OUR ALMA MATER

A SONG OF PRAISE
(Words by Eulalia Plank)

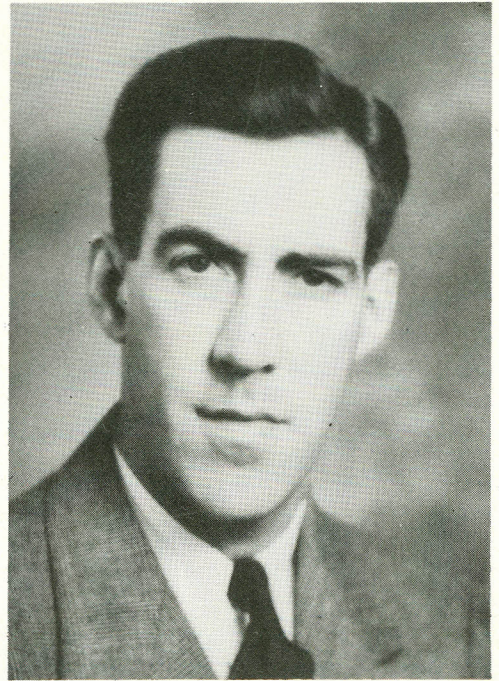

This is our song, to thee our alma mater,
A song of praise for virtues such as thine;
This is our school, the place where all our hopes lie,
The glory's mine, the praise is thine.
And other hearts in other years were saying
The glory's mine, the praise is thine.

The years pass by, for all they have no staying,
We'll reverence thee, all honor shall be given;
Dear old Bath School, we'll live our lives to bless thee,
The glory's mine, the praise is thine.
Like other hearts in other years we're saying
The glory's mine, the praise is thine.

CLASSES

SENIOR HISTORY

Once upon a time long, long ago (eleven and one-half years to be exact) twenty-six of us wee tots forfeited our freedom and accepted our sentence to twelve long years of hard labor at Bath School. Some took it lightly as it came and others very reluctantly. We have come a long way since that fateful day, have weathered many a storm and have had a lot of fun.

We were started out very gently in the first grade by Miss Thornburg (now Mrs. Howe) and were guided through the next five grades by Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Alleman, Mrs. Pike and Mrs. Miller. Then 'Oh happy day' we were sent upstairs to the third floor of the big building! What a thrill! But the novelty soon wore off and we were once again forced to put our noses to the grindstone.

Mrs. Crile, Mr. James, and Miss Workman somehow managed to push us through those next two years. It was during our eighth year that we earned the title of the "most impossible class in Bath School" and I guess we've had it ever since.

During the next year, as Freshmen, our most exciting and most important event was, of course, the Freshman party under the supervision of Mr. Milburn. Somehow it slipped out where the party was to be and as a result we were barged in upon by the upper classmen. The other two most important events in our high school career were the two Jr.-Sr. proms; the first given by us in our Junior year and the latter given for us in our Senior year.

Mrs. Mitchell, Miss Spade, Mr. Milburn, Mr. Gardiner, Miss Thornton and Mr. Pugh have (and I think you will agree) "finished" us. During all these years many have left us in various ways and at the same time many have joined us until at the present time we have sixteen members; eleven girls and five boys. Nine of us are of the original twenty-six who started out together in the first grade. Many of our classmates have risen to fame in various fields—some in music or art, others in speech, drama, or debate, and still others in clubs, scholarships or athletics.

And so we have worked out those twelve long years and are soon to be released. But we will always look back upon these days as the happiest of our whole life.

SENIOR PROPHECY

Assuming that you are all familiar with Superman, the idol of the class of '42, let us now join him in his daring travels hither and yon in the year 1967. First he drops to the window of a dingy little attic room on the third floor of a dingy little house just across the tracks. His gaze falls upon a draped shape and a laced waist belonging to none other than Liz James who is posing (as usual). She has always wanted her portrait painted badly, so she has come to Madame de la Toupe Steiner ("Stinky" to you) to have it done. "Stinky" is the most infamous painter of the century.

Leaving this touching scene he once again resumes his flight through the ozone. Gazing down he sees a huge crowd gathered around something. As he draws nearer who should he find standing on a soap box but Theo. Woods, wild eyed and shouting to the four winds that "slavery must be abolished!"

Standing in the crowd was Mrs. Clarabell Shade De Popolis surrounded by her husband and thirteen children. So frightened was she when Superman zoomed down upon them that she fainted and is being carried away by Hod Willey who is now an ambulance driver, while nurses Ellen Dutton and Iris Miller are working frantically to bring her around.

