Meet Hen Hud's Two at the Top

For both Hendrick Hudson High School Valedictorian Kennan Ewing and Salutatorian Daniel Kaufman, the key to their successful high school careers traces back directly to the school's faculty and the wide array of courses available to students.

"The high school's AP and honors teachers have such great personalities and are so motivating," said Kennan. "Additionally, the number and variety of classes available are among the great things about Hendrick Hudson High School."

"The variety of classes and the freedom to pursue what you are interested in really helps set the high school apart," said Daniel, adding that this has helped make his four years here particularly successful.

Kennan's time at Hendrick Hudson High School has been characterized by both academic excellence and outstanding achievements in sports and music. Graduating as an AP Scholar with Distinction and a National Merit Commended Scholar, Kennan has served as President of the National Honor Society and Math Honor Society, as well as Vice President of the Spanish Honor Society. He earned the Yale Book Award, the Parents Club of West Point Dwight D. Eisenhower Leadership Award and the Malcolm Bump Memorial Award.

A tennis standout, Kennan has been a member of the Varsity Tennis team since 7th grade, graduating as Captain and planning to continue at the club or intramural level while at college. This past April, he was recognized as a Con Edison Athlete of the Week for his accomplishments on the tennis team.

An accomplished musician, he has studied the cello since the third grade, and has been a part of the Greater Westchester Youth Orchestra Association, Area All-State Orchestra and All-County Orchestra, as well as serving as principal cellist in the district's orchestras since 6th grade.

This fall, Kennan will be following in his father's footsteps, attending Princeton University, where he said he is very much looking forward to new experiences and meeting new people.

Daniel's four years at Hendrick Hudson High School have been filled with academic accomplishments as well as deeply meaningful experiences outside of school. In addition to being an AP Honor Scholar and receiving the Rensselaer Medal Award, Daniel has been a member of the National Honor Society, Math Honor Society and Spanish Honor Society.

Throughout all four of his years at Hendrick Hudson High School, Daniel has made time for community service and athletics.

He has been a longtime volunteer with the Leo's Club, helping the service-oriented organization with activities such as Midnight Runs, visits to the Andrus Children's Home, and community events such as the annual Easter Egg Hunt and Relay for Life. He also traveled to Guatemala for three weeks between his junior and senior year to help teach English at a local school.

Additionally, Daniel has been a member of both the basketball and soccer teams, playing on the JV and Varsity soccer team, as well as the Freshman basketball team.

Daniel will be heading to Binghamton University in the fall, where he will be part of the University's Scholars Program.

HHHS and BMMS Pave the Way for Smooth Transitions

Change can be hard, but at Hendrick Hudson High School and Blue Mountain Middle School, a new program is easing the way for incoming students, helping reduce the stress that is sometimes associated with “moving up” and changing schools.

Having access to useful and accurate information about moving up to high school goes far toward calming nerves among eighth grade students and their parents. That was the goal of an informal meeting hosted earlier this year by the middle and high school PTA/PTSAs: “Introduction to Hendrick Hudson High School – A Facilitated Discussion on Transitioning from BMMS to the HS.”

About 50 middle school parents and students showed up for the relaxed and interactive presentation covering topics such as high school courses, clubs and student life. Among the evening’s presenters were Hendrick Hudson High School Principal James Mackin, Blue Mountain Middle School Principal John Owens and Guidance Counselor Beth Gagne. The event aimed to make incoming students aware of opportunities at the high school, while clarifying some of the scheduling decisions they needed to think about prior to touring the high school and meeting with guidance counselors.

As Mr. Mackin discussed the variety of courses available at the high school, as well as the registration process and the realities of academic scheduling, members of the high school’s Peer Leaders were on hand to provide valuable student input. “There is great value anytime current students can share their experiences with incoming families,” said Mr. Mackin. “I am very proud of the young men and women that participated in this event. Their insight lent credibility to my presentation of the opportunities available at the high school.”

Blue Mountain Middle School Principal John Owens and Guidance Counselor Beth Gagne were also on hand to provide information to students and parents. “It was nice to arrange a night for both parents and students to attend together, and to have the opportunity to hear from both administrators and students about our high school,” said Ms. Gagne.

