Community Values

The future of Texas and the La Porte community essentially lies in the hands of what our local school district and city government will do to improve the lives of everyone.

Students get one time to be in school, and we want it to be the absolute best experience possible. It's an exciting time for La Porte ISD as our community considers its future with a $235 million bond referendum. Bonds operate as a living contract with our stakeholders, conveying a very strong message about what we believe, what we want for our students and teachers, and what we want for our community's future.

The La Porte community has always supported its local school district and for that we are grateful.