Next Superman flies rather low over a traveling circus and finds standing at the front gate Barker Grenfall Beachler barking as only Grenny can. Soaring over the grounds he finds Alice Fundak riding bare-back around and around the huge ring on a beautiful white horse. Next he sees a sign offering a prize of one hundred dollars to anyone who can lick the strong lady (Wilma St. Aubin) in five rounds or less. Not even Superman himself is game. Now down the street comes a blaring band, and leading it is none other than Bath's old drum-majorette, comely June Adair. My, how she's kept in shape! She doesn't look a day over forty-five!

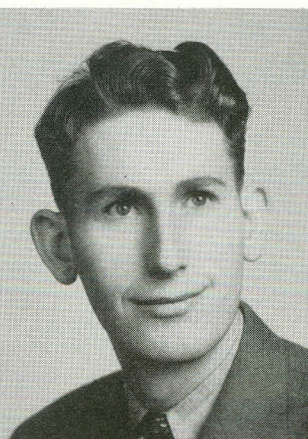

Tired of all this hum-drum life, Superman turns on all his h. p. and flits over land and sea to the depths of the African jungle. He sees a wee speck stumbling in and out among the tangles. As he nears he sees that it is Tommy Shepherd (our modern Stanley) pushing fearlessly through the wilds in search of Kenny Derr (Mr. Livingstone, I presume) who is believed to have been eaten by cannibals. After finding Livingstone Superman is once again home-ward bound. He has gone but a little way when he spies a large gathering of cannibals and finds standing in their midst Ginny Coddling who is now a Christian missionary and is converting the cannibals by the thousands.

Returning again to the "Gay White Way", Superman glides into a theater and finds Lucille Hunter doing the very tender and dramatic balcony scene from Romeo and Juliet. A little farther on he drops into the old "Opry House" and hears Shirley Buckley singing "I Want a Zoot Suit" from the opera of the same name.

And so having checked upon all the members of the Class of '42 Superman returns once again to his comic books all over the nation. Look for him, he'll be waiting for you. Go in and ask for Superman.

SENIOR VERSES, NICKNAMES, SAYINGS AND PASTIMES

JUNE ADAIR "Ader"

June is our drum-major, the best in the land
And how they all cheer when she's leading the band.
Saying: "Oh you know"
Pastime: Appeasing the god of sleep

* * *

SHIRLEY BUCKLEY "Toothpick"

Music's her life, she asks no more
And out of her throat sweet notes do pour.
Saying: "Could be"
Pastime: Acting as guide to new students

* * *

VIRGINIA CODDING "Ginny"

A dishwater blonde with big brown eyes
Well liked by the girls—woo wooed by the guys
(I can dream, can't I?)
Saying: "You can say that again"
Pastime: Studying (now and then)

ELLEN DUTTON

Tho Ellen's the quiet type, she's really, a scream
As sugar to tea so to coffee she's cream.
Saying: "Oh! what am I saying?"
Pastime: Searching for her books in study hall

* * *

ALICE FUNDAL "Funny"

Funny's a card as her name implies
She jokes with the girls and flirts with the guys.
Saying: "Are you kiddin'?"
Pastime: Tormenting Grenny

* * *

LUCILLE HUNTER "Lucy"

Lucy's an actress, the pride of our stage
And though she is acting, she can't act her age.
Saying: "That's no lie"
Pastime: Cleaning out the library

* * *

ELIZABETH JAMES "Liz"

Better be dead than out of style
'Tis clothes that make her life worth while.
Saying: "Yeah??"
Pastime: Posing for pictures

IRIS MILLER

Her cymbals she clangs, her cello she zooms,
For her, we predict, a bright future looms.
Saying: "No??"
Pastime: Taking care of babies

CLARABELL SHADE "Shady"

Clara's a dreamer of future and past
But when Milburn wakes her, her dreams vanish,
but fast.
Saying: "I dunno"
Pastime: Building castles (in air)

* * *

WILMA ST. AUBIN "Saint"

Saint is an athlete, she's fond of all sports
And speaking of "oomph" you should see her in shorts.
Saying: "You're not kiddin' "
Pastime: Walking home from school

* * *

JEAN STEINER "Steiner"

She's the queen of all cards, the joker to boot
And when she's around how the little glooms scoot.
Saying: "Er sumpin' "
Pastime: Haunting the detention room.

