Maya just arrived in Salem, Massachusetts when she woke up. She and her family had been on the road for days from Los Angeles, California to Salem. She was excited to learn all about Salem's history. Once they got to her new house they got out and started unpacking all the suitcases. She told her parents she was going to start exploring the house. She started at the second level where the door opened into. On that floor was the kitchen and the dining room with the stairs that led to the basement and the den. Maya then went up to the top floor where they had three bedrooms and one office. After Maya finished exploring the top floor and choosing the bedroom she wanted, she headed down to the basement and the den. She found that it was full of a lot of old furniture, paintings and boxes. She started going through the boxes and almost halfway through she found something really interesting. She found a Ouija board. She grabbed it and ran up to her room. She then shut the door and sat on the floor. She sat thinking who she would contact. She then decided to do Sarah Osborne. Sarah Osborne was accused of being a witch in 1692. She asked the question and waited almost ten minutes before someone responded. The ghost spelled out HELP ME. Maya was about to ask who the ghost's name was when her mom called her down for dinner. She quickly ate her food wanting to get back to the Ouija board. When she rushed to clean up her parents suspected something weird going on. When Maya went to school a few days later, her dad sneaked into her room to see what was going on but he didn't find anything wrong. The night before she snuck the Ouija board into one of the boxes for she had not finished unpacking suspecting her parents might sneak around in her room. When she got home from school she did what little homework she had and then got the Ouija board out. She asked the ghost what its name was. The Ouija board spelled out SARAH OSBORNE. Maya had succeeded. Maya asked Sarah why she was stuck in her house. Sarah replied "This used to be an old prison in which I died. They buried me somewhere where the basement is, if you find my body I shall be put to eternal rest." The next day Maya faked being sick just so she could help Sarah. It was the first day of work for both her parents so she got the house all to herself for a couple hours. She went out to the shed to see if maybe there was anything out there. It was completely empty. She found she had thirty dollars in her piggy bank. Since the town was small, she walked to the nearest hardware store and bought a shovel. She walked back to the house and headed toward the basement. She decided to start with the den since it was completely empty. She started digging but in a couple of minutes she hit something hard and so she continued to dig around it. It was a coffin! Sarah followed her downstairs and was watching. She stopped her when she saw the coffin. It had roses carved into the wood. There was also a name carved into the top. It read Sarah Osborne. She then grabbed a wheelbarrow from the backyard and heaved the coffin into the wagon. She then took it to an empty space in the town cemetery and buried her. Once all the dirt was above the coffin Sarah disappeared before her eyes.

FRIENDS FOREVER!

This is the story of two friends who found ways to come together and, even in the darkest times for them, put a smile on their faces, and would not be separated.

Once upon a stormy lunch, 10-year-old Johnny, sat in the mess hall timidly eating because of the storm. A thousand lightning bolts that put fire wherever they struck lit up the sky, creating a light show, but it wasn't the lightning Johnny feared, it was the thunder. After all the lightning came the thunder. Thunder ROARED and crackled, SCREAMED and yelled, that was what Johnny feared, not the beautiful fireworks that bolted across the sky, nor was it the howling wind that would blow him away if he stepped outside. No, it was the thunder that was ominous. Howling wind and flashing lightning gave him elation, they were much better than the thunder. Johnny being afraid of thunder was a secret between him and no one. He knew that if he told anyone they would spread it like jam on toast, and the people they told would spread it, and then the people THEY told would spread it and so on then everybody would know, and they would think that it was ludicrous that Johnny was afraid of a little sound. Johnny wondered why he was afraid when it all suddenly came back to him. Think! Johnny thought THINK! Think harder! Then he realized he remembered that sound from long ago... When his parents died thunder ROARED, SCREAMED, and CRACKLED at the same time they were killed by that horrid descent down the cliff that left his parents dead and left Johnny at the worst dilapidated almost deserted orphanage in the entire world! But Johnny was still grateful because it could have been worse. He could have been left on the side of the road so hungry he would devour even a CRUMB. Of course, he was still dressed in rags and still very hungry but not as to devour even a crumb. But of course, he would rather be eating the delectable cakes, pies, or even just microwave pizza that rich people eat rather than the instant

I would like her to please come up here, your adoption mother is waiting out back, please take any friend with you if you would like to say goodbye."

