

A Tree Talk by Adam deBoor in 1993

My challenge to you is a simple one: Carpe diem — seize the day. Get into the three habits of taking opportunities as they present themselves; of staying open to the world and always looking about you; of taking an active role in life and not succumbing to inertia. These are your golden years to learn, enjoy, and grow. Don't let them slip away.