principal since 2009, leading with the motto "do what's right and do it all the time."

He sets the example for students and staff, considering no task beneath him -- including mopping floors or moving desks before the first day of the new school year.

After accepting the statewide H-E-B award, Berger -- in typical Berger fashion -- directed the attention back to his students and staff.

"I'm not deserving, but my school is. I feel like I'm representing Oiler Nation and Oiler pride, and I couldn't be more excited," he said.

Then he smiled and added, "In Pearland, we play to win."

District focuses on social media safety

When it comes to social media safety, Pearland ISD plans for the momentum to continue.

Thanks to the success of the "Social Media . . . THINK" initiative launched this spring, the district is planning more social media parent nights for 2015-16 -- addressing issues such as getting ready for college using social media.

Through direction from the board of trustees, Pearland ISD launched the social media safety initiative this spring to encourage students to examine their social media use and parents to have candid conversations about social media with their kids.

The initiative includes an Internet safety page on the district website, classroom lessons, educational booklets sent home with students, a campaign on the district's Facebook and Twitter pages and the first of many Social Media Parent Night events.

Social Media Parent Nights

Mark your calendar for these upcoming parents nights for 2015-16*:

- Tuesday, Oct. 6
- Tuesday, Nov. 17
- Thursday, Jan. 14
- Thursday, April 21

*Check the district website and Facebook/Twitter for updates about topics to be covered.

Since social media misuse impacts students worldwide, the district wants to be proactive in helping students make wise choices with technology now to support their future dreams.

Tweets to Students:

What digital footprint are you leaving with your profile image/language? Your online reputation stays with you forever.

With cyberbullies, remember 3 things: 1. Ignore mean/threatening messages. 2. Block the sender. 3. Tell a trusted adult for help reporting.

Familiar Faces

Pearland ISD administrators are moving up to new positions this fall. The district is pleased to announce these new appointments:

After-school achievement

Sablatura wins CASE Site of the Year

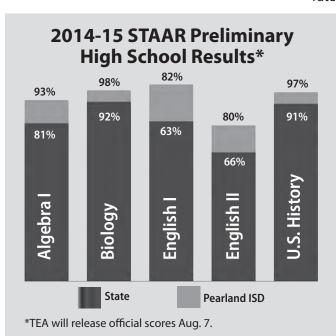

During the CASE for Kids end-of-year celebration in May, Sablatura Middle School was named the Outstanding Site of the Year for its 21st-Century Community Learning Center. Since 2011, Sablatura has offered this afterschool program thanks to a grant through the Harris County Department of Education/Cooperative for After-School Enrichment.

STAAR

Campuses continue trend of above-average STAAR scores

Based on preliminary test scores once again above state average, Pearland ISD looks forward to the release of official Texas Education Agency district and campus accountability ratings on Aug. 7.

Unofficial State of Texas Assessments of Academic Readiness (STAAR) scores show Pearland ISD students scoring 6-19 percent higher than their peers statewide -- from elementary grades through high school.

While state passing rates dipped as low as 63 percent, Pearland ISD held strong with passing rates between 80-98 percent.

STAAR math results for grades 3-8 are not available yet. Because of new state math curriculum, passing standards are still being set for revised math tests in these grades.

Although parents received information about how many questions their child answered correctly on the math test, they will receive an updated report this fall telling whether their child passed the test as well as how he or she did on each group of math skills.

Campus News

Serving with a smile

It's not just about learning facts and figures. It's also about learning to be good citizens. Students showed their heart to help others during numerous service opportunities this spring.

Tennis shoe tenacity

During their annual spring fundraiser walk, Silvercrest Elementary students walked approximately 70 laps outside the school to raise more than $18,200 for the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation.

Service fair

As part of the district's Grit Initiative, Rogers Middle School students created service projects to benefit people, pets or the environment. Michael Hesse (pictured) helped raise money to supply bed nets to prevent malaria in African countries.

Disaster relief

Pearland Junior High West's Eric Li was named one of only 10 national honorees for the Prudential Spirit of Community Awards. Li has spearheaded efforts to help victims of earthquakes and other natural disasters. With his sisters, he founded the nonprofit organization We Care Act, which has collected nearly $200,000 to help children worldwide.

Career, technical education students don't horse around with success

CTE students stood out this spring with a head start on their future and career-ready skills in everything from finance to veterinary science to technology.

Dual Degrees

In an Alvin Community College honors ceremony this spring, 33 Turner College and Career High School students received their dual degrees -- earning their associate's degree before accepting their high school diplomas.

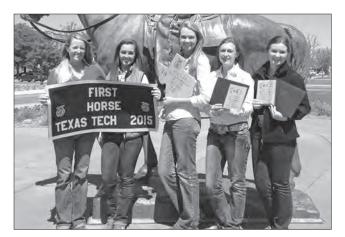

TCCHS has merged the concept of early college credit at a 90 percent savings and career and technical programs where students earn certification and industry exposure through internships and practicums.

Horse Judging Champions

A TCCHS team claimed the Pearland FFA's first-ever state title this April.

Competing against 72 other teams, Rachel Golla, Jessica Harper, Andrea Skweres and Evann Wehman claimed the State Horse Judging Career Development Event championship.

The teammates had to evaluate four horses in eight classes, ranking them on criteria such as overall appearance, breed characteristics and athletic ability, in addition to answering questions from the judges.

DHS's Karun Salvady and Pearland High School's Travis Wiggins and Haley Williams also competed at the international conference, which drew more than 17,000 students this year.

