

THE WILDCAT WEEKLY

A Note from Dr. G

Volume 3 Issue 7

Superintendent's Corner

In honor of Friday the 13th, I am pleased to report that this afternoon we solved the mystery of the drone! As I alerted everyone yesterday, a drone was observed outside Hawthorne. We worked closely with the Mount Pleasant Police Department who were able to determine that it was a legitimate drone operator who had been contracted by homes.com to take photos of schools and fields for a website. The operator was contacted and told that by alerting local police and the town a stressful situation could have easily been avoided. I applaud everyone who "saw something and said something." It takes all of us to keep our staff and students safe, so thank you!

October is Fire Prevention Month. Each year our partners at the local fire departments visit HES and CES to discuss fire safety and allow students to check out their equipment and ask questions. Here are a few pictures from their visit. The main events for Homecoming may be at the Westlake Campus, but CES student council met this week to plan for spirit week festivities next week. We can't wait to see their plans come to life.

Noticing the Good

The safety and security of our facilities is important to our community and the past few days have been a stark reminder of this.

Last year we added Officer Luke Oliveri as our district SRO, this year we added a security consultant to our district office team, and the proposed instructional bond will enable us to create secure entrance vestibules and additional safety and security measures in all four of our school buildings.

For complete details including our prior communication and the presentation from the BOE meeting on September 20, please visit the district website. Please make a plan to vote on December 12 from 7 am to 9 pm at Westlake High School.

In Awe of the Paw

Our celebration of Fall Varsity Seniors kicked off this week with volleyball and swim & dive. We have six more to go, so please join us in congratulating these amazing Wildcat student athletes and thank them for representing our school with pride on the courts, fields, trails and in the pool during their time at WHS!