"Will you come with me?" Leslie asked sadly and quietly.

Grabbing both of the packed bags, hoping his idea would work. "Of course I will. I would never let you leave without saying goodbye."

"Thank you!" Leslie exclaimed, smiling tearfully at him.

They walked out to the front to see a woman in a plaid mini skirt and a blue plaid top. She had short brown hair like Leslie and beautiful blue eyes. Johnny followed Leslie once they got to her she said "Hello! My name is Jennifer, but you can call me Jenny," She said with a voice sweet as honey. "Or if it makes you more comfortable you can call me mom. Oh, and you must be Leslie's friend! What's your name sweetie?"

"My name is Johnny. Hello Miss Jennifer."

"You can call me Jenny if you like."

Johnny told Leslie his plans last night when Leslie asked why he was packing his bags. Well, you had an idea, Johnny's mother's ghost was in front of him, talking to him, ask her, we never know, she could have been looking for another kid, but didn't find you. Johnny thought about what the worst thing that could happen if Jenny said no, he would never see his best friend ever again! So, gathering up his courage, Johnny cleared his throat, and told Jenny "I have something to ask you, Jenny."

"Yes sweetie, what's on your mind?"

"I was wondering, if you were looking for," Johnny took a deep breath in and out and asked, "another kid to adopt?"

"Why I certainly was!" Jenny exclaimed, "Just two days ago! But I didn't find you, it was after I decided I was adopting Leslie."

"That was because I was sitting in my room thinking about how boring life here would be without Leslie." Johnny confessed.

"Well," Jenny started, "how would you like to live... with Leslie and me?"

"Oh! I would love to..." Johnny started.

"You can call me Jenny," Jenny said, sensing his hesitation, "Or mom. Either works for me."

Testing the word out with his tongue he said, "I would love to... mom."

"Now let's go," Jenny started, "home."

This is the end of the story of Johnny and Leslie, who put a smile on their face and did not let one of them leave, without the other. In this story, you will learn not to let go of the best memories and to chase what you've had with others, like this friendship.

This is the story of two friends who found ways to come together and, even in the darkest times for them, put a smile on their faces, and would not be separated.

Once upon a stormy lunch, 10-year-old Johnny, sat in the mess hall timidly eating because of the storm. Johnny being afraid of thunder was a secret between him and no one. He knew that if he told anyone they would spread it like jam on toast, and the people they told would spread it, and then the people THEY told would spread it and so on then everybody would know, and they would think that it was ludicrous that Johnny was afraid of a little sound. Johnny wondered why he was afraid when it all suddenly came back to him. Think! Johnny thought THINK! Think harder! Then he realized he remembered that sound from long ago... When his parents died thunder ROARED, SCREAMED, and CRACKLED at the same time they were killed by that horrid descent down the cliff that left his parents dead and left Johnny at the worst dilapidated almost deserted orphanage in the entire world! But Johnny was still grateful because it could have been worse. He could have been left on the side of the road so hungry he would devour even a CRUMB. Of course, he was still dressed in rags and still very hungry but not as to devour even a crumb. But of course, he would rather be eating the delectable cakes, pies, or even just microwave pizza that rich people eat rather than the instant potatoes that have so much starch that they stuck to the ceiling when people flung them up for entertainment. Johnny thought that it was so unfair that he had iced with rich parents and lived in a mansion with a whole room just for clothes, one for toys and playing, and one just for sleeping, for only two years of his life, only TWO! But since that terrible day, they plummeted down the cliff at such a high altitude that the chances of surviving after falling were one in a million, Johnny's little body was so resilient that he survived with nothing but a scratch and two dead parents. So now Johnny was living in a dilapidated orphanage with only a picture of his parents and a blanket from when he was a baby. Johnny never learned to read or write, he couldn't. Whenever he looked at written or typed words, they shifted and turned upside down. Whenever he tried to write it turned into meaningless blobs. Where he lived at the time, kids learned to read and write at three years of age. He couldn't sit still and always had to fidget with something. And he would always forget everything whether it be a name, his name, or his blanket. Well anyways, let's stop talking about his disabilities, and let's start talking about his abilities. Well, to start us off the thing he is best at is drawing. Johnny could draw a human skeleton (or any skeleton at that) so well that you would think he was a scientist or a face so perfectly you'd think he was an artist he could draw anything perfectly and capture the moments as if it was happening right in front of you! He is also good at (this might be weird to you) talking to animals and calming them down. He could talk to them in his mind and he once even calmed down a skunk so well that it came in to live with Johnny for a month and he didn't get sprayed once!

