The Undead

"It's halloween" I said. "Not so fast we need to wait until it is dark" said mom. "You have to go to school the bus will be here soon and there it is". 15 minutes later "hey Lauriano do you know the book that can summon the dead?" said alex. "ya do you want to try it" I said. 3 months it is the zombie invasion as we ran i lost my family my friends they took everything so i called the bombers that night all of the survivors evacuated and boom the zombies are dead. The book is lost but I wonder what really happen to the book maybe theres more spells. I found my family my friends and everything went normal.

THE END.

Possessed Pokémon

There was three Pokémon. Charmander, Squirtle, and Bulbasaur on a journey. They came across a haunted house and they went into it. They got separated. I don't know why? They got possessed one by one. Then there were 3 trainers looking for Pokémon to catch. They found a gerdos and they found a Char million. They went to route 120 they came across many Pokémon. And they found one Pikachu they were fighting over who gets Pikachu. And 2 trainers got all their Pokémon wiped out. The last trainer caught it. They went to the poke center after they went to the poke stop. They bought a bunch of poke balls. Then they came across the same mansion, they also went inside. They found 6 Pokémon ganger, electrob. Charmander, Squirtle, and Bulbasaur. But something seemed wrong! They were dark type.

Maya just arrived in Salem, Massachusetts when she woke up. She and her family had been on the road for days from Los Angeles, California to Salem. She was excited to learn all about Salem's history. Once they got to her new house they got out and started unpacking all the suitcases. She told her parents she was going to start exploring the house. She started at the second level where the door opened into. On that floor was the kitchen and the dining room with the stairs that led to the basement and the den. Maya then went up to the top floor where they had three bedrooms and one office. After Maya finished exploring the top floor and choosing the bedroom she wanted, she headed down to the basement and the den. She found that it was full of a lot of old furniture, paintings and boxes. She started going through the boxes and almost halfway through she found something really interesting. She found a Ouija board. She grabbed it and ran up to her room. She then shut the door and sat on the floor. She sat thinking who she would contact. She then decided to do Sarah Osborne. Sarah Osborne was accused of being a witch in 1692. She asked the question and waited almost ten minutes before someone responded. The ghost spelled out HELP ME. Maya was about to ask who the ghost's name was when her mom called her down for dinner. She quickly ate her food wanting to get back to the Ouija board. When she rushed to clean up her parents suspected something weird going on. When Maya went to school a few days later, her dad sneaked into her room to see what was going on but he didn't find anything wrong. The night before she snuck the Ouija board into one of the boxes for she had not finished unpacking suspecting her parents might sneak around in her room. When she got home from school she did what little homework she had and then got the Ouija board out. She asked the ghost what its name was. The Ouija board spelled out SARAH OSBORNE. Maya had succeeded. Maya asked Sarah why she was stuck in her house. Sarah replied "This used to be an old prison in which I died. They buried me somewhere where the basement is, if you find my body I shall be put to eternal rest." The next day Maya faked being sick just so she could help Sarah. It was the first day of work for both her parents so she got the house all to herself for a couple hours. She went out to the shed to see if maybe there was anything out there. It was completely empty. She found she had thirty dollars in her piggy bank. Since the town was small, she walked to the nearest hardware store and bought a shovel. She walked back to the house and headed toward the basement. She decided to start with the den since it was completely empty. She started digging but in a couple of minutes she hit something hard and so she continued to dig around it. It was a coffin! Sarah followed her downstairs and was watching. She stopped her when she saw the coffin. It had roses carved into the wood. There was also a name carved into the top. It read Sarah Osborne. She then grabbed a wheelbarrow from the backyard and heaved the coffin into the wagon. She then took it to an empty space in the town cemetery and buried her. Once all the dirt was above the coffin Sarah disappeared before her eyes.
