

At Sidwell Friends, we prepare our students to "let their lives speak."

Through dialogue, inquiry, and reflection, we teach them to become critical and creative thinkers and ethical and engaged citizens.

Your support of The Sidwell Friends Fund is critical to the daily lives and development of these students.

Providing the second-largest revenue stream for our operating budget, after tuition, The Sidwell Friends Fund supports the School's highest priorities, including financial aid, professional development for faculty, and student experiences. It also enables us to extend and enrich learning opportunities beyond what tuition alone can provide.

2022/23 Highlights

21% OF STUDENTS RECEIVED FINANCIAL

AID, helping to make a Sidwell Friends education accessible to families of all income levels and ensure socioeconomic diversity at the school.

EVERY MIDDLE SCHOOL STUDENT TOOK PART IN THE MINIMESTER PROGRAM—

an immersive, four-day program offering a variety of apprenticeships, internships, and trips. Last year, students had the opportunity to explore the rich Latino cultures in DC, environment service learning, animal welfare, Chinese culture, and New York City's iconic theater scene.

THE CENTER FOR ETHICAL LEADERSHIP

coached several Upper School students who pitched ideas to solve societal problems in a "Shark Tank" showcase before more than 200 parents, faculty, staff, and fellow students.

100% OF FACULTY PARTICIPATED IN PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

focused on a range of topics, including student mental health awareness, new curriculum development, and Quaker education.

STUDENT ART PERFORMANCES included the Upper

included the Upper School's rendition of the iconic play Clue, the Middle School's musical, Dear Edwina, and the Lower School's choral performance of "This Little Light of Mine."

All made possible by

The Sidwell Friends Fund

STUDENTS PARTICIPATED IN MORE THAN 65 CLUBS,

from publications to affinity groups. The Middle School Robotics Club won the Judges Award at the FIRST (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology) Competition.
