Expanded Learning Program – Participation Trends

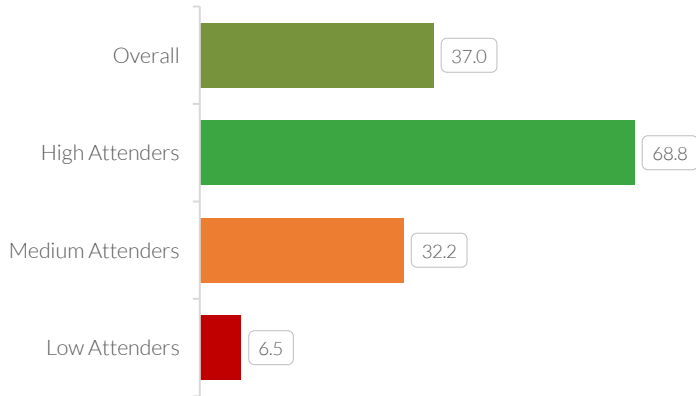

For purposes of comparison in this report, students are grouped into three attendance categories (low attenders, medium attenders, and high attenders) based on the number of days they participated in the Expanded Learning Program during the school year. The program attendance categories were derived by first grouping the students into deciles based on the number of days they attended the Expanded Learning program. Decile groupings were determined by assigning each participant a percentile rank and dividing them into 10 equal percentile groups (0th-9th, 10th-19th, 20th-29th, ... , 80th-89th, 90th-99th).
