Trial to be postponed!

*New Poster Humongous!
“Devastating” Says Mr. Horne
“Culprit Must Be Caught!”*

After new evidence was discovered today, detectives state that the trial will be postponed. The reason is that the humongous poster, which measured twelve inches by eighteen inches, might put forth more clues. Already, Mr. Hobbs states that it would take an expert at technology to photoshop a photo like this. “The culprit probably had a Macbook Pro,” he states. “The people with Macbook Pro are speech teachers and administrators”. He stated that it is not impossible with a Macbook Air, but it would take a lot of technological know-how. Detectives state that he is a suspect, as he has the aforementioned required technical know-how.
