Nelsy's Advice

Hello! We are the Reyes family. We are a small family of meager earnings. Unfortunately, I was involved in an accident which has disabled me. While walking across the street, I was hit by a van. I have been unable to work for a month now.

Since God is the Supreme Architect of this Universe, I am hoping He touches the heart of the person who is reading this letter so that we may receive some assistance with the needs of my son during this unfortunate circumstance in our lives.

So that my son may have a happy Christmas, I don't feel that this is a coincidence that this letter has landed in your hands. God has directed it so!

But let me tell you, live everyday like as if it were the last day of your existence. Give God thanks everyday of your life, in bad times, and even during the storms. Give God thanks for all your blessings. This is why I am sharing with you this bad situation that I am going through. I am going to learn a good lesson from this so that if a friend or family member ever goes through what I'm going through now, I can give them wise advice.

I would tell them to tell their spouse and children how much they love them, to tell their parents that their advice is worth gold, to tell the ones who feel anger, hatred or hold grudges towards others to forgive them from the bottom of your heart and that you are to leave ALL things in God's hands. Remember that when you leave jealousy behind and you are at peace with yourself, God draws a smile on your face. Make peace with God.

My name is Nelsy and I am asking you from the bottom of my heart to help me with the needs of my son and myself. As for myself, I don't need a bed, I just need two pairs of socks, a pillow and a sweatshirt.

May God Bless all of you.
