Dear Alumni, Families and Friends:

Each name included in this issue of Gratitude represents a personal connection to our past, our present and our future. As we uphold the mission of St. Andrew’s-Sewanee School, and work to advance the academic and educational experiences of every student entrusted into the School’s care, we offer our heartfelt thanks to the many individuals, corporations, and foundations who choose to include SAS among their philanthropy.

In 2022-2023, charitable contributions to all areas—through both direct and estate-based giving—equaled $2,007,183. Our SAS Fund provided for 9% of our operating revenue and another 7% came from distributions from endowments and trusts.

An SAS alumnus, who recently received his undergraduate degree, sent this message home to campus: “Thank you, SAS. I couldn’t have done it without you.” It’s a sentiment we hear often from our alumni. And it is shared equally with you.

With thanks and regards,

Lesley Cole, Director of Advancement

A Strong Sense of Belonging

Andrew Hard ’06 receives the 2023 Distinguished Alumni Award

This past June, during Alumni Weekend, we were honored to present Andrew Hard ’06 with the 2023 Distinguished Alumni Award. In 2012, Andrew made a name for himself in the field of physics by being a member of the team that discovered the Higgs boson particle at CERN’s Large Hadron Collider. Since then, his analytical abilities have led him in a different direction. For the past 6 years, Andrew has been a Software Engineer at Google, where he now works on BARD, Google’s artificial intelligence engine. He is particularly interested in methods for building neural models that respect user privacy.

If you had told me back in 2006 that I would eventually receive this award, I would have guessed that I had won the Nobel prize in physics. At the time, I thought that accomplishment was an individual achievement. But over time, I’ve come to realize more and more that there’s always a large community behind every great endeavor. Also back in 2006, I would have said that “conservation of energy” and calculus were the most important parts of my education. Now, I think that SAS really taught me about the importance of community and collaboration.

St. Andrew’s-Sewanee is where I discovered the meaning of community. It’s where I first felt a strong sense of belonging, where I had the freedom to learn about myself and explore my interests. And it’s funny that I still feel like I belong here, even after 17 years away.

A Day of Celebration

On March 22, the SAS community showed up in a big way for the inaugural SAS Day of Giving. Alumni, families, and friends from near and far gave in celebration of SAS and the transformational educational experiences that have taken place on The Mountain for more than 150 years. Through your support, you carry the school’s legacy and mission forward for future generations of SAS students. Thank you to all who made it such a special day and stay tuned for details about this school year’s Day of Giving next spring!

Providing for the future of St. Andrew’s-Sewanee School

The Mountain Society recognizes donors who have included SAS in their estate plans. Donors can choose to direct their estate gifts toward scholarships, faculty compensation, campus preservation or other areas that are meaningful to them.

We are deeply grateful to all members for their commitment to the school and its mission. If you have included SAS in your estate plans and are not listed, or if you would like to learn more about planned giving to the school, please contact Director of Advancement Lesley Cole at 931.463.2127 or lcole@sasweb.org.

Making the Dream of an SAS Education Possible

Providing educational opportunities for students is one of the largest philanthropic priorities of our school. Today, nearly half of SAS’s endowment is specifically earmarked for financial aid. SAS’s endowed scholarships provide a permanent source of financial aid funding and are primarily established through estate-based giving. We also rely on yearly contributions to our Annual Scholarship Fund to meet the needs of our families. Thank you to all who make the dream of an SAS education possible!
The St. Andrew’s-Sewanee School Endowment

St. Andrew’s-Sewanee School’s endowment serves as a permanent, self-sustaining resource for the long-term health and success of our school and was paid out for the 2022-2023 academic year at a conservative, Board of Trustees approved distribution of 6% (calculated using a trailing three-year moving average of annual market values). SAS uses this method to smooth large year-over-year changes in market value, thereby allowing the School to reasonably predict future distributions.

The endowment consists of four trusts and 49 individual funds with a June 30, 2022 market value of $21,321,723. These funds generated $462,177 in revenue for the 2022-2023 school year – 7% of the budget. While several funds listed are grandfathered in, new funds may be established by signed gift agreement and a minimum corpus of $50,000. The corpus may be gifted directly over one to five years or through documented estate commitments. For information on establishing a fund, please contact Director of Advancement Lesley Cole at (931) 463-2127 or lcole@sasweb.org.

Provides general support for the preservation and operation of St. Andrew’s Chapel.

The John Stoufer Ziegel Fund
Established through the estate of John (Jack) Stoufer Ziegel, a Class of 1952 alumnus of St. Andrew’s School, the fund provides general support for the operation and maintenance of McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts and to support the music and drama programs which take place in McCrory Hall.
God, who through the love and labor of many, has built upon this Mountain a goodly heritage, and has crowned our school with honor and length of days, we give you thanks for past achievements and future hopes accomplished in our midst; but chiefly do we offer gratitude for the gift of your son Jesus Christ, who is the cornerstone of all truth. May we, and all who follow after us, maintain a zealous quest for learning and wisdom; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

During her valedictory address, 2023 valedictorian Isabel Patterson reflects on her time at SAS while offering advice to her classmates.

Whether newer to SAS, or having been here for a long time, we have all grown as individuals. I have witnessed this growth by watching you find your passion through hours spent in the pottery studio or art room, the dedication to your team on the field, or the development of a strong love for a subject. In our own ways, through our own experiences, I believe we have all grown a bit more into ourselves. And as we now leave this place, I hope we remember those moments along the way that shaped us (in)to who we are.

I have learned not to be afraid of change, and to also treasure the process of change. There’s always going to be change and transition, but waiting for college to start is not happiness. Happiness has come from watching the enthusiasm of my teachers around me teaching what they love. Happiness has come from sharing a lunch outside on a sunny day, just because. And happiness has come from starting an impromptu conversation along Betsy’s Path. As we choose our journey for the future, and learn to navigate our way, I hope we remember to slow down and enjoy the moments in between.

—Isabel Patterson ’23

This fall, Isabel has taken her many talents north to Macalester College in St. Paul, Minnesota.
