

Letter Home to Families

Dear Parent/Guardian:

We are pleased to announce that our schools are about to take part in a special, communitywide shared reading event, again this year. As in the past, every family will receive a copy of the same book and will be asked to read it together at home over the next few weeks. We are asking you to make the time so that your family can participate in this special activity.

Reading aloud at home is valuable because it better prepares your child to be an effective reader, and it is also a fun, worthwhile family activity. With this program, we aim to build a Community of Readers at our school. Everyone – students, parents, teachers, even administrative staff – will all be following along together.

All students will receive a copy of the book on our kick-off day, Friday, March 10th. Along with the book, you will receive a reading schedule so that you can keep up at home. Generally, you will be asked to read about 15 minutes each night. Nightly readings will be posted on the school and district websites as well.

In school, your child will be invited to answer daily trivia questions to encourage and reward attentive listening. You will soon find that your child will take pride in knowing and anticipating the details of the story. In class, students will explore the book through activities and discussion. Family engagement activities will be sent home as well, and when completed can be sent back into school to be displayed.

This is a novel program in that children in all grades K-5 will all be listening to the same book. Reading professionals recommend reading material out loud that is beyond a child's own reading level. We also believe that you can and should continue reading chapter books with your older children, even when they are able to read by themselves. We have selected a title that can be followed and understood and enjoyed by younger students but will still captivate and stimulate older children.

We know that you'll enjoy this special reading time with your children. When a whole school reads a book, there's a lot to talk about. With your help, we can build a Community of Readers at our school.