Then suddenly as he was remembering all this, Miz Bertha came out and took a stool out from someone which meant either someone was getting adopted or someone was getting kicked out and Miz Bertha yelled rudely "Stop your chattering everyone there's a new orphan, Leslie, and Johnny," Johnny snapped his head up wearily, "I want you to show her around and you will be sharing a room. Understand?" Miz Bertha finished. Relieved that no one was getting kicked out, Johnny responded "Yes Miz Bertha." Leslie was a 10-year-old like Johnny, but she was 4'11", short for a 10-year-old. She had dark brown hair and she was observant, asked a lot of questions, and was very imaginative. Johnny noticed that she had papers and a new watercolor set Johnny wondered if he would have enough courage to ask to use them to paint the pictures that he drew. Leslie got up to look for Johnny before the bell everyone looked up to make sure Miz Bertha wasn't watching and told her "Sit down until the bell, or else Miz Bertha will kick you out!" She sat down for the rest of lunch then when the bell rang she got up and stood on her stool to look for Johnny. When Johnny saw her he, surprised everyone including himself because he never yells and usually keeps to himself, "Over here Leslie, it's me Johnny the one you sharing a room with!" Suddenly, as soon as he saw her face, Johnny had a feeling he had never felt before and he was queasy as she smiled a smile that was more ravishing than a sunset behind the mountains as she hopped down off the stool and skipped to Johnny. With a voice sweeter than cotton candy she said "Hi Johnny my name is... oh never mind you already know my name. Anyway, I love to paint. What about you?" Johnny, still recovering from the shock of Leslie's talkativeness, stuttered "I-I like t-to-d-d-draw." Leslie, sensing Johnny was more than a little uncomfortable, quickly changed the subject "Where is our room?" Johnny, slightly recovered, pointing towards the stairs, said, "This w-w-way Leslie." Leslie was curious and couldn't restrain herself from asking, "Whassa matter Johnny? You're stuttering." "What do you mean? No, I'm not." Johnny evasively replied "Sorry, Johnny, I didn't mean to make you uncomfortable." "It's fine, you didn't, I'm just... well I'm shy, and it takes a little bit for me to get used to new kids." Johnny finally confessed. "Well... you've left me no choice..." "What do you mean?" "I mean, you've confessed something so I have to too... You may not have noticed, but I'm a complete oversharer... I share everything about everything... but that will probably get me to the streets... won't it Johnny?"

Johnny wasn't listening, he was too busy looking at the transparent ghostly figure that was smiling at him and he had thought that he had seen the face before and as he was about to ask "who are you?", she vanished with a smile on her face. Weird Johnny thought then he looked at Leslie, Her voice was sweeter than cotton candy... and her eyes... her eyes were like dancing stars in the night sky! Meanwhile, an impatient Leslie was staring at him and asked "Uh... Johnny won't being an oversharer get me to the streets?" Leslie had startled Johnny from his thoughts. "O-Oh.. Yeah especially if you complain about the bed or the potatoes to or in front of Miz Bertha..." Then Johnny saw the ghostly figure again. There she is again! I feel like I've seen her before... looked kind of like a ghost! I must be seeing things... Johnny thought. Leslie, suddenly remembering they were in the lunchroom, asked "Johnny, where is the room?" "Wha- O-Oh... this way, Leslie." Johnny said, leading her to the stairs.

He looked troubled, Leslie thought, kinda like when I see things... Oh well.... I'll ask him later...

Leslie was rapidly falling asleep, I'd better get some sleep.

