BF 32834 Acknowledgement of Good Work Provided by Outstanding District Employees

1. Tracy Alexander, Nutrition Services Business System Manager, named Minnesota Manager of the Year by the Minnesota School Nutrition Association (MSNA.) The award recognizes the dedication, ingenuity and compassion shown by MSNA members who have excelled in keeping students fed during the pandemic. Tracy has worked tirelessly this school year to ensure students have healthy and exciting food options to nourish their school days. Like many districts, SPPS has faced extensive supply chain shortages and she made it her mission to find new vendors to meet the needs of their diverse student population. When a vendor shorted a tortilla order for a school, she went to a restaurant supply store to make sure there was enough for all students. Tracy was an integral part of the team that organized a home delivery system when SPPS closed during the pandemic. The team brought an estimated 20 million meals to homes in the community and she worked to ensure appropriate and culturally relevant meals were sent to the district’s 37,000 students. She also helped design a food truck and develop a menu for the delivery of meals to low income families. The truck has been invaluable to reach previously underserved members of the community. Recognizing technology is an important part of the day for school nutrition staff, Tracy created virtual and in-person training systems to help employees optimize their performance by learning new skills. “Tracy Alexander has been an asset to her school nutrition program and shown great leadership during these past few challenging years. We are proud to recognize her commitment to her students and the community,” said MSNA President Carrie Frank. Alexander has been a member of the state and national School Nutrition Association for nearly a decade. She recognizes the importance of professional development and training for her staff. Alexander was recognized on May 6, 2022, as part of national School Lunch Hero Day. She will also be honored in August when MSNA members meet for their annual conference in St. Cloud.

2. Jamin McKenzie, Principal at Murray Middle School, has been selected as one of the winners of the University of Minnesota, College of Liberal Arts (CLA), 2021 Civitas Community Partner Awards. Community Partners are individual community members and/or organizations engaged with CLA in the past year for the betterment of society in a manner that is aligned with CLA's purpose and demonstrates what it means to be a good partner. Classroom Partners, a program that places College of Liberal Arts students and staff as teacher’s aides, tutors, and mentors, has only grown at Murray Middle School thanks to the help and support of Principal Jamin McKenzie. In his time as principal, McKenzie has created and supported an environment that fosters positive identity development and critical consciousness. As the program expanded, from supporting a few science classrooms to placing volunteers throughout the school, it needed more resources. McKenzie brought in his leadership team to provide volunteer supervision and to offer training courses in racial justice and positive behavioral intervention. This integration of Classroom Partners with existing student support systems at the school creates an ideal two-way learning and support system, in which university students deepen their ties to their community, and Murray students are introduced to the university. In the scramble at the beginning of 2020 to create community-engaged learning opportunities for students, Jamin McKenzie made us a priority and was able to offer positions to 60 volunteers, many from Youth Studies, Family Social Studies and Sociology departments. The Civitas Awards were launched in 2019 as part of the college’s 150th-anniversary celebration. The Civitas Awards recognize individuals and organizations that are strong partners with CLA as well as individuals and organizations that make a strong, positive difference in their community. Through the Civitas Awards, the college recognizes community partners whose work and impact align with CLA’s mission.

3. The Minnesota Department of Education (MDE) awarded Saint Paul Public Schools’ Finance Department the Minnesota Department of Education 2022 School Finance Award. The School Finance Award is awarded annually by MDE, Division of School Finance, to recognize schools for:
   - Timely Submission of Audited Financial Data
