

NORTHWEST MISSISSIPPI COMMUNITY COLLEGE

HEINDL CENTER for the PERFORMING ARTS

NAME A SPACE.
LEAVE A LEGACY.

We are incredibly excited about the Heindl Center for the Performing Arts on the Northwest Mississippi Community College campus and are thankful that you are considering naming one of the spaces in this state-of-the-art facility. This modern venue gives opportunity for our students to experience national and international talent right here at home; the opportunity for our students to rehearse and perform in such a magnificent hall; the opportunity to bring local communities together to enjoy award-winning fine arts experiences on our stage. With appearances by Kristin Chenoweth, Jay Leno, and Dr. Ben Carson during our inaugural season, you can be assured that the exceptional caliber of performances will continue for many years to come.

Our Senatobia Campus enjoys easy access to Interstate 55 and Highway 51. Parking at the Heindl Center is complimentary and monitored by our own campus police. With food service options at the center, restaurants in Senatobia, and new local hotel accommodations, evenings on campus are safe and enjoyable with friends and family. We are committed to continue to bring to the Heindl Center Broadway traveling tours, select musical talent, family-friendly theatre events, interactive simulcast Steinway artist performances, classic movie opportunities, and more!

The inspiration and plans for the Heindl Center are just part of a larger goal. This facility and the programs that are planned here fulfill Northwest's vision by "transforming students' lives, enriching our communities, and striving for excellence in our educational programs and services." We are delighted to bring this facility to life and know that it will dramatically add to the college student experience, build campus culture, and drive greater community togetherness through all that our college has to offer. You are invited to consider naming a space and be a part of this new culture.

Sincerely,

Michael J. Heindl, Ph.D., J.D.

President, Northwest Mississippi Community College

HEINDL CENTER FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS

The new Heindl Center for the Performing Arts includes a 1,200-seat performing arts auditorium, additional smaller performance spaces, performing arts classrooms, recording studio and faculty offices. The design allows for new performing arts program development. This first-class facility draws performances and accommodates crowds that enhance fine art appreciation for all the surrounding communities.

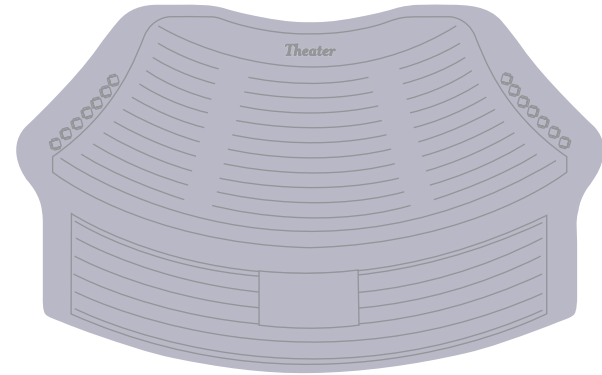

A limited number of areas in the Heindl Center are available for naming. Donors have an opportunity to honor or memorialize individuals important to them, or may wish to show their support of art and culture. Naming opportunities also provide organizations a way to elevate their brand, while also showing their commitment to higher education, lifelong education, and fine arts.
