James Street Elementary Home-School Compact

The faculty and staff of James Street Elementary believes the success of our students requires full commitment from all stakeholders. With the involvement of school personnel, students, families and community members, we believe our students will grow academically and emotionally.

Student Involvement:
The students of COCISD have a responsibility to cultivate excellence in their academic and civic pursuits by:

- Attending school every day and putting forth their best effort to master and demonstrate new skills
- Arriving to class promptly and prepared
- Practicing self-discipline in all situations
- Engaging in extracurricular activities offered at the campus level
- Being respectful of others and their property
- Refraining from making profane, insulting, threatening, or inflammatory remarks
- Cooperating with all reasonable directives issued by school personnel
- Taking responsibility for making choices and accepting consequences for inappropriate behaviors
- Following all district rules in the Student Code of Conduct for the campus and transportation department

Parent Involvement:
We encourage parents to participate in the success of their students by committing to the following:

- Providing the necessities of life including emotional support, supervision, encouragement, and positive communication with your student concerning their learning
- Practicing social and emotional skills to help your student build positive relationships and resolve conflicts.
- Encouraging your student to attend school daily
- Communicating with your child's teacher or campus administration if necessary
- Reviewing the Student Code of Conduct with your child
- Registering for Parent Portal so that you can monitor the progress of your child
