

INTENT-

- By developing interest and enthusiasm for the subject, students will gain a secure, and detailed knowledge and understanding of events and developments in Tudor England.
- To reach substantiated judgements about the reigns of the Tudor monarchs, using the themes of power, religion, economy, foreign policy and society.
- Analyse extracts from historians to assess how convincing they are when studying an aspect of the course.

The bigger picture:
This learning builds on the foundations set in KS3, when Tudors are studied. Skills build on the interpretation skills developed in Y11 when studying Nazi Germany. The skills developed in this unit will also then be used as part of the NEA