Leslie! Hurry! Get ready you're about to miss the morning bell!" Johnny shouted, waking Leslie.

"What is the morning bell?" Leslie groggily asked

"Well, the morning bell is..." Johnny started when he saw the same figure again, the lady he thought he had seen before, She looks like my mom from the picture. Johnny thought uncertainly No, that's impossible! Then, she floated closer and Johnny heard her say dreamily Hello Johnny. I hope you remember me. Johnny thought he remembered the voice when suddenly he wondered if he could talk to her so he decided to try it. A-Are you, my mother? The lady sounded excited when she responded, Yes! Yes Johnny, I am your mother! She vanished as Leslie asked "Okay! Johnny this is getting weird! This is the second time you've trailed off! If something is bothering you you can tell me," Leslie sounded like she was about to cry, "I-I-I'm a friend! You- you can trust me! Please I won't tell, I promise, so please will you tell me if s-s- if something is wrong! Please!"

Johnny was startled! He had never had a friend, and now someone was saying that he was a friend! Moving closer to comfort his newfound friend he said "Leslie, please don't cry! I'm fine I promise! I just keep getting distracted!"

"Okay, I'm glad you're fine because..." Leslie sniffled, "Well, you were scaring me!"

"I'm sorry I didn't mean to scare you... The morning bell is the bell that we need to be down to the mess hall by the time it rings, speaking of which, we only have five minutes till it rings! I'll go to the bathroom, you get dressed!"

"Okay, but Johnny," Leslie started stopping him at the door, "You would tell me if something was wrong, right?"

It took some time for Johnny to answer but he decided that he wouldn't tell Leslie yet "I swear on my life that I would tell you if even the littlest thing was bothering me!" I'll tell her later.

Leslie let out a sigh of contentment "Okay... Thank you..."

"Is that all you needed, Leslie?"

"Oh... Yeah, that was all I needed... You can go and go to the bathroom"

"Okay, will you need help getting to the Mess Hall or do you want to meet me there?"

"I have the memory of an elephant," Leslie laughed "I think I'll be fine!"

"If you say so! Meet me there!"

BOOM! The potatoes had too much starch today, they exploded. I guess there's no lunch today, Johnny thought. Leslie and Johnny spent the entire time laughing about the explosion.

"It was bound to happen someday, the way they fill the potatoes!" Johnny laughed.

"I've only been here for a week and I already know that they put rotten potatoes in lunch!"

Johnny thought he saw his mother again and she smiled as she said to him your father and I have been wanting this good friend for you! I will have to tell him! Johnny asked her Why can't my father come?

Well... the truth is... he got hurt too badly and he can't leave the clouds... I'm sorry... but I can keep him posted on what's been happening on the outside!

Mother... Can you tell him... Johnny sniffled as he thought to his mother. Can you tell him... I love him and I hope he gets better!? Please!

Of course, I will! Johnny's mother was startled by how kind her son was I promise!

Thank you! Johnny tearfully thought

"Johnny? Are you okay? you're crying."

"I-I'll tell you when we get to the room."

"Well," Leslie said impatiently, "Let's go up to the room I want to know what's wrong!"

Better tell her sooner than later. Johnny thought.

“Well, we're up in the room!" Leslie said "Let's hear it! What's wrong?"

"Well, the thing is..." Johnny tried to find a way to evade the question "You're gonna think this is weird..."

"I don't care." Leslie said seriously "I want to know what's bothering my friend."

"Do you really want to be my friend?"

"Of course I do!" Leslie said, "Who wouldn't want to be?"

"Everyone else..."

"Well, they're stupid! Nobody in their right mind wouldn't like you!" Leslie said, "Now will you tell me what's the matter?"

"Have I ever told you when and how my parents died?" Johnny started.

"No... would you like to tell me?"

"Well," Johnny started. So Johnny told Leslie everything he remembered (pausing to cry at times) from the tragedy. When he finished Leslie said "Oh wow... that must be hard... I'm so sorry for you!"

"That's not what's been bothering me though."

"Oh? What's been bothering you then?"

Johnny sighed uncertainly. I told her I'd tell her...

"Y-you might think that this is weird, but..." Johnny said, "I've been seeing my moms... my mom's ghost."

