Revere Vs. Copley Rivalry: History

HISTORY OF THE RIVALRY

Revere and Copley have one of the more storied rivalries in Northeast Ohio. These two neighboring school districts border one another and share the economic district known as Montrose. This rivalry carries a lot of great tradition and promotes a lot of fun between two of Ohio's finest high schools. Although heated in all sports, the Revere-Copley rivalry takes its most prominent form on the gridiron. Copley currently leads the series 34-32 and has a 12-5 advantage in the last 17 years. But Revere has a 24-17 advantage over Copley in the last 41 years. And these two teams have combined to win 40% of the Suburban League Titles (RHS-12; CHS-15) as well as a combined 20 state playoff appearances (RHS-8; CHS-12).

The rivalry actually began prior to the formation of Revere, back when the Bath Buccaneers played against the Copley Indians in the Old Summit County League. Just before the consolidation in 1950, the two teams did not play because of the enrollment difference—from the Akron Beacon Journal: “Copley and Bath were arch rivals for many years but their series lapsed when Copley’s school enrollment considerably outgrew that of Bath. With the consolidation of Bath and Richfield, the boys at the Northwestern corner of the county are back at it again.” As the October 1955 edition of the Revere Lantern referred to it, the meeting of these two teams on the football field is a “Classic Old Rival Gridiron Contest.”

In 1968 a traveling trophy tradition was added to this backyard brawl when the student councils of Revere and Copley jointly purchased a bell for $42.50. The bell was named the “Victory Bell” with the winning team claiming the rights to the bell for that year. Revere won the bell in the first year, beating Copley 33-20 on October 11, 1968. The bell used today is not the original bell or stand. In the early 1980’s Copley students stole the bell from Revere and vandalized it, as a result—Copley was forced to purchase a replacement bell. The original stand was also replaced in 2001 after Copley painted and carved in the original when they held it in 1999 and 2000. In 2007, Revere students attempted to steal the bell from Copley High School but the attempt was thwarted—no damage was done to the bell.

The game took on a new tone in 1977 when Joe Pappano took over as the Head Coach at Revere. Pappano, a Copley resident, embraced this game and made sure his players understood the importance of this rivalry and worked especially hard during “Copley Week”—including turning on the stadium lights to practice after the sun had already set. Pappano also started the tradition of the “Beat Copley” T-shirts that were awarded to the football team if they defeated Copley.

Then this rivalry had the “Twelve Year War”! This marks a 12-year period (1990-2002) where Joe Pappano faced off against Dan Boorman. Both coaches were former players, coaches, and friends at St. Vincent-St. Mary. During this time, Revere held the advantage 9 wins to Copley’s 4 wins.

What Makes Revere-Copley A Great Rivalry?

- It has to mean Something: For two communities that border each other and share Montrose—it means a lot. It is bragging rights for a year—knowing you can wear your Revere gear proudly in and around Montrose because Revere BEAT COPLEY! This game alone can make or break a season!
- There has to be History: Three years ago the two schools met for the 60th time and throughout that time there are so many stories that embrace this rivalry. From the ugly—vandalism, to fights, to taunting—to the good—great sportsmanship and philanthropic fundraisers/competitions between the two schools: there is enough history to last a lifetime.
- It has to be Competitive and Embrace Great Football: Copley currently leads the series by just one game—34 to 32. The two schools have great football tradition: two teams have combined to win 40% of the Suburban League Titles (RHS-12; CHS-15) as well as a combined 19 state playoff appearances (RHS-8; CHS-12).
- It Has to be Important to the Players: Only the current players can answer that—but there are hundreds of former players, to hundreds of former alumni students, and hundreds of current students from both schools that it means a lot to.

Revere-Copley
“Countdown Clock”
This clock used to sit on the wall of the locker room and in the weight room and run year round to remind the football team of the next “Classic Old Rival Gridiron Contest” versus Copley for the “Victory Bell”

Revere—Copley
“Victory Bell”
In 1968—the student councils of Revere and Copley jointly purchased a $42.50 bell, which they named the “Victory Bell”, with the winning team claiming the rights to the bell for that year.

“The Crow”
The tradition was started in 1994 between Copley Athletic Director Larry Banner and Revere Alumnus Tim Godard ('70). It is to be placed in the football locker room or Athletic Office of the team that lost the Revere-Copley Football game (meaning eat "Crow").

