Things to do During "Social Distancing" so tablets and screens don't suck out your brain!

1. Read a book. Write a book.
2. Write in a journal.
3. FaceTime or Skype with a friend.
4. Learn to cook your favorite meal.
5. Practice math facts. Use dice or cards to help.
6. Do a word search. Make your own word search.
7. Write letters or emails to school friends.
8. Ride bikes. (Just remember the 6 feet rule.)
9. Build a tower, out of anything! Take a picture!
10. Email your grandparents, aunts, uncles, or cousins.
11. Do a craft with recyclable materials.
12. Play a game you learned in Phys. Ed. Class!
13. Do a science experiment.
14. Color a picture. Paint.
15. Make up a dance for your favorite song.
16. Play with siblings. Wrestle your brother.
17. Help clean the house.
18. Find a toy you haven't played with in a while, and make up a new way to play with it.
19. Exercise.
20. Go on a scavenger hunt in your house. Make up a list of things to find.
21. Make a musical instrument. Play it and sing.
22. Play a board game. Change the rules.
23. Bake cookies.
24. Make a fort with your blankets.
25. Go outside and read. (Don't forget, 6 feet!)

26. Make up a new game.
27. Play a card game. Make up a new card game.
28. Make a gratitude list. What are you grateful for?
29. Create something with Legos or blocks.
30. Make up a play. Perform it.
31. Make up contests around the house, like who can walk without squeaking, or who can jump the highest.

32. Sleep late.
33. Rearrange your bedroom.
34. Go for a nature walk. Take photos. (6 feet!)

35. Wash the car.
36. Do a puzzle.
37. Go for a walk. (6 feet)
38. Blow bubbles.
39. Play restaurant.
40. Go hiking.
41. Make finger puppets and have them talk.
42. Go outside and observe bugs. Sketch them.
43. Create a collage from junk mail.
44. Make home made cards for loved ones.
45. Make art. Make an art museum from your art.
46. Make your own bowling alley with items at home.
47. Play school. Be a bossy teacher!

48. Have a picnic in an interesting place.
49. Create an obstacle course.
50. Make a new list of things to do.