From the Gale – Bailey MEDIA CENTER

From the Teacher

Taking care of school library books is very important. Please review these book care rules with your students.

1. No eating or drinking around library books.
2. Always keep your library book inside your backpack unless you are actively reading it.
3. Keep your book away from animals and toddlers.
4. Do not draw or write in your library books.
5. Return books on time to the library.

Thank you,
Mrs. Covert

WHAT'S NEW?

It is my favorite time of year in the library. It is CHARACTER PUMPKIN PROJECT time. During the month of October the library asks that you decorate a fake pumpkin as a story book character (Pete the Cat, Clifford, etc.). Once it is decorated, you return it to the library for it to be displayed all month long. The students love looking at all the pumpkins. Be on the look out for the pumpkin project directions!

How can you help?

I am working diligently to update our collection with high interest books and series. If your child has outgrown some of their books, our library would be honored to accept the donation and add them to our shelves. If the book is something that we have duplicates of or doesn't fit the needs of our current collection, it will be placed in the "Little Blue Library" which provides free books for kids.

Tips to help cultivate a love of reading

1. Let your child hold the book and turn the pages.
2. Take them to the public library to choose their own books.
3. Encourage your child to read to you or explain what they see in the photographs if they are unable to read yet.
