High Performance Learning

www.highperformancelearning.co.uk | getintouch@highperformancelearning.co.uk

High Performance Learning (HPL) is a mission-driven organisation, working with schools and teachers to change the face of education and deliver student high performance. HPL is a global movement for change, for any school, age, subject, curriculum, or country. We work with school leaders to transform the way their school works and with teachers to develop HPL approaches in the classroom, moving beyond the 'bell curve' and accepting that everyone is a potential high performer and aiming for less is no longer acceptable. HPL provides a flexible teaching and learning framework for systematically building the cognitive competencies that lead to academic and lifetime success. Each school is a unique context and so schools must customise the HPL framework and implement its' principles and philosophy of HPL throughout; to drive the work of the school and brings coherence to the modern culture of targets, initiatives and programmes. HPL is a proven, research-based, pedagogy-led approach, which relies on teachers and their professional capital to help self-improving schools make the gear change to become world class. Its impact on the school is dramatic and sustained.

International Curriculum Association

At the International Curriculum Association, our passion is improving learning through our International Early Years Curriculum (IEYC), International Primary Curriculum (IPC) and International Middle Years Curriculum (IMYC).

Our curriculums are shaped around the unique developmental needs of each age group with the aim to strengthen children's moral, social and cultural development. More than simply a set of resources, the curriculums are a philosophy, pedagogy and process that help schools deliver a broad, rigorous, and impactful learning experience.

They are designed to be flexible and adaptable and meet the needs and requirements of the EYFS and English National Curriculum.
