Leader: For the development of healthy minds and bodies — and the directing of youthful energy toward expression in clean and wholesome amusements.

People: We dedicate this school.

Leader: To the moral and spiritual training of our children in those fundamental subjects from which radiate all of the broader horizons of a fully rounded life.

People: We dedicate this school.

Leader: To an understanding of the basic importance of the home, neighbors, communities, nations, and races; and the tolerance needed to understand and live in peace with one another.

People: We dedicate this school.

Leader: To the acquiring of skills and appreciation in the fields of art, music, literature and handicrafts so that leisure hours may be enriched and personality and character developed in each child.

People: We dedicate this school.

Leader: To the training for citizenship that will lead to safe, clean and wholesome community life; enriched by service to, and acquaintance with, one's fellow man.

People: To this we dedicate this building and pledge ourselves to cooperate with the school officials in the realization of this goal.

Leader: To the development in youth of an appreciation and understanding of the many vocations in life and the ones in which their interests and aptitudes may be best adapted.

People: We dedicate this building and offer our personal assistance and guidance.

Leader: To realize that each child is an individual having varied degrees of ability and physical skills possessed of certain moral and ethical beliefs; to present to the child complete truths but to grant him the right of acceptance or rejection; to stress idealism, devotion and similar traits by introducing him to heroes and heroines from the past and present day, thus permitting the child to develop character by selection rather than through compulsion.

People: To this end we of the home and church will cooperate with the school in the development of the Seven Cardinal Principles of Education which are Health, Fundamental Subjects, Home and Community Living, Skills for Leisure Hours, Citizenship, Vocations and Character, and to these great principles we dedicate this school.