"Your mom's ghost?"

"Yes," Johnny said self-deprecatingly, "I've been... t- talking to her."

"Is that all?" Leslie asked.

"Yes that's all," Johnny said surprised, he thought that she was going to laugh at him, "what did you think was bothering me?"

"Well," Leslie started evasively, "I haven't told you yet, but... I-I..." I better tell him now... Leslie thought "I'm leaving the orphanage... s-s-soon... I'm sorry Johnny!" Leslie burst into tears.

"Y-You're... leaving?" It's not fair! She said she was my friend! Johnny thought as he burst into tears!

"Also, I've been meaning to tell you," Leslie began bashfully as she stopped crying, "Y-Y-You are my first friend!" Leslie burst into tears once more.

"You're my first friend too!"

"R-R-Really? But you're so nice! How could I be your first friend!"

"Well you're the first person I've stopped to talk to and you're the first person that stopped to talk to me."

"Oh... well you seem really nice! S-so I guess I just assumed that you had a lot of friends but you were just putting them off so that you could talk to me!"

Johnny, wanting to change the subject, asked, "When are you leaving the orphanage?"

"I didn't want to put it off this long... I found out last week," Leslie was tearful again "I-I'm leaving... At lunchtime... tomorrow."

"TOMORROW!?"

"Yes... tomorrow. Let's get some sleep. Goodnight."

"Goodnight Leslie."

Johnny had almost no sleep last night. He spent the whole night silently weeping, wondering if he would be okay without Leslie. Eventually, Johnny did get some sleep. He figured this out when Leslie woke him.

"Johnny! Wake up! Get ready! You're about to miss the morning bell!" Leslie exclaimed as Johnny had to her once before. "Oh," Johnny rubbed the sleep from his eyes. "Thanks for waking me."

"No problem," Leslie said, "you did it for me once before!"

Johnny was happy that Leslie still remembered that. "I hope whoever is adopting you is nice to you." Johnny told Leslie.

"Oh, she is! She has a dog, a cat, some hamsters, and even ferrets and fish and..." Johnny stopped listening. He knew that she would be a good parent for Leslie. They would have enough money for Leslie since they have so many pets. "...She has cakes and pies and so many other sweets and foods and..." Leslie finally finished. "It sounds like she would be a good parent for you! I'm happy for you!" Johnny plastered a fake smile and fake happiness into his voice.

Breakfast time went by like lightning in the sky. Leslie and Johnny joked and laughed like it was any other day, only it wasn't. In their minds, they kept reminding themselves that lunch would come by fast, and Leslie would leave for her new home.

After breakfast, Leslie packed up all her things. At that same time, Johnny got an idea. Johnny packed up his things and he only hoped his idea would work.

Lunchtime. Miz Bertha came out and took a chair out from underneath a kid and the kid toppled over "OUCH!" He yelled. "Oh shuddup will ya? It's not the end of the world!" Miz Bertha told him "Okay everyone," Miz Bertha announced to everyone "Today Miz Leslie Jenson is being adopted!"

I would like her to please come up here, your adoption mother is waiting out back, please take any friend with you if you would like to say goodbye."

"Will you come with me?" Leslie asked sadly and quietly.

Grabbing both of the packed bags, hoping his idea would work. "Of course I will. I would never let you leave without saying goodbye."

"Thank you!" Leslie exclaimed, smiling tearfully at him.

