

Finger Lime

Also known as a “caviar lime” because the tiny pearls inside the lime look like fish eggs! But they don’t taste fishy!

Finger limes are small, oval, citrus fruit with tiny pearls inside that make a popping sensation with a burst of sweet and sour flavor. Kind of like fruit gushers!

Finger limes come from Australia and can be green, black or red on the outside.

They taste similar to regular limes but are less sour. Unlike a regular lime, you can eat the skin of a finger lime.

Finger limes are high in vitamin C which helps your body fight off sickness and also helps your skin!
