

Grace Hill Elementary Parent Friendly Plan

Parental involvement is a critical component of a child's success in school.

Grace Hill Elementary is committed to frequent and meaningful, two-way communication with our parents including, but not limited to weekly communication folders, Class Dojo communication app, and parent teacher conferences twice per year. We recognize parents as the first and most important teacher in each child's life and will seek to support parents in this role through facilitating information on parenting. We will provide opportunities for training in strategies and activities that can be used at home to support academic achievement. Additionally, we encourage parents to volunteer in a variety of roles and to offer input to procedures, practices, and decisions through the use of surveys and conferences.

Grace Hill Elementary School jointly developed, with stakeholders, the following school parental involvement plan that describes how the school will carry out parental involvement requirements according to Arkansas Act 1002 of 2011. Grace Hill's written parental involvement plan is made available to parents and the local community. Each year, an advisory committee consisting of parents, teachers, and community members will review and update the Parent Involvement Plan, develop school goals and address specific student needs, reflecting the commitment to facilitating parental involvement.