The nun 1

Once upon a time in 1989 there was a girl who was bullied by these older kids. Named allie callie and sallie. Allie said oh look it's her little boyfriend who came to save her life haha. And then the guy said, "What did you say?" I said it was her little boyfriend. Then he said go to class. Then Allie said you can't make me you ain't a teacher. Then The kids left. After they went back to class, they read stories and read books and even when they were done reading their teacher said okay guys where going to take a break from reading. Then the guy talks to the teacher. When the teacher named Juliet gave the little girl that was bullied a stack of books she took the books, took them to the library and then the older kids came. Then Allie said oh don't worry we won't hurt you then she said come we want to show you something. Until the scary part came by then she told her to look at the goat picture with red eyes she said don't move don't even look behind you just stare at the goat. Then the girls sneak behind her and go to the door where they came in and then the girls stayed at the door waiting for her to come and then the little girl was scared so she ran and the girls closed the door and the little girl screamed until the nun was behind her and she looked. The nun said boo and then it was a doll. The doll's head fell off and landed on the ground. The guy named John said what are you doing then Allie said again oh it's her boyfriend again. Then the guy screamed at Allie callie and sallie. Then the girls ran. Then John said are you okay plz tell me what happened. Then the teacher came in and said is everything okay why aren't you in class. said the teacher. Then John said no it was the older kids who bullied her. And then her teacher took her to class. But then when everything was going to good it wasn't going to good because the mean girls went to open the gate and put cockroaches in her room until the bad lady saw it. Then she screamed and then the girls laughed. But then a woman was sleeping and she had a bad dream and her dream was about her walking in the hall with one light on. Then she heard something so she looked behind her and said hello is anyone there then the light started to shut down so she saw the nun and then she woke up and screamed, next this lady came in and said hey its me its alright. Then she said your food is ready downstairs. When she done dressing up she went down eat her breakfast and after she was done eating her breakfast she then went to the church then she got in trouble so he said go and do what i said so this new girl was feeling so bad for her so then when the girl left she said hey are you okay then she said yeah i'm okay i should be going by now so then she said okay. Hey thanks for helping me. and my name is juliet oh my name is abby. Oh will bye then she said bye have a great day then juliet said you to. Next day on October 11th the teacher and the artist went to go and find something to take it away from the nun but the nun was controlling the guy and girls by making them kill the kids and grownups. So then Juliet told Abby you have to go to the other side of the goat frame. Then Abby said okay so then she shined the flashlight to the goat's eye. The goat's eye was turning red so she pointed it on the teacher's hand then she put it down where she had to dig the hole. Then they found the shovel and dug the dirt. Then they found the shiny and cool box but they did not say what it was. So when the nun was controlling the people she is controlling John and he came and he found them and the shine box so he choke the girl neck and said drop it now drop it so the he dropped her and then the box slipped off of her hand and the little girl took it and ran then John started to chase her so she ran all the way up to the tree house. Then John came and said salish it me but the nun made him speak from his real voice then the scary voice. But when the older kids were sleeping they heard a stomping noise. Allie was the one that heard it first. she woke up her sister and said callie i hear footsteps then she told callie go and check what it was. Then she went out of the bedroom and looked up where all of the stairs were. Then Abby scared her so she said why aren't you in bed then she said i heard footsteps so she said i have my flashlight so then she circled around with her flash light then she saw something then that little bad and disgusting thing came to get the little girl so then Abby came to rescue callie. So then they ran to the room and closed the door so they went to the other room and hid where the girls put the cockroaches in that old lady room so then Allie opened the fence and looked but it was all dark that she couldn't see. So then she took the flashlight and looked around until she saw the old lady. So then she looked behind her and made a creepy face. Because the nun was controlling her. So then Allie screamed and told Abby. But then she put her dirty and crumby hands on Allie and tried to take her so Abby helped her and pushed her back but then it turned back to salish. Salish was so scared that she was still under the table. But then he found her and choked her. But Abby came to help her and they killed John and ran for their lives. But then she said mom. The mom was actually her teacher. next chapter on november 1

When he got there he asked Alex if he could get some stone to craft into fence. She said her storage chest was missing to, they both agreed to find out what was going on. They both got help from Dominic, he was a pro gamer. He said that all his things were gone after he came back from the village. They all agreed to go to the village to ask the villagers if they knew what was going on, the village mayor said there is a legend of a creeper called the killer creeper, he said that this is no ordinary creeper, it steals from people and kills their pets, and sometimes even people.

