

Encourage Open Communication:

- Initiate open and honest conversations with your child about school attendance.
- Be an active listener when your child talks about their experiences at school.
- If your child is facing challenges that affect their attendance, encourage them to share these concerns with you. Work together to find solutions and offer support.