Federal Way Public Schools scholars, families, and community are invited to attend the student-led educational forum with local political candidates.

At the forum, scholars will ask candidates questions related to education and other community-related topics of concern.

Goal three of the district's strategic plan focuses on active learners: engaged, empowered critical thinkers. Student voice and leadership at events like this forum are examples of how the district ensures scholars are engaged in the democratic process that will shape their futures. See you there!