“The NO BELL Prize”
The tradition was started between Jim Csikos from Jim's Locksmith on Copley Circle and Tim Godard (RHS Class of 1970) from Godard Auto Sales. Every year the ball is painted with the date and the score in the winner's colors, it is handed to the loser of the game, and then prominently displayed in the losers place of business for the next year.

“Without Sports,
this Wouldn't Be Disgusting”
Strangely enough...there have been numerous relationships involving students from the rival schools—including former player and coach Phil Heyn ('96) and his wife, a former Copley cheerleader, Amy.

“Copley Steak Dinner”
The annual Copley Steak Dinner was originally a “Senior Dinner” tradition that eventually transformed into a team dinner that takes place in the cafeteria following the Thursday practice prior to the Copley game. The fathers grill the steaks while the mothers prepare the sides (bake potato bar, sundae bar, etc.). After the dinner, many senior classes have either chosen to give themselves unique haircuts or shave their heads.

Revere: BEAT COPLEY T-Shirts

In 1977, Coach Joe Pappano started the tradition of the “Beat Copley” T-shirts. He had them made and handed them out to the players the Thursday before the game. The players wore them outwardly on their trip to Copley and proceeded to win that game (14-6). The following year the idea was changed to only giving out the shirts if the team won the football game. In 2003, the originally tradition was reinstated and the players now get the t-shirt before the game—the whole team wears them on the Thursday prior to the game.

Revere Vs. Copley Basketball Rivalry

The rivalry between Revere and Copley may have started on the gridiron but it quickly spilled over to the basketball court. Copley currently leads the all-time series 93 to 50 in regular season contests (there have been a number of post season contests between the two schools). Even though the series may look lopsided, the games have been extremely competitive: Copley holds slight overall point advantage (7,374-7,186) and the average margin is in Copley's favor by only 1 point.

Gold Ball Trophy

The Golden Ball Trophy, a traveling trophy tradition, was begun in 2003 by the two school's basketball coaches (RHS—Dean Rahas and Copley—Dana Addis) with the winner of the second regular season game claiming the rights to the trophy for that year. In 2013, the trophy was renamed and dedicated in honor of Coach Al Smesko (Revere) and Coach Bruce Falb (Copley). The Gold Ball Series is lead by Copley 10 to 5.

COACH AL SMESKO

Al Smesko coached boys' basketball at Revere High School from 1959 until 1993. His teams won 171 games, including one sectional championship and two Suburban League Championships.

During his coaching career, Revere played Copley High School 28 times in which they split the games played at 14 each.

Prior to becoming the varsity coach, Al coached basketball 16 years for 7th grade through JV. He was also assistant track coach for 2 years and assistant football coach for 6 years. Al has been a track official for 30 years.

Al was president of the Greater Akron Basketball Coaches Association in 1982 and was inducted into the Greater Akron Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame in 1992. He was inducted into the Revere High School Hall of Fame in 1994.

Al currently is a mainstay at many of our sporting events. He operates the scoreboards for football, boys and girls soccer, boys and girls basketball and boys and girls lacrosse.

COACH BRUCE FALB

Bruce Falb graduated from Copley High School in 1945, earning 3 varsity letters in both football and basketball. After serving in the Navy, and then earning 2 football letters while attending BGSU, he graduated and returned to his Alma Mater as a teacher and coach. He served as the head boys' basketball coach at Copley High School for 31 years from 1956 to 1987.

His teams won 371 games, including 3 undefeated, regular seasons, and 12 Suburban League Championships, highlighted by 6 in a row (1978-79 through 1983-84).

He concluded his 39 years of service at Copley High School serving as the Athletic Director until his retirement in 1991. He was elected into the Greater Akron Basketball Hall of Fame in 1981, and the Copley High School Hall of Fame in 2008, the inaugural CHS Hall of Fame Class.

Bruce passed away in August of 2003.

It's Copley vs. Revere, but also Falb vs. Smesko

If it were a game of chess, Bruce Falb probably would be sitting on the edge of his chair. He'd fidget a bit, stand up, sit down, tug at his sweater or hitch up his pants.

Al Smesko, the opponent, would sit with perfect posture. His tie would be loose but not sloppy. He'd be perceptive, calculating, studious. Falb's pieces would weave over the squares, a general plan in mind: Stay loose and adapt.

