Social Skills- Expectation Review

We begin each year by reviewing schoolwide expectations in each part of the school. This helps both students and staff remember the rules of behavior, and use common language to talk about the expectations.

Classroom Matrix

While general expectations are schoolwide, students played a large role in creating behavior rules for their classrooms. Each class created a matrix of positive behaviors to agree to for students and staff in the room. Since they helped create the expectations, they are more likely to accept their importance and follow through with the positive actions.

Basic Expectations	Classroom Rules
	Morning & Dismissal Routine	Class-Wide	Small Group Work	Independent Seat Work	Whole Group/Carpet Time

Classroom Buddies

Each class has a buddy class. This is an opportunity for younger students to get to know some of the older students in our school and make new friends. They work on social skills lesson projects together once a month.

Bike Safety

Please talk to your student about safely riding their bikes while the weather is still nice. Biking tips include wearing a helmet and other gear, using the neighborhood sidewalks and bike lanes, and learning the hand signals. It is also important to walk your bike across streets, and be careful around cars parked on the streets because people do not always see bikes behind cars.

If your students ride their bikes to school, please remind them they need to walk their bikes, and scooters, on school grounds, including the sidewalk. There are lots of students and parents walking on the sidewalks and blacktop before and after school, so for safety, we ask students to walk their bikes when they are around the school.

Expectation Acknowledgement

Beep Bucks- Students earn beep bucks by following school expectations. Beep bucks are exchanged for money to purchase school store items such as raffle tickets, school supplies, and toys

Feathers- These are given when a whole class follows the Roosevelt Way by being respectful, responsible, and safe. The class with the most feathers for the week gets to have the Golden Roadrunner outside their door, along with a reward like an extra recess or a special event day.
