Happy Thanksgiving!

Heritage Highlights

Over the last couple of weeks students were taught about the importance of being grateful in Life Skills class. Students learned that being grateful is about appreciating and being thankful for the things and people we have in our life. Classes also learned the importance of how gratitude is about focusing on the wonderful things that we have in our life and not focusing on the things we do not have. Each student at Heritage was allowed to select a plant picture to color, cut out, and write 1 thing they are grateful for. Students chose to focus on being grateful for water, food, clothes, homes, family members, school, teachers, or pets. The picture shows the Gratitude Garden the students created that displays the pictures of what each student is grateful for.

ART room is looking for a volunteer!

Hello Parents/ Guardians! The art room is in search of a volunteer to assist in photographing student work and uploading it to their artsonia portfolios. Artsonia is an amazing cumulative online portfolio that students and their families can access to admire and share their artwork. Additionally, it acts as a fundraiser as a portion of sales goes back to the art room and the purchase of materials. The art room would need help a couple times a month or as projects finish up. The schedule would be flexible and on a "as needed" basis. If you are interested in becoming a helper please contact Emily Marinoff at emarinoff@depere.k12.wi.us and complete a background check by filling out this google form to volunteer. Thank you so much for supporting the art program!