Chapter three

For saftety they all teamed up to make a mega base, with obsidian walls, and a emergency bunker. The last three made a mine, soon they reached bedrock, that was when they knew they were at the perfect level to start working on the bunker. Alex flattened and mined out the space, then Dominic started to make obsidian houses and farms the mayor told the entire village that if there was any kind of attack they were to go to the bunker. Dominic went to go check on Steve, but when he stopped to find Steve's lost dog he heard a dog growling he turned around and saw Steve's lost dog! But its eyes were red then they turned back to normal when it saw Dominic. The dog looked like it was attacked, it had scratch marks. And it looked like an explosion happened next to it. it was so happy to see Dominic, when they got to Steve's old base they didn't see Steve. The dog seemed scared. Then they heard acreeper hissing Dominic and the dog ran back to the base the hissing quiter and quiter, until it stopped. They had gotten to the village.

Alex wanted to get trees in the bunker, so she went out the walls, she went to her old base to get some saplings to plant them in the bunker. But as soon as she climbed up the later to her tree house she heard a hissing. She was never seen again.

Chapter seven

In fear the mayor, moved everything into the bunker fearing it could attract the killer creeper. All the villagers were in there obsidian houses, they were very scared. They used to think the killer creeper was a children story, but now that most of the team was missing they believed it the mayor wanted to stop all this so he got all his diamonds and geared up with full diamond armor and tools, he went out the village to face the killer creeper when he was out of the walls he heard a hissing sound he turned around to see a blood red creeper. When she would walk down to the bathroom she would see a black shadow in the living room on top of the table, so did her older brother, she would start sprinting to the bathroom after that. CHAPTER 1: WHERE IT ALL BEGAN

The terrifying events at Freddy's Pizzeria, 5 Children have been going missing. So let's start where it all began. William Afton was a poor kid, he went to a store with his mom and he went to the toy's section when he saw a bear that was dancing. He really liked it, but did not have enough money for it. When he was 18 years old he became an inventor, then he made a robotic bear that could dance and sing, like the one he saw at the store when he was young. Then he made a rockstar bunny suit. The next day more people came and he saw 5 children. He thought, " hmmm i should trick those kids and put them in some suits". After that he led the 5 kids into a mysterious room. He said there was candy in there to prank them, then after the kids didn't see the candy, then he tricked the kids and put them into suits he found in the lost and found room. After that incident he decided to call his place Freddy Fazbear's pizzeria. After a while, customers came to his Pizzeria and soon it was very popular because of how many people came. He hired a man named Michael Shmidt. But after he hired the man, he heard very suspicious noises from the animatronics. His co-worker had found out he put the kids in the suits, so he said "maybe that's why you're hearing noises from them" He has to work at the Pizzeria for 5 days from 12 AM through 6AM because the business needed to keep track of them . He was shocked. He was not happy and scared. Now he has to check if the animatronics move.