Smesko's pieces would move with deliberate accuracy, a specific plan in mind: Take what the opponent gives, adjust accordingly, be precise.

FALB and Smesko know each other like chess players. Except their strategies are drawn on clipboards and acted out on a basketball court. And while Wednesday night's Copley-Revere high school game will be a five-on-five contest, it will be Falb vs. Smesko in the background.

The two have coached against each other for 10 years; Smesko has been at Revere for a decade, Falb at Copley for 23 years. "Our games are always good. It doesn't matter how good the teams are," Falb said.

This year the coincidence is that both teams are good. Perfect, in fact. Revere comes to Copley at 8-0 over-all and 5-0 in the Suburban League. Copley is 7-0 and 5-0. They are the only area Class AAA teams still undefeated.

Of course, the only substantive issue to be decided Wednesday night is whose winning streak will continue. As Falb said, "The game really won't settle anything as far as the league race is concerned. But it will put somebody in a lot better position. And we'd sure like to win at home. We'll have to go to their place later."

ASIDE FROM the superficial records (and, incidentally, both junior varsity teams are undefeated, too), the game is a deep contrast of teams, individuals and philosophies.

Copley is the one with the individuals who take turns starring.

Guard Greg Salem is the Suburban League's second-leading scorer with a 17.4 average. Two other Indians are in the top 10 — Mitch Adamek at 15.7 and Glenn Ulrich at 14.0. Adamek is the tallest player in the league at 6-7 and reaches double figures in rebounding almost every game. Copley likes a fast-moving pace — the Indians average 71 points and give up 60.

Revere has no one among the top 10 Suburban scorers. The Minutemen give up the fewest points in the league — 50 per game — while scoring about 58 themselves.

"Al always seems to have disciplined teams. Mine are always loose," Falb said.

The styles are mixed. So are the results.

"Each of us has won our share of games. We've beaten them twice in a year sometimes, but they've done it to us, too," Falb added.

FOUR SUBURBAN teams have played both schools already. Two of those coaches believe Copley will win. Two aren't sure.

Jerry Clemens of Field said, "If everybody's healthy and if no kid has a real bad game that night — barring those kinds of problems — it should be a close game."

Biff Lloyd of Coventry said, "I'd call it a tossup but I don't think it will be a one-point game. Somebody will probably win by 10."

Copley has the home-court advantage. But Revere wouldn't call it a head start. "We feel like that's our home court, too," said Revere guard Rick Davis. "We play there so often — in the league preview and the tournament."

Revere forward Jon Weingart said, "The baskets there are 10 feet high, aren't they?"

Revere forward Mike Ward said, "We respect them. We know what their statistics are and how tall Adamek is. But we're not afraid of it."

Smesko said, "Sometimes you hope you're the underdog. It gives you more incentive in a particular game. It gives you a different outlook."

DESIRE, it is agreed, will help determine the winner.

"Attitude has a lot to do with it," said Copley's Ulrich. "Both teams want the game, and it will show in going after loose balls and hustle."

"Everybody," Davis said, "will be giving 200 percent that night."

Such an effort will affect the style of play and execution of those all-important fundamentals.

"Our game is playing aggressive, with fervor, but with control," Adamek said. "It will be important for us to get ahead early. I hope I don't have to score a lot. My job is to rebound and get fast breaks started."

Salem said, "We've been up for other games and we'll get up for this one. We haven't had to play catch-up this year because we've always been ahead. But if we get behind, we can do it."

Ward of Revere said, "We don't feel under-confident or over-confident. And we play as a team of 12."

Smesko said, "This kind of game is what we've told the kids we prepare for. The goal is to win the game and win the league. We want to give our best."

SO MUCH for emotion and tactics. What about strengths and weaknesses?

"Revere plays better defense," Lloyd said, "but Copley is tougher on the boards. Revere would like to get ahead by about six points and then go to work. Copley would like to fast break and rebound."

Eventually, Lloyd said, a turning point will come. "If Copley panics, they'll be in trouble. You can stick a fork in them — like a potato when it's done," Lloyd said.

And what if Copley takes away Revere's strengths?

"Then stick the fork in Revere," Lloyd said. "It all depends which way the fork goes."