GRENFALL BEACHLER "Grenny"

An anti-Socialist, and a football star
You'll always find Grenny where pretty girls are.
Saying: "Oh you women"
Pastime: Fighting off the girls

JUNIOR HISTORY

With only six members from our first grade experiences, and a few additions along the way, our class, now Juniors, entered high school. We started our first year courageously with a breakfast at 4 o'clock, one dreary fall morning. Because of so much secrecy on our part, no upperclassmen "crashed" the breakfast.

The gods favored us when they gave us an equal number of girls and boys. Such an arrangement is opportune at our most important event of the year—the Prom.

Our class is one of the most active in the school. At all football and basketball games the Junior girls have a reason to cheer, for more than half the boys are playing. But it's the boys' turn to cheer when it comes to speech work. Two of the girls have excelled in oratorical declamation and nearly half are prominent in one-act plays. Incidentally, when any play needs a hero, the Junior boys are rushed. Our class may be the next to the smallest in high school but we have proof that it works and plays harder than the larger classes.

JUNIOR POEM

Bud's tireless deathtrap is his pride and joy
Tho he seems very quiet he's reckless, boy!
Dale and Jack's a gruesome twosome
Everyday they're out to woosome.
When Scott gives out with a few hot licks
It brings the rhythm from all the hicks.
Morning and noon and night, Curt works
Tho he's silly, his duty he never shirks.
If you're looking for villains, your man is Joe
His alias is Manuel Del Popolo.
Evelyn's short and blonde and quite curvacious
You'll think she's swell she's so vivacious.
You'll never find Cleo in the same place twice
She also has a mania for gruesome little mice.
When it comes to drums Alene's a solid sender
If you want a reading she'll get up and render.
Mary steals their hearts and leaves them coldly
For proof of this just gaze at Moldy.
Look at Leone with her winning smile

For her the boys would walk a mile.
In history Rita's quite a flash
When it comes to credit she takes cash.
When Dora gets the giggles it's really sad
Cause you can never tell if it's good or bad.
When Doris in a certain direction glances
Archer's heart she then enhances.
Georgie likes blondes, the misled boy
Maybe he doesn't know that blondes are coy!
At spilling milkshakes Stew's a wow
As for making eyes he's good, and how!
Tho Archer's not a famous lover
He's your friend you will discover.
When Dick picks up his sax a few sweet notes he'll always send
But the teachers all say his ways he must mend.
If you're looking for a girl with shy and quiet glances
With Ruth Sandmann, you must take your chances.
Ada Mae Nemer with her liquid brown eyes
Here's your chance, boys, she makes pies.

JACK BARR,
Member of the Class of '43, who passed away

THE SEASON'S GAMES

Bath's football team played 7 games during the '41 season, two of which were six-man games. At Mogadore in the first fray of the season, Jack Blowers charged over for our first touchdown of the year, to beat Mogadore 6-0.

Bath and Northfield fought to a scoreless tie at Northfield on October 3rd. It rained during most of the game, making the ball pretty hard to handle and this along with the two squads being evenly matched, accounted for the tie.

In the first six-man game the Bucs lost to Twinsburg 22-2. Although the regular eleven-man game is still preferred, quite a few fans like the fast moving six-man battles.

Copley finally broke a long standing jinx, when they beat the Bath football squad 13-0, for the first time since the two schools have been playing together.

At Bath our team co-ordinated some hard line plays with lots of smooth ball-handling to whip Manchester 35-0 in the last six-man fray.

The game with Hudson on October 31 was chosen for the Homecoming Game and it turned out to be a bad choice for two reasons. First it was a rainy day which held back attendance and stopped the Band's performance. Second we lost to Hudson 7-0.

Johnny Pierson scored Bath's only touchdown on a short run, when they were defeated by Tallmadge 13-7, in the last game of the season.

Captain Grenfall Beachler will be the only member of the team lost by graduation. "Grenny" has just completed four years as tackle on the team.

"Bath meets Boston at Barberton Tournament"

ACCOUNT OF GAMES

The Bath Basketball team played 16 scheduled games and won 7 of them. In the first game the Bucs had the tough luck of meeting Twinsburg and were beaten 36-10 by the champs-to-be.

After that first defeat the team picked up and showed good form in dropping Richfield, Greensburg and Manchester in succession, the latter taking a 53-31 licking.

