VIKING PRIDE: Be Kind, Be Safe and Work Hard

Parent

To support my child in literacy I will:
 (circle one or more commitments)

- Have my child read to or with a family member for 20 minutes a day.
- Talk to my child about what they read.
- Encourage my child to write

To support my child in math I will:
 (circle one or more commitments)

- Have my child tell time whenever possible.
- Have my child count aloud whenever possible.
- Use math strategies in the kitchen (i.e., reading directions, helping measure, setting the timer, counting objects).
- Practice math facts at home or in the car (what's 2+2, etc.).

To support my child in social and emotional well-being I will:
 (circle one or more commitments)

- Limit screen time in the evenings.
- Make sure my child gets plenty of sleep each night.
- Make sure my child is at school, on time and ready to learn.
- Having them practice using words when they experience feelings (i.e. I feel sad because_____.)
- Ask students about Viking PRIDE and how they show it at school, at home and in the community.

Student

To support myself as a Viking Learner I will:

- Show Viking PRIDE in all areas of school.
- Tell my parents what I am learning in school.
- Give information from school to my parents and information from my parents to school.
- Read every night for 30 minutes.
- Get plenty of sleep.
- Be at school and on time (unless I am BIG sick).
- Always try my best and work hard.
- Be a good friend.