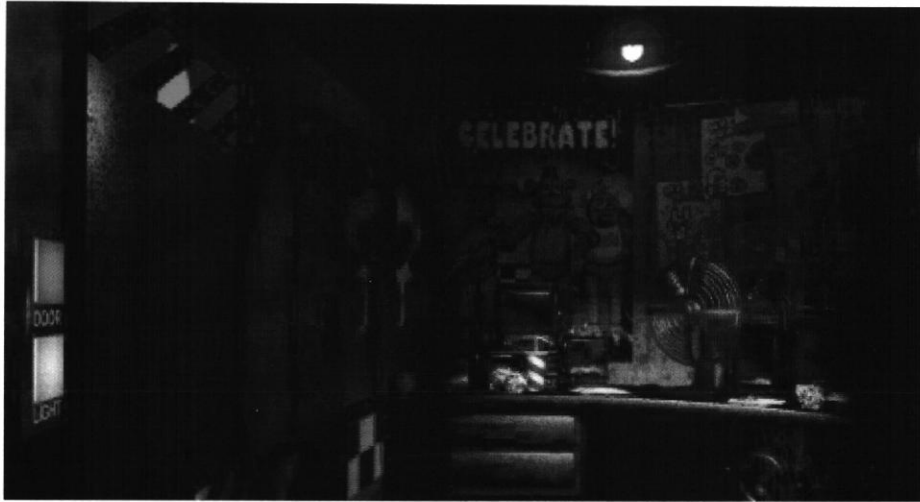

CHAPTER 2: THE FIRST NIGHT

Michael on his first night, He was terrified of the animatronics, he went on the cams to see what was happening but then he got a call. He answered the call, he wasn't sure who it was, he just picked it up. The telephone said, "Hello, hello? Uh, I wanted to record a message for you to help you get settled in on your first night. Um, I actually worked in that office before you. I'm finishing up my last week now, as a matter of fact". beep beep beep. The phone call ended. The only reason he was working there was because he gets paid 100$ a night. He needed to check on the cams because he hasn't been checking on it for a while. He checked the cameras to check on the robots and realized Bonnie wasn't there. He went off the cams but he saw Bonnie at his door. He was terrified by Bonnie and didn't know what to do, so he shut the door and turned on the lights to see if he was still there battery 88% he gets notified. He went back on the cams to see where foxy was. He has moved but not much; he is out of his cove and staring at the camera dead in his eyes.

CHAPTER 3: 2nd night the dead children have been found

William has been notified 5 kids have disappeared, he told everyone he did not know where they were. Michel is still in his office convinced they are haunted, he saw foxy running on the cam he quickly got off the cameras and shut the door.

He heard banging on the door, He was scared he wanted to quit but he realized he was making good money for his job He was making 100$,per week, so he couldn't quit. So he tried his hardest and challenged himself to beat all 5 nights.

CHAPTER 4: night 3

He was not gonna give up he was sure,he could get rich In one week. but he thought he might die before saturday. Hedid'nt want to quit but he wanted to be rich.He went back on the cams to see that then he saw Chica at the door and he shut the door. Then Bonnie was at the door and he did the same thing.(the battery was at 45 percent) he was notified when they were gone he saw foxy facing the cams he did not blink or move; just staring in his soul dead in the eye.

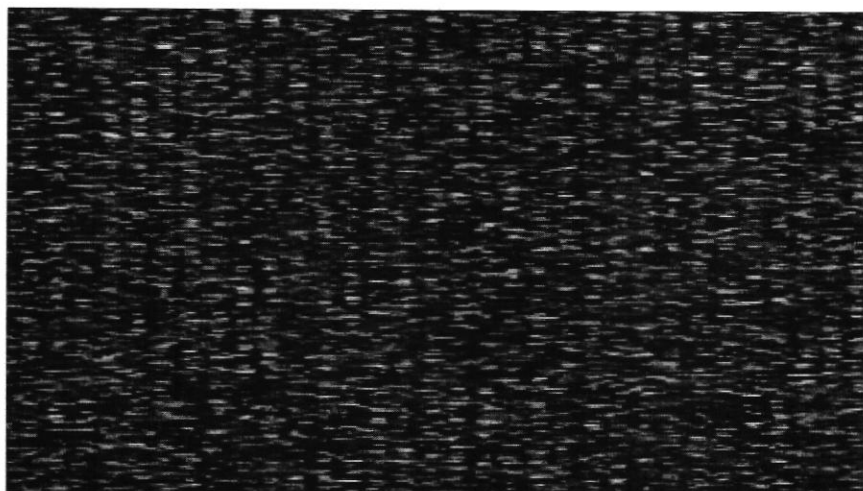

He figured he had to look at foxy often.

CHAPTER 5 night 4 almost there

Michel was super scared he wanted to quit. Foxy was looking weird on the cams. He knew he had to keep an eye on Foxy. he did not care about the pizza he was there only for the money. Freddy had moved to a cam. He got off the cam. He had to look up; paralyzed with fright he knew he was dead.

23% he was notified. No one was there with him besides the robots. When he saw Bonnie on the cams he then saw

He went off the cams and he saw Bonnie, once again at the door. He shut the door on Bonnie's face and checked on foxy. He was not there, he closed the door. He heard pounding on the door, then he went to his cove looking the same stare dead stare at the cam. He saw chica at the door, he closed it 19%

CHAPTER 6 night 5 the last shift

He was almost there,

All the animatronics were mad when Michael saw an unusual golden freddy. He was concerned about how long he was there. Then he realized it was only 5am then he stood up and...

The next thing he knows he is back in the office with something strange...

he was getting torn apart by the animatronics but unusually golden freddy was not doing so.

Then some things changed about golden freddy that he was burnt. He did not know how he was phantom.