The team went to Copley for the next game against our most traditional rival. Bath led all the way in a close game until the final seconds of play when Copley won 25-24 on a long shot.

After Christmas vacation the Basketball team lost to Northfield then won from Hinckley and Macedonia, Mogadore and Hudson defeated the Buccaneers before they recovered to whip Sharon, one of the best teams in Medina County, 31-19.

Bath lost another thriller to Copley 21-18 at Bath and then defeated Tallmadge 30-23 in the roughest game of the season. The last three games were lost to Clinton, Jennings, and Boston.

In the Class B tournament at Barberton, Bath finally upset Copley 26-24 and then lost a tight battle to Boston 21-18 to drop into the consolation tourney. The basketball season ended when Northfield took the Bucs 26-24 in a heart-breaker.

We are looking forward to a good season next year since no one on this year's team was a senior. The whole varsity will be back next year ready for a hot campaign.

The band has been very active this year. The second week of school they went to Columbus to represent Summit County at the Farm Bureau Field Day. All during football season when the weather permitted, the band performed at the football games. The Veterans of Foreign Wars invited our band to participate in the Armistice Day parade and they gladly accepted the invitation. The band played at the Defense Meeting of seven townships at Richfield and they also were on the program at the Spring Festival.

TRUMPET QUARTET

The trumpet quartet has been very busy this year and they have done well. At the Medina County Ensemble contest they received a very high rating. They have played at various church and school programs, also they were on the Follywood Premier.

The Girls' Glee Club is composed of Sophomore, Junior and Senior girls. The reason for this is that the Glee Club would be too large a group to work with if the Freshman girls were admitted. The Freshman girls have a Glee Club of their own. This is the second year that we have had a Freshman Girls' Glee Club. They made their first appearance at the Spring Festival. The Girls' Glee Club was part of the chorus at the All-County Festival at Barberton.

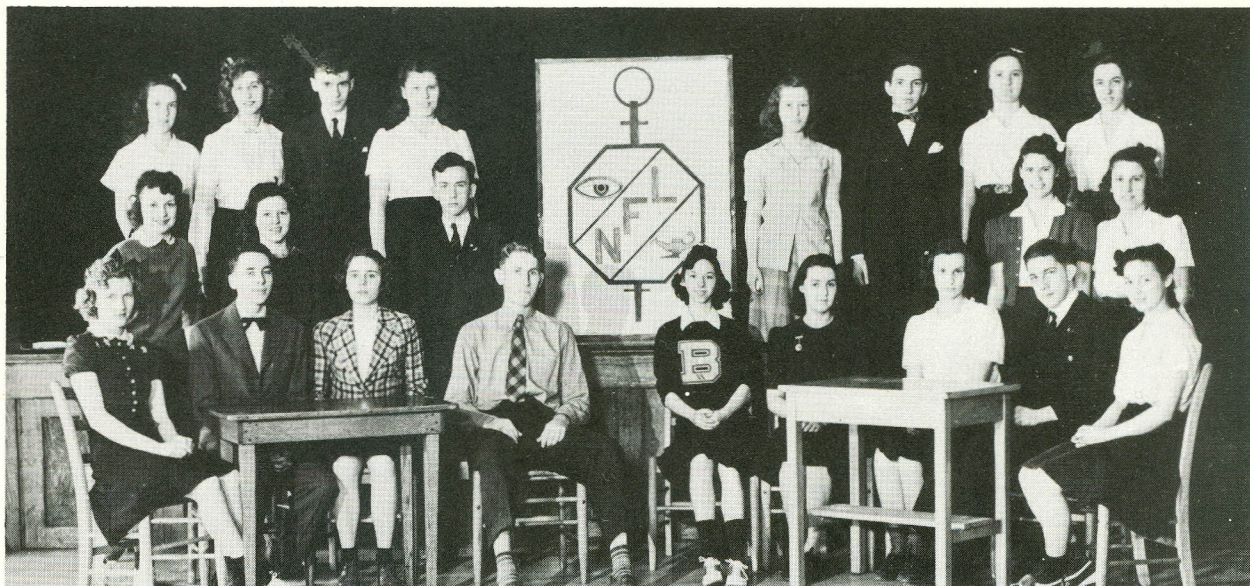

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Glee Club although they are not great in number have a great deal of power behind their singing. The boys appeared on the Hollywood Premier on March 6th. They were resplendent in suits, white shirts and bow ties. They were on the Spring Festival Program.