David Abraham, a parent of two middle school students, attended the event with both children and said he appreciated the early introduction to the high school. “The offerings are so much more extensive than we had when we were going to high school, so it was useful to get some tips on how to choose programs, as well as learn about what is available,” he said. “Having the high school students on hand to talk about their experiences was great as well.”

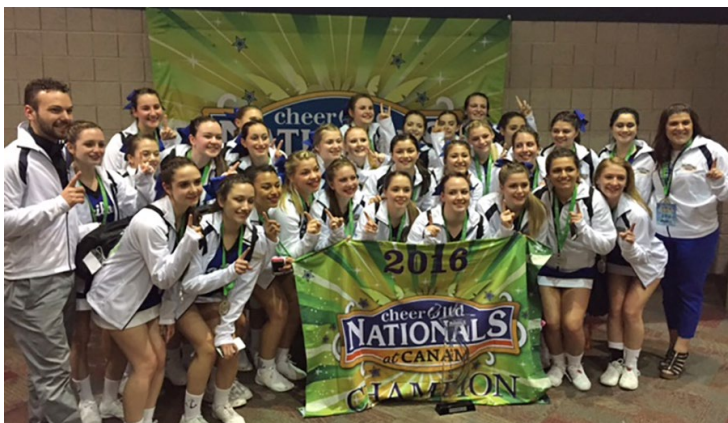

A similar program for incoming sixth grade students and parents was held at Blue Mountain Middle School on May 18, to introduce elementary school families to life at Blue Mountain. The program consisted of an informal Q & A session with a panel of current middle school parents and students, and offered incoming parents an opportunity to meet some of the school’s staff members, including Principal John Owens, Student Assistance Counselor Lisa Maria Albanese and 6th grade math teacher Donna Miller.

Hendrick Hudson High School - 2016 Commencement

The 2016 graduates, in alphabetical order, are:

On Sunday, June 26, 2016, the Hendrick Hudson High School Graduating Class of 2016 gathered at the Performing Arts Center of SUNY Purchase for their commencement ceremony. On hand were High School Principal James Mackin, Assistant Principals Laura Neier and Tina Wilson, District Superintendent Joseph Hochreiter, Executive Director of Curriculum and Instruction Dr. Margaret Ruller, Executive Director of Educational Support Services Dr. Mathew Swerdloff, members of the Hendrick Hudson Board of Education, Hendrick Hudson faculty and staff, and families and friends.

Following a welcome by Ms. Wilson and the Pledge of Allegiance, the National Anthem was sung by a trio of graduating seniors: Cassandra Cavaliere, Katherine Johnson and Lexi Steinman.

Mr. Mackin gave the opening address, followed by remarks by Member of the Class of 2016, Dvinder Singh. Salutatorian Daniel Kaufman then spoke to his classmates about the connections they've made over the years. "Take what you have experienced and keep it with you through college," he said "Don't lose touch with your best friend or your favorite teacher because it's easier to forget."

After a musical interlude, provided by the Senior Singers and accompanied by music teacher Erica Denler, Valedictorian Kennan Ewing stepped up to the podium to speak. "We're all Sailors, but from here on out, life is going to take us in a bunch of different directions," he said to his fellow classmates. "But through all of our journeys, there will be moments such as this that I hope you will take a second to really embrace...I want to congratulate you on this moment, and wish you the best in all of your moments to come."

Hendrick Hudson Alumni Notebook

Guy Van Benschoten, Class of 1970

When emergency crews in upstate New York rescued 17 salt miners trapped in an elevator about 800 feet below ground earlier this year, a Hen Hud graduate was among the critical first responders.

Van Benschoten credits his Hendrick Hudson High School experience (academics, athletics and friendships) with building a strong foundation for his chosen profession and even with helping him devise the critical rescue plan. “Lessons learned as a young Sailor about preparation, commitment to excellence and teamwork came into play to help make a successful resolution to this incident.”

Guy Van Benschoten, (Class of 1970), Ithaca Fire Department’s longest-serving member, helped devise a successful rescue plan, utilizing a crane to rescue the Cargill salt mine workers, who were trapped below ground for more than ten hours.

Retiring this year, after 41 years of service with the Ithaca Fire Department, Van Benschoten continues to reflect fondly on his years in the Hendrick Hudson School District. “Discipline, doing your best, striving for excellence and taking responsibility for your actions were all underpinnings of my academic and athletic experience at Hen Hud.”
