A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRINCIPAL

From the Library...

Happy November from the Eldorado Library! This month elementary students have been learning about Native American Heritage Month through various stories and interactive activities. Middle schoolers have had some opportunities to conduct research in the library using quality print and digital sources. And our Crazy Contraptions Club is gearing up for their first big Rube Goldberg Machine project. Recent additions to the library such as a giant Connect 4, bicycle desk, and puzzle table have offered students new opportunities to connect with the space and take a brain break. To keep up with all of the exciting happenings in our library, be sure to follow www.instagram.com/eldoradolibrary/

Today's Author Visit and Book Signing! - It was a pleasure to host an author visit for grades 2-5 this morning with J. Scott Savage! Students got to learn about being an author and a storyteller through an interactive presentation with the theme "Working Together to Save the World". Mr. Savage will be holding an event tonight (Thursday, 11/9) at 6pm at the Boulder Barnes and Noble. If your student is interested in getting a signed copy of one of his great books, this free event is for you! I've also been told there will be lots of giveaways :)
