

Parent Bulletin Thursday 30th November 2023

Dear Parents and Carers

Year 11 mock exams have continued well this week and we have moved on to students in the Sixth Form now with Year 13 mocks starting in earnest next week. We have been very impressed with the attitude and attendance of our Year 11 students throughout the process. Results will follow in January.

I am delighted to be including with this week's Bulletin a copy of our SIAMS inspection report from 2 weeks ago. This was a one day inspection that looked at ensuring we are living up to our foundation as a church school. It went very well and the students and staff involved were a credit to the school. You can read the full report at your leisure and I'd like to highlight the following things the report highlights:

"Adults and students flourish"

"Particular care is shown for those who are vulnerable or who are experiencing times of difficulty"

"Students take great pride in living out the school's values and making change for the good."

"Collective Worship fully supports the spiritual development of students and adults."

"This school's values create a community characterised by high aspiration, celebration of diversity and deep pastoral care for all."

"Results at GCSE religious studies, which is taken by all students, are impressive."

"The inspection findings indicate that Slough and Eton C of E Business and Enterprise college is living up to its foundation as a Church school."

I am always keen to welcome parents into school to see what happens each day. If you would like to visit us and see more please email reception@slougheton.com and we'll contact you. Next Friday we will be preparing for our Senior Citizens' Christmas Party and you would see a great buzz around school. Or, you may want to know what English lessons are like or try some Spanish. Whatever it is about our school that you are curious about we are keen to share so please do get in touch.

Finally, school is closed to all students tomorrow as you know. We are back to normal on Monday and next Friday is Christmas Jumper Day where students can swap their school blazer and jumper for a Christmas one in exchange for a Foodbank donation. I hope many of them will!

Have a great weekend.