Revere-Copley Food Drive Competition

THE FOOD DRIVE COMPETITION:

Linda Boggs, a longtime teacher and head of Copley's student council came up with the idea in 1989 to "put the sports rivalry between the two schools to good use." The competition was for the collection of canned and nonperishable goods. The competition went on for five years and included a plaque that the winning school displayed.

The contest was revived in 2016-17 by leaders from both schools (Revere—Phil King, Jennifer Kirchner, and Rebecca Ray) (Copley—Michael Curry and Kim Carothers).

THE RIVALRY:

Revere and Copley have one of the more storied rivalries in Northeast Ohio. These two neighboring school districts border one another and share the economic district known as Montrose. This rivalry carries a lot of great tradition and promotes a lot of fun between two of Ohio's finest high schools. The rivalry actually began prior to the formation of Revere, back when the Bath Buccaneers played against the Copley Indians in the Old Summit County League.

Football—In 1968 a traveling trophy tradition was added to this backyard brawl when the student councils of Revere and Copley jointly purchased a bell for $42.50. The bell was named the "Victory Bell" with the winning team claiming the rights to the bell for that year. The Victory Bell Series is led by Revere 27 to 22 (Copley leads 33 to 32 overall).

Basketball—The rivalry between Revere and Copley may have started on the gridiron but it quickly spilled over to the basketball court. In 2003 the Golden Ball Trophy, a traveling trophy tradition, was started by the two schools' basketball coaches (RHS—Dean Rahas and Copley—Dana Addis) with the winner of the second regular season game claiming the rights to the trophy for that year. In 2013, the trophy was renamed and dedicated in honor of Coach Al Smesko (Revere) and Coach Bruce Falb (Copley). The Gold Ball Series is led by Copley 5 to 9 (Copley leads 92 to 50 overall).

Student Council holds food drive competition

BY MANDY KRAYNAK

Revere's Student Council revived an old tradition by challenging rival Copley to a canned food drive competition, which Revere won.

According to a report by Phil Heyn titled "History of the Revere-Copley Food Drive," the two schools hosted the competition for five consecutive years from 1988 until 1993. Although Revere and Copley have individually held food drives annually, this year's competition, called the We Can School Challenge, marked the first time Revere and Copley have competed against each other since the event's twenty-four year hiatus. The competition took place from January 17 until January 31, and Revere High School and Copley High School competed to bring in the most canned food items. Both schools donated the food items to the Akron-Canton Regional Food Bank.

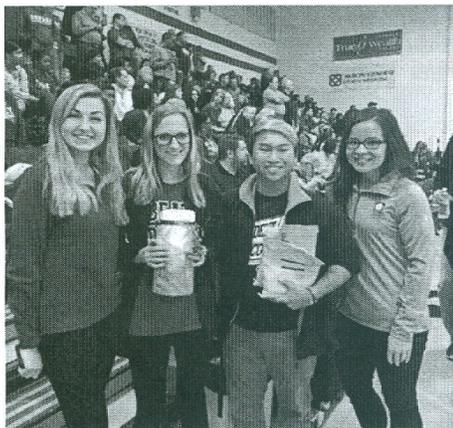

Copley High School Principal Michael Coury commented on the rivalry between Revere and Copley.

"I think it's an awesome opportunity to engage students across our two excellent districts. I love that our two schools have a fun and healthy rivalry, yet at the same time, many of our students are friends. Having a competition such as this keeps that rivalry alive and, more importantly, benefits those in need in our area," Coury said.

Revere High School Principal Phil King noted the importance of food drives.

"First, you are helping those that are in need. That's the most important part, and I think everyone at this school has an opportunity to bring in something—to be helpful to people in our community," King said.

Revere's Student Council, including staff leaders Jennifer Kirchner and Rebecca Ray, initiated the idea and organization of the canned food drive competition. Student Council co-presidents Simona Jasova and Courtney McClellan, vice president Ellie Edwards and other Student Council members ran the event. McClellan described the incentive that the competition provides for students.

"I believe it's a great way to keep kids motivated. Giving kids something to look forward to at the end of any task will help generate more participation and a great outcome," McClellan said.

Junior and Student Council vice president Ellie Edwards compared this year's food drive competition with the food drives of previous years.

