

TEXTBOOK AND INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS ADOPTION AND MANAGEMENT

The selection and provision of textbooks and other instructional materials shall be consistent with the Lyon County School District educational philosophy statement, as well as state law and regulation.

The District shall provide textbooks and/or instructional materials in a manner that is consistent with the financial resources of the District, and is of sufficient quality and quantity to offer every student a reasonable opportunity to acquire the skills and knowledge defined for each subject taught.

Textbooks selected for use in the District must present a balanced point of view, and must contain current, accurate, and factual information, and shall be aligned as closely as possible to the Nevada Academic Standards.

The District shall ensure proper maintenance and inventory control of textbooks, disposal of items deemed outdated, obsolete and/or beyond economical repair, and shall ensure the allocation of resources among the schools for the acquisition of textbooks and instructional materials is fair, equitable, and consistent.

No textbook may be used as the primary source material for a subject or course unless approved by the State Board of Education and the Lyon County School Board.
