Directed Study

Directed Study is concentrated assistance from academic support staff for students who are having difficulty in one or more classes and are identified and placed by guidance counselors.

Resource Program (7-8)

Prep's Resource Program addresses the academic needs of students who have documented learning differences identified through psycho-educational testing. This is a class built into the students' daily schedule. The program is staffed by two learning specialists.

Service Plan

Upper School (9-12)

Directed Study

Directed Study is concentrated assistance through the Learning Center for students who are having difficulty in one or more classes and are identified and placed by guidance counselors.

Learning Center

Prep's Learning Center will provide academic and organizational help during the course of the school day for students. It will also provide space for students to work with an outside tutor. The Learning Center will be staffed by a director, Prep teachers, and student tutors.