In addition, PHS student Kassidy Simmons attended AT&T's Aspire Leadership Training Academy. DECA coaches included Jill Hoff, Ron Meekes and Andrea Gobert.

Auto Achievement

PHS's Deion Harrison showed off his auto expertise to place first in power equipment technology at the state SkillsUSA competition and advance to the national meet this summer.

His teachers were John Larson and Steve Hall.

Dawson and Pearland high school students competed at the DECA international conference.

TSA Competition

Two TCCHS students won top spots at the Technology Student Association state conference this April.

Competing in 13 events, TCCHS students ranked among the highest competitors in eight contests.

State winners included Andrea Garza Elizondo and Dexter Spenik. Their first-place entries ranged from a computer-manipulated scanned image and safety poster to a model of a mechanical device/system and original student 3D design.

These honorees include Berry Miller Junior High's Richard Hong, Daniel Ling and Ethan Martin and Pearland Junior High West's Charlotte Harrington, Siddharth Krishnakumar and Jessica Williams.

Duke TIP-identified seventh-graders often enroll in advanced or honors courses, pursue independent study, advance to the next grade level in strong subject areas or participate in accelerated or summer enrichment programs.

The program provides students with a comparative results summary to help interpret their scores, as well as college admission resources and publications about advanced academic opportunities.

Krishnakumar creates buzz at Scripps Bee

For the first time ever, Pearland ISD boasted a finalist in the Scripps National Spelling Bee, which drew 285 contestants this year and was televised live on ESPN.

After blazing through preliminary and semifinal rounds, Pearland Junior High West's Siddharth Krishnakumar boasted one of the highest scores going into the finalist round, thanks to his vocabulary test scores and perfect spelling record.

As one of 10 spellers in the finalist round, Krishnakumar correctly spelled "Albumblatt" and "réclame" to tie for fourth place nationally.

Since he still qualifies to compete next year, he plans to make another beeline for Scripps in 2016.

PHS Academic Decathlon teammates examine their national scores.

PHS Academic Decathlon ranks No. 2 in nation

This spring, the Pearland High School Academic Decathlon team claimed its biggest victory yet: No. 2 in the nation.

Although a charter public school claimed the championship, the frequent PHS national contender ranked No. 1 nationwide among all open-enrollment public schools.

In addition, decathlete Zachary Watson set a state record with 8,755 points -- the highest score for any varsity-level student in Texas Academic Decathlon history.

Other teammates included Ethan Arnold, Jimmy Thai and SaraBeth Matthews in the honors division; Micah Gautney, Garret Mattila and Samuel Holmes in the scholastic division; and Dakota Dock and Savannah Segura in the varsity division.

"We are extremely proud of the effort these students exhibited over the past nine months to achieve such a high level of success. Nine students came together as a team and accomplished the goals they had established last May -- it's very rewarding for all of us when we see that happen."

-- Robert Layne, head coach

Coaching the team were Robert Layne, Corey Cogswell and Scott Crossno.

Students put artistic talent on display

Competitions and exhibits in music, drama, art gave Pearland ISD students a chance to showcase their talents this spring.

Encore, Encore

After winning the state championship in 2014, Dawson High School's one-act play team got its encore this May.

With its performance of "The White Snake," the troupe advanced to state once again, placing second in the University Interscholastic League 6A One-Act Play State Meet.

In addition, the team received several individual awards, including "Best Actress" for Anh-Mai Kearney and "Honorable Mention All-Star Cast" for Alyah Scott and the DHS ensemble.

The one-act play team was directed by Tim Unroe and Aaron Brown.

Emerging Artists

With only three top awards available in the Bayou City Art Festival Emerging Artist Program, Pearland High School students managed to nab all three.

Audra Anderson, Karen Ambriz and Allison White won first, second and third places, respectively, in this annual outdoor exhibit that allows students to experience the professional art world

Under the direction of PHS art teacher Ben Stiles, students created large three-dimensional public art for exhibit at the festival's Student Art Park.

Color Guard

Also this spring, the PHS Color Guard set a new standard of excellence for itself while making school and program history.

Directed by Christopher Smith and Leslie Pool, all three of the school's competing color guards medaled in the Texas Color Guard Circuit's state championship.

Awards included novice state champion, Scholastic A silver medalist and Region A bronze medalist.

Madrigal and Chamber Choir Festival

In March, the PHS Kantorei Choir won first place in the Madrigal and Chamber Choir Festival in San Antonio.

This year, 42 of the best Texas choirs of no more than 24 singers competed.

The PHS choir is directed by Derrick Bready.

Scholastic Art

DHS artist Yixin He won a national gold medal in the Scholastic Art & Writing Awards 2015.

Judged by a panel of creative professionals, her painting "Swallow Your Bitterness" numbered among the top 1 percent of 300,000 art and writing pieces submitted for this year's nationwide competition.

Her art teacher is DHS's Teri Zuteck.

Founders' Campaign surpasses goal

Thanks to a generous community wanting to invest in students, the Pearland ISD Education

Foundation far exceeded its Founders' Campaign goal of $150,000.

By the Feb. 28 deadline, the foundation had raised $206,000 in founding contributions.

The foundation thanks the many individuals, organizations and businesses that contributed to the campaign and have supported the foundation from the beginning.

Because of the generous support, the foundation awarded triple the number of innovative teaching grants this spring as it did last year.

The Innovative Teaching Grants Program benefits hundreds of Pearland ISD students and teachers by funding creative learning opportunities outside campus/district budgets.
