Widening Advancements for Youth

Words from the Director

- James Pack

Happy November Researchers!!!

I am very thankful for how hard everyone has been working over these first couple of months of school!

Big cheers to everyone for knocking out the NWEA tests! You all did an amazing job, and the whole team here at WAY Michigan is super proud of how hard you worked.

Quick reminders for the road ahead:

Credits: Aim to earn at least 0.50 credits every month to stay on track- You've got this!

Mentor Chats: Chat with your mentor weekly. It's not just a check-in, it's your time to shine and get the guidance you need.

Tutoring: Stuck on something? Schedule some tutoring or 1:1 time with one of our lab experts!

Keep up the great work. Your efforts and achievements are what make us all proud. Let's keep this momentum going!

In Partnership,

Mr. Pack

Thankful

Welcome to November, the month of being thankful! We here at WAY Michigan are thankful for all of you. We would like to remind you all of our limited Centric tutoring. If your researcher would like tutoring, let their mentor or team leader know. We also have one-on-one sessions with some of our office staff. If you would like for your researcher to meet with Mrs. Jackee Smith, Ms. Kim, Ms. Joy or Ms. Stacy, let their mentor and team leader know as well. We also have a new Math teacher who will be available. As always, please make sure your researcher is communicating with their mentor at least 3-5 times a week. Your researcher should also earn 0.25 credit halfway through the month and should have 0.5 credit or above by the end of each month to be on track to graduate. If you have any questions, reach out to Ms. Joy or Ms. Stacy.

WAY Students

11th grade student Aidan Moreno has been accepted for early admissions to Lawrence Tech Universities, Winter 23' semester for Mechanical Engineering. Aidan went to the college fair held last year and got the chance to meet with the Lawrence Tech recruiters and also got to experience an in person college tour, which solidified his choice in school. Aidan has a love of cars, history, and the outdoors. He also has a passion for helping the community, incorporating art, music, and design as well.

College & Career Corner

This month we will start working on Xello for High School Students. Please keep any eye out for emails and Centric messages related to this information. We will also be having a Financial Aid Event this month. I will be sending out information for that soon as well. Seniors please be aware, the FAFSA will open in December this year, and is required if you plan on going to any college.

WAY Parents

Hello, Parents and Guardians!

We are just wrapping up NWEA MAP testing this week! Your middle schoolers did an absolutely fantastic job of showing up on time to their correct test sessions and finishing the tests in an appropriate amount of time! Honestly, it was one of the best testing weeks I've ever had as a proctor! Shout out to the middle schoolers! High schoolers are testing this week and it has gone fairly well. We will be finishing up all testing this Friday, October 27th. Those testing reports will be mailed out to you the following week. The November Parent Meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, November 28th at 7pm. Please let me know if you have any questions!