"I think it's a really good idea because people donate more when there's a competition, especially with our rival. We've also never publicized this well, which is also great. And it's only usually been one week instead of two. So, overall we're just getting more food, and that's the goal," Edwards said.

Edwards also described how the food drive makes donating simple and convenient.

"We are a really wealthy district, and we have a lot to offer, but people don't really think about it or have time to run down to the food bank. So, if you can do it through the school, I think that's a really beneficial thing to people less fortunate than we at Revere," Edwards said.

Both Revere and Copley made and exchanged video announcements about the canned food drive to publicize the competition. RHS Principal Phil King noted the effectiveness of the video announcements.

"You just get kids more involved, more excited, and if it challenges each other, I think that's a good thing," King said.

The canned food drive competition ended January 31st, the day of the Copley-Revere basketball game. McClellan described the benefits of the competition ending on this day.

"The winner [was] announced at the basketball game, so in return, we [got] people to come to the game and to come to hear the results of the competition. I think since the competition is between Revere and Copley, having it end on the day of the game is a great idea," McClellan said.

McClellan also explained the lesser-known impact that food donations have on local families.

"The food drives help many people within our immediate area that are in severe need for food. Not many people realize that, but a lot of families that live close to us benefit from the Akron Canton Regional Food Bank," McClellan said.

Revere collected enough cans and money for a total of 11,960 meals, exceeding its goal of 5,000 cans and defeating Copley. Copley collected enough cans and money for 9,586 meals. Nicholas Kos's class collected enough cans and money for 118.8 meals per student, the most for Revere. Revere and Copley hope to continue the canned food drive competition in the future.

•Copley beats Revere, 13,000 to 5,000, in holiday food drive to help needy families, setting tie for four years

BY PAULA SCHLEIS

Beacon Journal staff writer

Copley High School pounded Revere High School by a score of 13,000 to 5,000 to even the record at 2-2.

But the real winners are the families who will receive the 18,000 canned and nonperishable goods collected by the two student bodies.

Copley teacher and student council adviser Linda Boggs said the holiday competition was started four years ago because the school's canned food drive was lagging.

There's no better way to get Copley blood boiling than to mention Revere, the school's arch rival, Boggs said.

"It's been that way since time began," she explained.

So the stakes were upped and school pride was put on the line.

Last year, Revere crushed Copley 16,849 cans to 1,595.

Copley junior Jennifer Cleveland, 16, who helped organize this year's canned food drive, said there is another incentive for students in her school to participate.

The competition extends between grades, with the winner earning spirit points toward becoming the class of the year.

This year, the seniors delivered 10 carloads with about 4,000 cans for a come-from-behind victory.

"The seniors always hit us at the end and they always end up winning," Jennifer said.

Copley tops Revere in can drive, but needy families are winners

A rivalry between two area high schools has turned out to be beneficial for needy families.

The third annual canned food drive between Copley and Revere high schools brought in the equivalent of 23,000 cans in a two-week contest that wrapped up before Christmas.

Copley won this year's contest, bringing in 15,000 cans, and Revere had about 8,000. The total includes actual cans or donations of 75 cents, which equaled one can.

Officials announced this week that the donations gathered by Copley were given to the Copley Kiwanis for distribution in the Copley-Fairlawn area. This year, 53 families received food baskets, with 49 also receiving $40 gift certificates for groceries at the Copley Country Market. Turkeys also were given to 38 of the families.

The cans collected by Revere are distributed in Bath Township.

The contest, sponsored by the student councils at the schools, is the result of an idea by Linda Boggs, who teaches legal medicine and computers at Copley. A 20-year veteran teacher, Boggs decided to put the sports rivalry between the two schools to good use.

"I just thought it'd be nice to help people out, especially since some have so much and others have nothing," she said.

Boggs, who is the student council's faculty adviser, said she encouraged the students to participate in the drive, but it was the students who really made a difference. Several members of the student council urged other schools in the system to contribute, and some even went door to door seeking donations, she said.

The first contest, held in 1988, ended with Revere winning, 5,000 cans to 1,000. Last year, the contest was closer, with Revere winning by about 200, with a 12,200 total. Now the plaque, which is displayed by the school that wins, will rest in Copley High's main hall.

Boggs, who also has her legal medicine class adopt a Copley-Fairlawn family each year, shrugs off the success of the contest, saying she only wanted to "do something to get the kids inspired."
